Prisoners On Koje Island Release American Brig. General Unharmed

Francis Dodd Freed By Prisoners Of War In Exchange For Concessions Of Added Privileges To Imprisoned Men

SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, May 11 (AP)— Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, was freed unharmed and in good spirits last night by his Communist captors on Koje Island.

The price of his freedom—concessions made to thousands of Red prisoners of war—probably will be announced later today.

In a dramatic, late hour announcement to correspondents, the U. S. Eighth Army said Dodd was released at 9:30 p. m. (7:30 a. m. EST, Saturday)—78 hours and 15 minutes after he was dragged bodily into a compound of 6,000 surly North Korean prisoners late Wednesday afternoon.

Dodd will be flown to Eighth Army Headquarters for a news conference sometime today. Details of Dodd's release were not announced immediately. The Eighth Army said it came after a meeting of Communist ringleaders of the compound—a conference attended by leaders from other prison compounds on the rocky island.

Dodd, 52, commander of the island prison, was seized as he conferred with the prisoners at the gate of compound 76. He and Lt. Col. Robert Raven of Newton, Tex., were grabbed by the Red leaders, but Raven fought his way out of the group.

Dodd was held hostage inside the compound, where he negotiated with the Reds for settlement of some of their grievances. The Reds permitted him free use of the telephone and allowed meals to be sent to him.

Dodd asked camp authorities to refrain from using force to free him until the Communists had completed listing their demands. The Army said Saturday some "minor requests" of the Reds had been granted.

Those requests included use of a telephone, writing paper and the admittance of prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island.

About 80,000 Communists now held on the island, including most of the 70,000 who have said they wish to return to Communist rule. Nearly 100,000 other Red military and civilian internees said they would forcibly resist being returned.

Koje was the scene of two bloody riots, both of them instigated by die-hard Korean Red prisoners. Seventy-five prisoners were killed and 135 wounded Feb. 18 when American guards were forced to fire on prisoners attacking them with crude but deadly weapons. One guard was killed and 38 wounded.

Two days later Dodd was named

CONGRESSMAN PASSMAN IN KOREA

Passman Back From Mission To Korea

Congressman Confers With General Chiang Kai-shek On Formosa

Congressman Otto E. Passman, who has just returned from a special mission to the Far East where he conferred in Formosa with General Chiang Kai-shek President of Nationalist China, stated that he was favorably impressed with President Chiang Kai-shek's determination to rid the mainland of China of Red Communists. Mr. Passman stated that he was particularly pleased to discover that President Chiang Kai-shek and Madame Chiang are both Christians, having accepted the Christian faith many years ago.

Congressman Passman explained that his Committee inspected several of the Nationalist China crack troop divisions in Formosa and found that they were well trained and well disciplined. He stated that security reasons prevented him going into detail but he said that there are over one-half million Nationalist China troops on the island of Formosa waiting the call to help rid the Far East of Communist domination.

Congressman Passman was one of a Committee of five selected to carry out a special assignment which was made in the interest of peace, future security and the economy of our country.

Congressman Otto E. Passman, upon his return from Korea where he was sent on a special mission, stated that he found the morale of our troops very high and the troops well fed. However he stated that they were somewhat confused over the stalemate situation. They were wondering what the outcome of the truce talks would be and whether or not they would be facing, in the not too distant future, an all-out war or return to their loved ones.

Congressman Passman, accompanied by other members of his committee, General Van Fleet, Commanding General of the 8th Army, and General Mood, chief of staff of the 8th Army visited front line positions across Korea, holding meetings with each division commander as well as with the troops. Mr. Passman stated that in his opinion the possibility of an early truce was very uncertain and that he was convinced all Communist decisions are being made at Moscow. He further stated that in his opinion if the UN should concede the points in controversy to the Communists, then the Communists would come forth with some other objections to prolong the war in Korea. Passman reiterated that in his opinion the MacArthur plan was the only workable one because, regardless of any temporary truce, there will never be permanent peace in Korea as long as the country is divided into two separate governments.

Mr. Passman stated he was more convinced than ever before that too many of the foreign nations

Monroe Woman Drowns

Monroe firemen found the body of Billie Faye Dennis, 35, 504 Wood street, floating near the west end of Lazarre street in West Monroe around 9 a.m. Saturday after a 17-year-old boy saw her jump from the old traffic bridge about 11:15 p.m. Friday.

Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, termed the death as suicide by drowning.

Members of the family stated that they knew of no reason why Miss Dennis would take her life. She had been employed by a local pants factory but recently had asked for a months leave of absence stating that she needed to rest.

Milton Hall, 17, 909 Pine West Monroe, eye witness to the suicide stated to Monroe Police Officer Jack Hunnicutt that he was going home from the show and was nearing the center of the bridge when Billie Faye Dennis stopped and asked him for a light. "I gave her a light and she asked me to hold her purse and she got on the rail and took off her shoes. I asked her not to sit on the rail that she might fall in and she stated that she was celebrating."

Hall stated that she then either accidentally feil or jumped into the river on the south side of the bridge.

"I grabbed for her, but was unable to catch a hold and then I saw her about 15 feet south of the pier," said Hall.

The 17-year old youth flagged a passing car and when he looked the second time into the water he did not see Billie Faye Dennis.

The wrist watch which the dead girl had on her arm had stopped at 11:27. Firemen stated that she had a ring on one hand and a bracelet.

Captain Jimmy Griffin took the body from the water after Monroe firemen had been searching since 12:35 a. m. Saturday.

Identification was made from a drivers license which officers found in the purse which the woman had handed to Hall.

Frank Ticheli, owner of Ticheli's Bar, 2504 Lee Avenue, stated that the Dennis woman had called him from the Brown Derby and stated that she was going to jump in the river. "I talked to her and asked her not to jump in the river and she hung the receiver up," said Ticheli.

The bar operator stated that at approximately 9:30 p. m. Billie Faye Dennis had been in his bar and had two drunks which made her sick. "I left the bar about 11 p. m. to take her home but she stated that she felt alright and I let her off at the Brown Derby.

The body will remain at Hixon Brothers Funeral home and a short prayer service will be held Sunday at 1 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted at the Oak Grove Church out of Simmsboro at 3 p. m. with Rev. D. W. Nix, pastor of Calvery Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will follow in the Oak Grove Cemetery under

UNDERWRITERS END CONCLAVE

The annual Sales Congress and State convention of the Louisiana State Association of Life Underwriters was concluded at noon yesterday with three final addresses during the morning session.

The first speech was entitled "Service is our Business" and was delivered by Stanley Murphy, of the Penn Mutual Life of Natchez, Miss. Murphy's address dealt with the members' responsibility to render full service to the prospect and the policyholder so that he receives the utmost of benefits and protection for his premium dollar by the underwriter's analysis of existing policies as well as any planned programs.

"Let the Words of my Mouth" delivered by Louis E. Throgmorton, of the Republic Life of Dallas, outlined the comparative meanings of the same words spoken by men and women of today and just how these different interpretations can be of help or can be a hindrance.

Highlighting the morning session was the address by Wade O. Martin, Jr., secretary of the State of Louisiana and Insurance Commissioner. Martin opened his talk by giving thanks to the members of the local and state associations for their cooperation with his department in matters pertaining to the insurance profession and particularly with their vigilance in detecting, investigating and reporting to the State Insurance Commissioner various unfair practices and violations of the insurance codes. He further stated that such violations of trusts by unscrupulous and sometimes unlicensed agents or companies could be compared with violations of the law by bank robbers, hijackers and others.

3 Southern States Hit By Storms

(By The Associated Press)

Sections of three southern states were buffeted Saturday by thunderstorms and high winds that caused widespread property damage.

Oil derricks, trees, power and telephone lines were hardest hit as the storms and wind raked Tennessee from west to east, swiped at northwest Alabama and blasted the oil-rich section north of Shreveport, La.

Slugging winds blew down at least 30 oil derricks in the vicinity of Oil City, La., about 25 miles northwest of Shreveport. The winds hit at a velocity of 62 miles an hour.

Only one injury was reported. A Knoxville, Tenn., city library employe was slightly hurt by flying debris.

Inclement Day Halts Initial Airplane Trip

Mrs. Mattie Edney, 315 North 5th Street, Monroe, was all set to have a real thrilling trip in honor of Mother's day, when her son, Frank Edney, Greenwood, Miss., arranged for a special airplane to carry her from Monroe to that city to spend Sunday. It would have been her first long air trip and she was delighted with the outlook.

The weatherman, however, had a role to play in this connection and he evidently looked with disfavor on the project. Saturday morning when the take off was arranged at 9:30, was so threatening that the trip was called off, much to Mrs. Edney's disappointment. However she went to Greenwood just the same but took the bus instead of the plane.

School Handyman's Pay Is Far Higher Than Teachers'

Only Three In City System Receive More Than This Worker

By BILL HARDIN

A recent check of the payrolls of the Monroe City School system substantiated current rumors that a maintenance worker is receiving pay equalled or surpassed by only three other persons in the system. Two of the persons with higher salaries hold top administrative positions, while the third, a principal, has a record of 25 years teaching experience.

The annual salary of $4,940 does not include overtime which is often paid to the maintenance man. As closely as could be determined

Truce Talks Are Slated

MUNSAN, Sunday, May 11 (AP) — Korean armistice delegates—sidetracked by angry debate on Communist seizure of an American general on Koje Island — meet again today, still tightly deadlocked.

A charge by the Red truce delegates that the Allies planned "another massacre" of prisoners to free Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd was punctured last night by the prisoners themselves.

Dodd was released unharmed by North Korean prisoners who held him hostage for 77 hours.

Saturday's truce session lasted only 12 minutes. Eleven minutes were taken up by debate on the coldly rejecting Communist charges of planning a "slaughter" to free Dodd.

There was no sign of a break in the maor issues blocking a truce, the chief of which was prisoner exchange. The other issues are Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral truce supervisor and an Allied demand for restrictions on military airfield construction.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, digressed from the Dodd incident only long enough to charge the Allies with taking "barbarous measures" to force Red prisoners to refuse to return to Communist rule.

Kennon Will Take Oath On Tuesday

BATON ROUGE, La., May 10 (AP) — Robert F. Kennon, the small town appeal judge who toppled the political kingdom of Gov. Earl Long, will take the oath as 51st governor of Louisiana Tuesday.

Lifelong friends predict "he'll never be a big shot, he'll always be Bob Kennon."

The tall judge from northwest Louisiana has a thatch of wavy hair that has turned iron gray in 27 years of public service.

He parlayed an easy manner and hearty handshake into a combination that brought him a host of followers.

As a youngster in his hometown of Minden, "he was just an average guy," said a friend. "He sold soda pop in his father's grocery, ran off to a swimming hole on Sundays."

The best one-word description of 49-year-old Kennon and his policies is "conservative."

Monroyans Honored By Bar Association

Two Monroe men—Kent Breard and Thomas Leigh—were elected as board members of the Louisiana Bar Association prior to the annual convention held in Shreveport. Other new board members are J. Denson Smith, of Baton Rouge, John McAulay, and John McKay, of New Orleans, Edmund Deramee, of Thibodaux and John Campbell, of Minden.

Alvin King of Lake Charles will be installed as president of the association at the closing session today, succeeding Walter Suphon, Jr., of New Orleans.

Other officers to be installed are: Richard Montgomery, Jr., of New Orleans, vice president and Harry McCall, Jr., of New Orleans, secretary treasurer.

OPPOSITION TO KENNON BEING FORMED

BATON ROUGE, May 10 (AP)—A freshman lawmaker sharply challenged the Kennon administration and prepared today to organize a minority opposition of secret strength.

In the first sign of a split in the legislative ranks of Gov. Elect Robert Kennon, Rep.-Elect Edward V. Pavy of St. Landry Parish announced he would oppose Rep.-Elect C. C. Aycock of St. Mary for speaker of the House.

Election of the speaker is one of the first actions when the Legislature convenes here Monday.

Kennon has announced Aycock is his choice for speaker.

Pavy, member of a politically powerful St. Landry family who opposes the Longs, has called for a meeting of representatives in the Heidelberg hotel here Sunday at 4 p. m. "to discuss issues."

The legislative newcomer is a nephew of Judge B. H. Pavy, who was gerrymandered out of office by the late Sen. Huey P. Long, brother of Gov. Earl Long. Pavy supported Kennon in the second primary.

Calling attention to Kennon's constitutional proposals for nine-member boards with members serving eight-year staggered terms, Pavy declared he knew "first hand the signs of dictatorship.

"All we need for a dictatorship is two rascals in a row and they'd get us hooked for eight more years."

He added he did not mean to imply Kennon was a dictator, but merely to point out dangers in some of his legislative proposals.

Kennon leaders want the administration program to rush through in 10 days, Pavy said. "They want us to be trained seals the first 10 days, monkeys for the remainedr of the session and end up with a first class menagerie."

Some representatives are reported to be peeved because the Kennon adminstration indorsed its tacting representatives in advance.

The administration usually picks the speaker, but custom has been, capitol sources say, to telephone or poll all members before announcing the administration choice.

Pavy asserted he had plenty of support for his speakership move, but said he could not disclose the size of it.

Other quarters said his move was designed to show the Kennon crowd whether enough opposition votes existed to make trouble for Ken-

NEGOTIATIONS ON OIL STRIKE HIT STALEMATE

DENVER, May 10 (AP)—Labor contract negotiations were stalled today in the 11-day-old strike of oil workers that has pinched air traffic and brought a government order conserving motor gasoline in two-thirds of the nation.

Efforts to reach local settlements that would send the 90,000 strikers back to refineries and other oil facilities have been suspended until a meeting of union and industry representatives in Washington Tuesday.

They were summoned by the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB for a hearing on the union demands for 25 cents an hour wage increase.

Work On New West Monroe Well To Start In 2 Weeks

Work will begin "within the next two weeks" on a fourth water well to re-inforce the municipal water system of West Monroe. The city now has three wells in production.

The well will be drilled by La. Well Company on a contract bid for $16,822. Joe S. Scoggins, of the well concern, said yesterday the well would be started as soon as the necessary equipment could be moved on the job and set up.

Bids for the well were opened last Monday night and taken under advisement. Scoggins, whose company drilled the last two wells for the city, submitted the low bid in competition with three other well companies. In an adjourned session Friday night, the West Monroe city council agreed to accept the La. Well Company's bid.

The city council also approved a resolution calling on Governor-Elect Robert F. Kennon to call a special election to fill the forthcoming vacancy in the city judgeship and to elect another alderman.

Present city judge, Jess S. Heard, will go on the fourth district court bench after May 21. The vacancy that now exists on the council was incurred by the resignation of former Alderman Hugh Taylor several months ago.

The new water well will be drilled on a piece of property purchased by the city about two years ago on highway 80, where the city's third well was later located. Terms of payment for the new well are: 15 percent of base bid when the job starts; 35 percent when the pipe is delivered for installation; 40 percent on completion, and the other 10 perecnt will be payable 45 days after completion of the well.

According to state law, the last

Fred Beavers Will Continue Campaign

Last Sunday the Morning World printed an article which stated that Fred Beavers of Oak Grove had decided not to seek election to the office of congressman from the Fifth Congressional District.

The Morning-World was inadvertently advised on this matter and has since been informed by Beavers that he has not dropped out of the race, but is continuing his campaign for election to that office.

God could not be everywhere . . .
And therefore He made Mothers.

He fashioned women with infinite care, showering on her all the many gifts she needs to be a mother. He gave her tenderness that soothes a thousand hurts. Strength to work the clock around. Patience which never cries, "That's enough!" Courage that fiercely fronts all the family's foes. Unending care to guide her children along the proper path, yet brush sharp stones from underneath their feet. Pride in her own, persistant hope, unselfish joy. These gifts make woman what she is. They form her halo of glory. In her matchless role of motherhood, she manages to be nearly everywhere, doing the work of God.

BILL RICKS IN STIRRING TALK

Tells Civitan That Action Right Now Is Needed To Save Nation

W. H. (Bill) Ricks, well known local man who has resided nearly all his life in Monroe and is candidate for Congress from the Fifth district, was the Civitan speaker when the club met in La Casa Thursday night. He was introduced by Civitan George, program chairman for the occasion.

At the outset of his talk, Mr. Ricks said he was not delivering a political address. He declared that the present world situation is so critical that immediate and concerted action is required if we are to preserve the free democracy that has been bequeathed us from our forefathers.

"Freedom in this country has been threatened many times, wars have threatened it. We were victors in World War One but it left us deeply in debt and like all wars, even when they bear the impressive title of the war to end all wars, it has been a misnomer. We won the second world war but even with victory on our side we have been left with so much debt and with our customs and freedom so threatened, that we do not know which way to turn.

"Now we are told we are on the brink of another war. I do not believe that a third war is needed nor would it solve any question.

"It was once said by our fathers that a boy with a goal in life could reach that goal if he persevered steadfastly, and that he could win out in a profession or in business. But now this is not true. Your children and grandchildren for generations must pay and pay and pay to wipe out the indebtedness that was caused by wars. . . .

"With men in official capacities grafting in many cases and corruption on all sides, we are in danger of being reduced to serfdom. The Bill of Rights is in danger. Our vaunted freedom is weighed in the balances.

"Action by such clubs as this and you men who are or should be, leaders, must point the way. It is time to act to see that right men are elected to office and a close check is kept on their actions. Constant vigilence is the price we must pay for our freedom. It is too precious to permit being tossed aside, but the time to act is now, not after the entire nation is enslaved."

J. E. Peters and O. W. Wolf, delegates to the spring area convention of Civitan International, held in Longview, Tex., reported on this meeting, the most important action taken being to initiate steps to divide Texas - Louisiana into separate districts which was favored by the session but now must be approved by International.

PUBLIC FORUM

EDITOR
Monroe, La., May 10, 1952.

Monroe, La.
Dear Sir:

I respectfully request space in the Public Forum for the publishing of my remarks.

The little man from Missouri has finally applied the torch to political Washington. To the accompaniment of his rendition of the "Missouri Waltz," little Nero adds his castigation of the Civil Service system. We learn that city postmasters, postmaster generals and U. S. Marshals are political appointees. These employes are confirmed by the senate which makes it possible for members of the Senate to control these jobs and not the Civil Service system. Enraged at the chief politician's exposure of these unconstitutional procedures, the senators have pigeonholed Truman's suggestion to place the system under a proper merit system and not a patronage system such as we now have in Washington.

Probably Truman's mind was awakened by the thoughts of the boys in Korea who proved that General Wedemeyer was right and that Korea could have been avoided.

Americans are taking note of the fact that disabled veterans of World War II find it difficult to get a loan to enter a business while the Lustron Crporation and others were allowed vast sums to enter fly-by-night business ventures. Ventures that all failed and ventures that cost the taxpayers.

Korean veterans are standing by awaiting the passage of their G. I. Bill while congress ponders whether or not to pare a mere billion from the foreign aid bill. These Korean veterans deserve immediate aid. However, it will have to come after congress votes a few billion to repatriate the North Koreans who fought so valiantly against our boys.

As a 100 per cent disabled marine veteran of World War II, I am grateful to the congress for their proposed legislation to raise my compensation from $150 per month to $172.50 per month. However, I would also be grateful to my government for employment—in the post office or other government offices—that is supposed to be granted disabled veterans. Even Mr. Truman will concede that veterans have no chance in civil service employment if the administrators and executives are patronage appointees owing their first allegiance to their political fathers and not to our constitutional principles of government.

In writing such letters as these, I have placed myself in jeopardy of again being classed as a paranoid veteran suffering from a persecution complex. To those diagnosticians offering me such diagnosis, i just want to state that I have always found such diagnosticians to be their own best and most neglected patient.

Hitting Self On Head

When Mike saw Pat hitting himself on the head with a hammer, he was surprised and inquired why.

Pat replied: "So I'll know how much better I feel when I quit."

That's just how sensible it was when the Truman administration applied regulation W to credit sales. The best that can be said for regulation W is that people realize how much better off they are without it. The administration deliberately hurts a large proportion of the population, so the people will feel good when it quits hurting them.

Regulation W imposed restrictions on credit sales, particularly those of automobiles and appliances. The government's excuse for imposing these restrictions was that it wanted to prevent inflation. Yet, at the same time, the administration was doing a dozen things to try to make prices go up. President Truman's favorite sport is pushing both ways at once.

Anyhow, now that Truman has momentarily quit rapping them on the head with a hammer, automobile and appliance salesmen in Monroe, Ouachita Parish and throughout the whole country are enjoying the respite and the people who don't have big bank accounts are getting better buying opportunities. One of the principal things that lifting the restrictions does is to give 24 months to pay, instead of 18.

We haven't seen anyone here who opposed lifting the regulation and we haven't heard of any buyer or seller anywhere in the country who opposed the action.

Announcement of the withdrawal of regulation W, as it applies to the time-payment sales of new and used automobiles, was hailed by J. Saxton Lloyd, president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, as a "boon to the average American."

Mr. Lloyd said, "The American motorist is the real beneficiary of the cancellation of this restriction. It is now possible for the average worker to purchase dependable transportation.

"Lifting of the regulation will permit buyers and dealers to adjust down-payments and number of monthly installments to levels advantageous to themselves and business as a whole. In most cases the cost of essential transportation will be extended over a longer period of time. The result will be that new or used cars will be available to many who, though badly needing such vehicles, could not afford them under the regulation's terms."

For All The People

(The following editorial is reprinted from the Sioux City Journal-Tribune, Sioux City, Iowa)

"Most Americans have forgotten the days when a president of the United States, although having been elected by one political party was nevertheless the representative of all the people. He was a man of dignity, this president of yesteryear, who placed his high office above the level of bitter partisan politics.

"As a result he was respected by both parties, and that fact was deflected abroad, giving the United States prestige internationally. Such men were Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover. And while men of varying political faith differed in principle with those presidents, they respected them as honorable officials who lived up to the high office they occupied.

"During the last 19 years, however, the two men who served as president resorted to different tactics. They made it clear they represented not all of the people but only those people who voted the Democratic ticket. Franklin Roosevelt at election time always took occasion to tear into the Republicans, accusing them of little short of treason for failing to adopt his new deal philosophies.

"In making appointments to the Federal courts, Mr. Roosevelt flooded the benches with Democrats rather than striving to keep some sort of a political balance in that important branch of the government. His example was followed diligently by Harry Truman, the result being a heavily-loaded Federal judiciary dominated by men of the same political faith.

"President Truman's 'bowing out' speech at the Jackson day dinner in Washington the other night largely was a bitter condemnation of all Republicans whom he accused of being 'fakers trying to pull the wool over the people's eyes,' phony propagandists and friends of the 'special interest.'

"Those are harsh words. They lack the dignity one somehow expects from a president of the United States.

"A rebirth of presidential dignity is needed. The country would benefit from the election of a president who despite his own political faith will respect the views of all the people, including the minority part."—Sioux City Journal-Tribune.

A Matter Of Opinion

The nation's military situation is excellent or merely so-so—the country is safe or vulnerable from outside attack—according to who evaluates developments.

While many in high places maintain the nation is ready for any eventualities, others point with alarm to what they say is lack of preparedness and sufficient military power, especially in the air.

Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead, retired, former commander of the Continental Air Command, which has the task of defending the nation by air, said recently he doesn't know what the situation is today, but if the enemy had attacked nine months ago it would have been just too bad, and the attack would have succeeded "beyond the fondest hopes of the enemy."

Hanson Baldwin, military editor of the New York Times, declares Russia is making progress in atomic weapons, and already has enough to cause great damage. Baldwin sees no immediate war, but warns that the year 1954 may bring a critical world situation.

Others, who should know what they are talking about, subscribe to different views. They think Russia has internal problems which will prevent the launching of another war.

Only time holds the answer to this fateful situation.

High Cost Of News

Enjoying the most complete news service in history, it is doubtful if the American people have an adequate conception of the vast organizations which bring information from the far corners of the world to keep this service universal and comprehensive.

The American citizen is kept in touch with great world events, often being informed of all details in a matter of hours. Naturally the cost of this service is tremendous.

The interesting story of the adventures of Skipper Carlsen of the ill-fated Flying Enterprise was an example of American news enterprise. It was the saga of man against the sea.

For two action-packed weeks the story developed to attract worldwide attention. It was a disaster with a plot which unfolded hourly. Dozens of reporters were on the scene, with orders to spare neither expense nor effort to keep a waiting world in touch with developments.

The story of the Flying Enterprise cost news agencies and the radio $1,000,000 before a destroyer standing by announced the vessel had gone to its watery grave. It was a great story, and the millions who followed its unfolding will agree it was worth the cost in bringing it to the public.

BASCOM TIMMONS
In Washington

This is an uneasy country and it is likely to continue so until after the fall elections. That line might have been written in any presidential year during the last century, but it has a more important meaning today, because no qualified prophet can estimate how far a recession in the United States might go, and what its effects would be.

Without the slightest desire to scare anyone, it must be said in the interest of honest reporting that the inflationary spiral in the United States has halted and the general trend seems to be toward deflation — a process which most people greet with approval, but which can be highly disastrous if too precipitate.

It used to be that the stock market gave the keynote for inflation or deflation. Now it seems to be the commodity markets, which certainly give a more sound indication of the country's condition than the price fluctuations of securities.

The situation here is summed up by members of Congress about as follows:

1. Price controls expire June 30 and will probably be renewed for another year, though members hate to be put on the spot. As Rep. Clarence Brown (Rep. - O.) said to Rep. Jesse Wolcott (Rep.-Mich.) the ranking minority member of the House Banking and Currency Committee — "Jess, are you going to make us vote on those controls before the Republican convention?" That query from one of the principal figures in the Taft campaign, is a fair indication of the uncertainty in political circles about the country's economic future. Another year of price controls may accentuate the deflation now in prospect — may even start the country's economic future. Another year of price controls may accentuate the deflation now in prospect — may even start the country toward a recession, if you want to believe what you hear in Washington.

Actually, members of the House on both sides of the aisle would like to abolish price controls. Republicans oppose them for political reasons, but having put them into effect originally in an effort to embarrass the Truman administration now fear that if they vote against their extension they may give the retiring President a new which with which to scourge the Republican minority in Congress, after the fashion of his 1948 campaign, in which he made the 80th Congress his whipping boy.

2. The evidence of deflation is not so apparent in consumers' goods as it is in the commodities such as meat, wool and other agricultural products. The wool market is said here to be "dead" with buying at a standstill. Meat is selling at below ceiling prices, the big packers say, though that is not completely discernible in local markets.

3. Agricultural producers have joined in a movement to lower government support prices, both in the interest of reducing federal expenditure and taking the lead in an inevitable retreat from the high support levels of the post War II period. But Congress has been strangely deaf to the desires of agriculture, according to spokesmen for the big farm organizations, and individuals in both parties seem to insist on maintenance of high agricultural subsidies. This is an election year.

4. On the industrial side, there is increasing criticism among civilians of the reported failure of big manufacturers to put essential military production ahead of goods for domestic consumption. The case cited here is that of an auto manufacturer who delayed the production of "hot cans" an essential part of jet planes. Air Force fliers in Korea complained bitterly at the shortage of these parts, through which the jet blast is funneled, because they burn out rapidly, and the flier who takes up a jet without a replacing the "hot can" undergoes a risk which would be unnecessary if the Air Corps contracts were being filled as they should.

In general, production for the armed forces is moving ahead better than it was six months ago, but there are numerous instances that it takes second place to production of consumer goods. In the meantime, heavy taxes and high prices have slowed purchasing power to a wallk and all big merchandising organizations, such as the mail order houses are reporting declines in business.

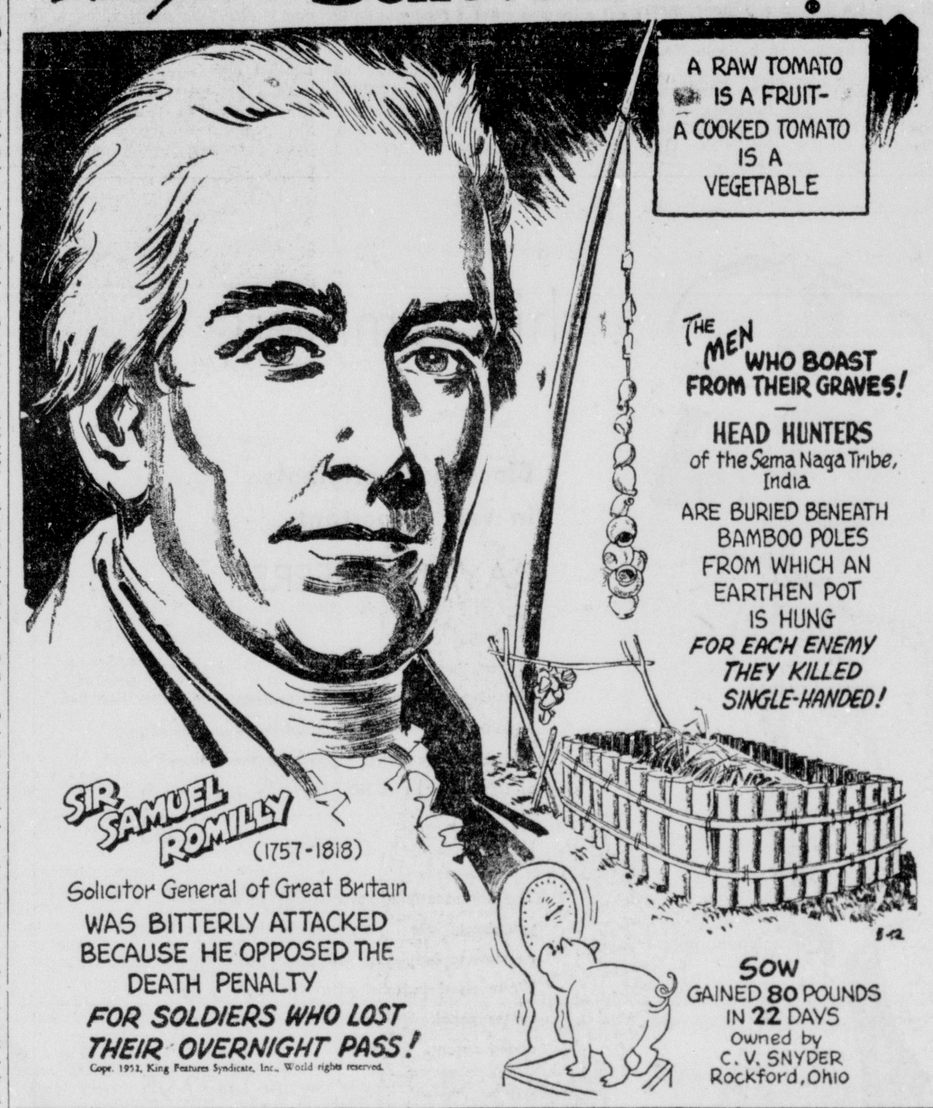

If Congress could drop price control, the result could be inflationary, but administration supporters think the overall effect would stimulate production, help business and increase the chance for another Democratic president. This is on the theory, demonstrated repeatedly, that the party in power can usually stay there when business is good. The Democratic objective this fall will be to convince voters that conditions could not possibly be as good under a Republican administration. President Truman will take the stump on that keynote. So the whole purpose now is to get voters in a pleasant frame of mind in October. If the election were held today, the Republican candidate would be a favorite, according to Washington reasoning.

DOWN SOUTH
GEOGRAPHY AND TRADE

A friend recently returned from a year's stay in Japan says, "The Japanese do not want to go communist. But they are an industrial nation by necessity, and they must have an outlet for their goods. Right now they are looking to the United States for leadership and help in obtaining this outlet, but if they are restrained from getting it in the free nations of the world through restrictions of various sorts and are forced to find it among the communist nations, then there is great danger Japan will go communist."

A correspondent writes from Britain, "This past week in Manchester I found the depression. Make no mistake about it, the cotton men are frightened. One of the leaders of the industry told me that if the present trend persists the whole industry will be virtually closed down in six months."

Now, the British are perhaps even less inclined toward communism than the Japanese, but they both have the same problems. They are both industrial nations and must look to outside sources for the food with which to keep their populations alive. Japan has 80,000,000 people and a land area of only 147,000 square miles. Britain has 50,000,000 people and a land area of 92,000 square miles.

Compare that with Brazil, for instance, with its 3,200,000 square miles and 50,000,000 people, or even the United States, with its 3,000,000 square miles and 150,000,000 people. Neither Britain nor Japan can possibly support more than a third of its population with its own agricultural production. They must both sell their manufactured goods somewhere in order to buy food—and wherever that must be, that is where it will be for people are not inclined to sit down and slowly starve to death without a struggle. That is a fact that the nations of the world might just as well remember as consideration is given to the causes of war and the possibility of future wars.

All this explains, of course, why a Conservative member of the British Parliament from Lancashire was at the Moscow Trade Conference held by the Russians recently; he was looking for possible outlets for textile goods from his area. Our Government would not permit American delegates to go to this conference, and certainly the Conservative Government of Great Britain has no ideological kinship with the Communist Government of Russia. But the Conservatives of Britain will very quickly develop a "trading kinship" with the Communists of Russia if that seems to be the only way to prevent their textile industry from closing down within the next "six months".

From Britain's standpoint, it is ironic that the nations they helped defeat during the Second World War, Germany and Japan are now causing them much of their trading troubles. During the years immediately following the war, there was a world-wide demand for all sorts of goods and Britain had no trouble finding a market for her textiles and her machinery. Now Germany and the textiles of Japan are becoming harder and harder for Britain to compete with.

The Iron Curtain countries are unquestionably trying to break the more or less solid front presented to them by the free nations of the world by dangling before those needing it the bait of increased trade. Of course, the problem really works both ways; the Iron Curtain countries no doubt need the trade as badly as those they are offering it to. It may be, therefore, that the British correspondent is right when he says, "The solution lies in the complete restoration of convertibility to the pound without delay and with a return to complete free imports." He further states that if the people of Britain "refuse to face the situation then the collapse will be disastrous."

Of one thing we can be sure—the United States cannot view these situations with a detached air as if they did not affect us and as if we had nothing to do with them. We cannot escape the responsibility of the position we now hold in World affairs.

Our Children
LIFE'S PERVERSITIES

It was Robert Browning who said, "Never the time and the place and the loved one all together!" That covers everything. It has pointed meaning for those of us who work with children. Never are things just perfect, just on time, just expedient. Always something is lacking, something to be hoped for, something to be overcome, something still to be achieved. Maybe life would be dull otherwise. But that is the way it is.

One child arrives at reading time, as usually set, and he is not ready. Another is ready and he lives six miles from any school. One wants to be a musician and there is no music teacher. Another needs medical care, and cannot get to the right doctor. One parent longs to have his child an artist and there is no talent in his family, while in the neighbor's family there are a couple of prospective artists, needing only the opportunity to learn. These are the hard facts all parents and all teachers have to face and overcome as far as their strength and ability allow.

If we dwell on such perversities we begin to feel we can do nothing, but if we have a desire to do, and it is powerful enough, that desire draws power from some unknown source and things begin to happen. A teacher from out of nowhere arrives to help the child who needs it, a friendly soul hears of a child's needs and lends his support. The gods bring threads to a web begun. Let's begin.

Let's begin where we are. Lincoln did. Booker T. Washington did. Martha Berry did. Few are the problems of life that a dedicated mind and spirit cannot overcome. Not on one's physical power but on that inner power that accepts no obstacle, believes in no failure seeing only the righteous cause and the hardwon rewards of success.

Life and its ways are not altogether in our hands. We are allowed to use its forces, even take a hand in directing them to good ends, but at times it flows on its chosen way, ignoring all our efforts. If we, in all humility, relinquishing our pride of knowledge, accepting faith in the goodness and rightness of life, go along with it a way, we are likely to find undreamed - of good, as when a child who, we thought stubbornly, held to his purpose in spite of all protests, who could not and did not conform became a leader in his own right, in his chosen field.

We teachers, all parents, have to keep this thought in the background of our minds and while doing all we can, as we can, keep our faith in the outcome, the child's rich, successful development. Who knows?

Children do not develop annoying habits without reason. How to get to the root of annoying habits and overcome them is explained by Dr. Patri in his booklet No. 302, "Annoying Habits." To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, c/o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 10 — There's an old adage which insists that money is the root of all evil. I'm not prepared to accept that at face value, but I will string along to the extent of believing that money is the root of practically all the stellar dissatisfaction in Hollywood. And, in many cases, I'll have to excuse those who are dissatisfied.

Consider, for instance, the case of a young player like Tony Curtis.

Tony's weekly wage, according to a report published in one of the trade papers the other day, is $650. Admittedly, that's a pretty fair income for a young man in his early twenties. In fact, there are thousands of not-so-young business executives in these United States who would be delighted to earn half as much. But, even so, $650 a week is peanuts by comparison with the earnings of many of the longer-established male stars in Hollywood. Making only two pictures a year, they harvest as much as ten dollars for every one paid Tony.

Now stellar salaries, theoretically at least, are based on the star's popularity. At least that's the excuse advanced by the studio mogul who agrees to pay a star from $100,000 to $200,000 for playing a single role. And it's at precisely this point that Mr. Curtis, and the other young stars in his position, begin to get hot under the collar — temperamental, we call it, here in Hollywood.

For two years now, Tony has been rated by fan magazine polls as one of the most popular stars in the business. With considerable logic, he decides that he's worth every bit as much at the box office as the high-salaried old-timers who, in the polls, are ranked far below him. And he argues that if he's worth as much or more at the box office, he's also entitled to just as much in his pay envelope.

I'm inclined to think that the Tony Curtises of Hollywood would be more than human if, under such circumstances, they failed to blow their respective tops now and then.

Idol Chatter: Wonder if Bob Taylor, who's been handed the three biggest roles MGM has had to offer in the past two years, has bothered to congratulate himself on his failure to win a release from his contract, back there in 1949? . . . Pease-in-a-pod: Jeanne Crain and Paulette Goddard . . . Didjuh ever think how Betty Grable's career would have been handicapped had she lived in the "good old days," when gentlemen didn't mention a lady's legs? . . . Add actresses who deserve better breaks: Joan Caulfield . . . I can't vouch for Jeanette McDonald's other domestic accomplishments, but she's a genius at baking Boston beans . . . One man's opinion: The life stories of most stars, as presented in fan magazines, should be classed as alibiographies.

"We hear a lot about Hollywood's unsuccessful marriages," writes Cobina Wright in her society column, "but there are many more happily married couples in our town than most of us realize. To mention only a few at a recent party, there were the Cornwall Jacksons (Gail Patrick), the John Haskells (Dorothy Manners), Louis B. and Lorena Mayer, and Dr. and Mrs. Kalmus."

Off-hand, I'd say that Miss Wright could have picked more apt examples to prove that marriage is a happy institution in Hollywood. I don't doubt that all four of the couples she cited are perfectly happy now — but at least one partner to each of these four marriages has been through the divorce mills within the past ten years.

In his forthcoming role as "Blackbeard the Pirate," no one will be able to accuse Robert Newton of "hiding his light beneath a bushel." Following the dictates of research workers at RKO, who have delved deeply into the wealth of information available about Edward Teach, the 17th Century pirate known as "Blackbeard," Newton will not only wear the biggest and blackest set of chin whiskers ever seen in these parts, but he will braid his beard into two strands and bind into each a lighted candle. That, it seems was one of the trick of make-up Blackbeard—the No. 1 ham of the piracy racket—used to terrify his victims when he and his cut-throats boarded a merchantman.

George E. Sokolsky:
THESE DAYS
CHAINING POWER

Thomas James Norton, an important scholar in the field of government, in his book, "Undermining the Constitution," says:

"The constitutional government of the United States is scientific. Science is defined as classified knowledge, or the conclusions which the classification compels. The causes of all the breakdowns of governments in history were gone over in the Constitutional Convention and it was concluded that law making, law enforcing, and law interpreting must be definitely in different hands . . .

"All officials, State and National, were put under oath to support the Constitution and observe the boundaries to power specified in it. As far as could be, men with power were chained."

The problem that the founding fathers faced was the abuse of power. George III and his minister, Lord North, had abused power. Because of that they lost the richest jewel in the British crown, the American colonies that subsequently became the United States.

Those who wrote our Constitution realized that the day might come when the United States itself would find power abused by officials chosen by the electorate. They sought to avert such a condition, but Jefferson once wrote of the Constitution: "it would still have one fault in my eye, that of perpetual re-eligibility of the President."

The American people have corrected this fault by the Twenty-Second Amendment to the Constitution, which limits the President to two terms. This amendment became necessary because Franklin D. Roosevelt had violated the unwritten tradition established by George Washington of a two-term limitation.

However, the two-term limitation can have an effect contrary to that desired, namely that the President, not seeking public approval, may if he is not restrained by morals, act irresponsibly. This spectacle, we are, in a measure now witnessing in the President's claim to unlimited power, which has had to go to the Supreme Court for decision.

The method by which the President is chosen is of very great importance, as in it is involved what Alexander Hamilton called cabal, intrigue, corruption. In 1932, the principal Democratic contestants for the Presidency were: Alfred E. Smith, Newton D. Baker, Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner. The most popular candidate was Al Smith; the most skillful manager was James A. Farley.

It is no secret that Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated through the influence of William Randolph Hearst. Henry L. Stoddard, in "It Costs to Be President," recited the following:

". . . Paul Block, the well-known publisher, and I sat in his room for a good-night exchange of opinion. He then said that he had been talking over the telephone with 'W. R.' and that a deal had been arranged by which the 69 Texas and California delegates, after complimenting Garner on two or three ballots, would swing to Roosevelt. He added that Garner would go on the ticket as Vice President and McAdoo was to have no opposition in California for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator.

"The news was in confidence, however, for Hearst, of course, had no power to release delegates pledged to any candidate. That was for Garner and McAdoo to do Hearst, however, undertook to talk with both of them and with Mayor Cermak of Chicago, who controlled the Illinois delegation. He persuaded all three that after a few ballots they should turn to Roosevelt, and they did."

This, in effect, nullified the convention. It was similar to the nomination of Warren G. Harding through the influence of Colonel George Harvey in the smoke-filled hotel room. In the 1940 convention, Thomas Lamont and the National Association of Manufacturers put over a former member of Tammany Hall, Wendell Willkie, on the Republican Party.

In fact, anyone who attends the convention of either party, which this year will be on television, knows that debate, discussion, due consideration is impossible. Starting slowly and dully, the convention moves in a crescendo to the roar of a circus.

The delegates shout and shriek and march about in mass pandemonium. They even hire actors to help them in their antics and I presume now that television has been added, there will be the usual models in differing degrees of undress. In this raucous atmosphere, few men can deliberate. So the more serious-minded gather in hotel rooms to transact their business and the telephone becomes a more important instrument of the people's will than the chosen delegate.

Louisiana---Its Community Life

By Ethel McIntyre

Wild Flowers, Trees and Shrub

Life, over the entire world, is effected by three main climatic factors; the temperature, moisture and air movements of the winds. Louisiana is blessed with a combination of all three of these factors unexcelled by any other state. Snow, ice and sleet are infrequent visitors to our state, while hailstorms occur about twice a year but are not extensive or destructive. These atmospheric conditions provide a long growing season for plants, giving to the state a variety and abundance of natural beauty suggestive of the Tropics.

From every hillside, swamp and marsh wild flowers add to the scenic beauty of the landscape. So numerous and varied are they, that it is impossible to describe them in a few words. The woods and roadsides in every section, at all seasons of the year provide some form of native shrub, tree or flower that delights the passer-by.

In late winter, the scarlet maple flames out in the swamps and on the hillsides, soon followed by the lovely color of the redbud, blooming near the all-time favorite beauty of the dogwood. The snowy flowers of the wild plum and haw bushes dot the woods in early spring while the yellow jessamine vines cover bush and trees with fragrant golden flowers. A little later come the hawthorn and the hillsides blanketed with bush honeysuckle.

Many species of iris are found in Louisiana, having a wide range of color—blues, whites, yellows and reds. Most iris seem to grow best in the rich bottomland and marshes.

The pitcher plant is of special interest since it's leaves are a trap for insects which are caught and partially digested by the plant.

Wild violets grow in almost every section. Most of them bloom in the spring — their colors are mostly in blue tones — dark violet, lavender, blue and white.

Louisiana has several native orchids, a fact that is little known. All during the summer there is a succession of brilliant colored wild flowers. The red honeysuckle, wild hyacinth, spider lily, buttercup, field daisy, Indian fire, morning glory, buckeye and many species of the bright yellow sunflower.

In the woods and hills of Louisiana the autumn coloring is rich and beautiful; with the scarlet leaves of the sumac, the rich crimson, shading into gold, with sometimes a purple tinge, of the sweet gum and black gum the gold of the hickory and willow trees while the goldenrod stretches away into the distance by the side of the road, along fence rows or nods it's yellow plumes from beneath the trees or along the banks of some lake or river. Almost with the first frost comes the Indian pipes and little white asters.

In the winter months the woods are gay with the berry-bearing shrubs, trees and vines. Among these are the bright red berries of the holly, with their dark green, prickly leaves, the berry covered limbs of the haw bush and several vines bearing clusters of red and black berries. As a background for the berry-bearing plants there is the rich green of cedar, pine and palmetto and in the hilly portion of the state, the glistening rich-green leaves of the magnolia.

The lustrous creamy-white, sweet-scented magnolia blossom was officially designated as the state flower of Louisiana, by the Legislature on July 12, 1900, because there is such an abundant growth of the trees throughout the state. It is also a symbol of southern loveliness.

Overhanging moss - draped branches of ageless oaks, line the roadways and frame the lakes and streams, or stand guard at the entrance of many homes throughout Louisiana, to become a part of the traditions of the state.

In 1950 he was chosen from his troop to attend the national jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. He received this honor because of his all around good scouting, advancement, attendance and participation in various scout activities.

In the summer of 1951 he was chosen to serve on the junior staff at Ki-Ro-Li for 5 weeks.

Miss Flanders Talks At Woodlawn's PTA

Miss Frances Flanders, guest speaker at Woodlawn P.-T. A. the past week, reviewed the book, "These Are Your Children." She stated that often parents know all too little about child behavior and when they are abnormal or otherwise. Teachers and parents, she said, need to know more of adolescent needs and patterns of growth.

The fifth grade, directed by Mrs. Jay Blakeney, presented a May Day and Mother's Day program of songs and poems.

At the business meeting, incoming officers took charge and committee chairmen were appointed.

Principal J. W. Walters urged the need of parents giving attention to the annual roundup of children of pre-school age.

Citizens were urged to cast their ballots in the May 20 election for the renewal of the five mill school tax soon to expire.

BAND CONCERT IS SCHEDULED

Will Be Held At Northeast College Thursday Night

The concert band of Northeast State will present a program of varied selections under direction of Joe Barry Mullins on Thursday at 8:15 p. m.

An invitation through the press is extended to the public to attend this spring feature to be presented in Brown Hall auditorium on the campus.

"Orlando Palandrino Overture" by Franz Joseph Haydn will be the opening selection of the program. Haydn is known to most of us through his symphonies, chamber music and his oratorio, "The Creation." This particular work, which has been preserved and recast for modern symphonic band, was written in the year 1789 after Haydn had completed no less than 90 symphonies. His characteristic buoyancy and clearly defined style are evident in this overture.

Of all the forms in which Johann Sebastian Bach expressed himself, the fugue was his favorite. Bach wrote fugues for voices, orchestra and clavier, as well as for the organ. "The Little Fugue in G minor" is chosen for Thursday's selections. The woodwinds introduce the vigorous theme, which is then heard throughout all sections until it builds to a glorious climax.

Third on the program will be the first movement of the brilliant "Piano Concerto in A minor" by Edvard Grieg, with Mrs. Eloise Stanhope at the Steinway. The first theme is stated by the woodwinds, and from there the music unfolds with increasing zest through brilliant passages for the solo instrument.

"Valor and Victory," a concert march by J. De Forrest Cline, is as stirring and majestic as it's title implies. It is a thrilling "march of marches," featuring the colorful brass section.

Everyone knows the folk tune, "Jimmie Crack Corn" and it will be heard on the program under it's other familiar title, "The Blue-Tail Fly." Clare E. Grundman has scored this tune for a concert band with several interesting variations in styles and moods.

Next the audience will hear the concert band arrangement of six "hit" songs from the current Broadway musical, "The King and I," music by Richard Rodgers. The score is a succession of integrating tunes. Particularly spirited is the opening "I Whistle a Happy Tune" — then the haunting "We Kiss in a Shadow," followed by "March of the Siamese Children," "I Have Dreamed," "Shall We Dance" and "Hello Young Lovers." This is a musical score both serious and humorous—one to remember.

PORTRAIT PAINTER

Charles Wesley Copeland, above, who at the present time has his studio at the Art Shop on Louisville Avenue, is one of the most noted artists in his field. At the present time he is doing portraits of individuals in the Twin Cities.

Noted Portrait Artist Now Painting In Monroe

By YVONNE BRETT

Monroe is very fortunate to have in her midst a noted portrait artist who is proclaimed throughout the country for his work.

Charles Wesley Copeland is one of the most promising young painters of our day. Only twenty-eight years of age he has traveled on commissions across a large portion of the United States. Included are such widely scattered cities as Kansas City, Colorado Springs, Philadelphia and New Orleans.

Copeland was born in Winona, Missouri and is a graduate of the Kansas City Art Institute.

The young artist states that he is not certain as to the exact time his desire arose to paint since he has been painting ever since he could remember.

During the interview when asked how he appraised his own work, Copeland replied, "somewhere between impressionism and realism. I strive for a freedom of rendering, but at the same time I like to build a true drawing of the subject. In my portrait work this is especially demanding. A client is seldom satisfied unless the portrait resembles his physical features. However, it's just as essential to capture the inner personality. Two people with identical features can have ideas worlds apart. These ideas I attempt to represent in the character of the person."

Copeland will remain in Monroe an indefinite time but before leaving an exhibit of his works will be presented for the people of Monroe and vicinity. Included in this showing will be portraits of Mrs. John Crump, Miss Freeda Mickel, Miss Helen Wilds, Mrs. Lealis Hale, and others.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Rayville businessmen shown above compose the bank of directors of the newly charted First National Bank of Rayville which formally opened its doors for business Saturday.

Opening Of First National Bank Writes New Chapter In Rayville's History

A new chapter in the financial history of Richland parish commenced Saturday, May 10 when the newly chartered First National Bank of Rayville formally opened its doors for business Saturday.

The opening of this National Bank culminates the efforts of many months work and endeavor by a progressive group of Richland parish citizens who are determined to bring to the people of the parish the finest banking methods and at the same time provide banking facilities in keeping with the needs and requirements of the ever expanding growth and development of Rayville and Richland parish.

The bank organized under the laws of the United States was formally chartered by the Comptroller of Currency effective May 10th. As a National Bank it automatically becomes a member of the Federal Reserve System which is the central banking organization of this country created by an Act of Congress in the public interest. The broad purpose of the Federal Reserve System is to help maintain business, industrial and agricultural stability by safe guarding the supply, costs, and uses of money and credit. The First National Bank of Rayville has now joined forces with the other member banks in the far flung Federal Reserve System to contribute its part in advancing these aims. As a member of the Federal Reserve System the new bank obtains direct access through the System's facilities and resources as may be required to finance and serve the banking and business needs of this community in a sound manner.

Membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is also an integral part of the service provided as a National Bank. With this insurance, every deposit whether checking, savings or special, becomes insured up to the sum of $10,000.00. This is the maximum insurance provided by law and the new local bank, by its membership in the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation provides the identical insurance to depositors which can be obtained by the largest banks throughout the country. No bank can give greater security to its depositors than is offered by the new institution.

A most attractive banking home has been constructed, furnished with the most modern and up-to-date fixtures, banking machines and equipment to be obtained. The building and its furnishings make a substantial contribution to the ever developing business area of Rayville.

Credit for the organization of the new local bank must be given to the original orgnizing group comprising some of the out-standing business and professional men of this Parish. They approached the organization of a bank with caution, carefully surveying the local needs of the Parish and community and investigated the potential development of a new bank in communities of comparable size to Rayville. It was found, with only one exception that Rayville was the only Parish seat of comparable size, in North Louisiana, which did not have two active banks and the survey fully convinced the organizers of the feasibility of the organization of a new bank and of its future success.

In due time application was made to the Comptroller of the Currency for the organization of a National Bank at which time a mass of detailed information and statistics relating to the trade territory to be served was submitted; and following the filing of the application a survey by three National Bank Examiners was made. It was on the basis of this report that the need of a new bank was determined and the application for its organization finally approved.

The organizing group is composed of substantial business and professional men of diversified interests. Those forming the organizing group of the bank and who have carried this project through to ultimate success are John C. Morris, Sr., Insurance Executive, filling station operator and farmer, R. L. Walters, owner of the Planters Seed & Supply Company and the Planters Furniture & Appliance Company, W. D. Cotton, attorney, former State Senator and Civic Leader, G. W. Bolton, Sr., founder of the Delta Sales Company, Edwin H. Myrick, executive of the Delta Finance Company and one of the largest farmers in the Parish, George B. Tabor, owner of the Tabor Stores in Rayville and Epps, T. E. Cooper, Parish Service Officer and farmer, W. L. Calhoun, Ginners Executive and operator, Dr. J. C. Ellington, local physician and partner of the Ball-Ellington Clinic, E. C. Harper, Mangham, druggist, G. W. Bolton, Jr., local attorney and business man, J. L. Bond, prominent real estate investor and partner in the B & B Novelty Company, H. C. Watson, local representative of The Mengel Company and owner of The Farmer's Supply local grocery business, C. H. Williams, executive head of the Courtesy Chevolet Company and the Farm & Home Service, Appliances and Cecil G. Pardue, Mangham, Vice-President of the Richland Parish School Board and one of the Parishes most progressive farmers and stock raisers Mr. O. G. Lynch Jr., formerly of Oil City, Louisiana was employed by the organizing group some months ago to be the cashier and has taken his place as one of those whose untiring labors and efforts has resulted in the completition of Louisiana's newest National Bank.

WINNSBORO BAND PARENTS ELECT

Name Officers For Next School Year; Plan Barbecue

WINNSBORO, La., May 10.—(Special)— The Winnsboro Band Parents Club elected officials to serve the organization during the 1952-53 school year at a meeting Thursday night.

Officials who served the club during the past year were: Harold Gentry, president; T. C. Hatfield, vice - president; Mrs. J. K. Stringer, secretary, and Mrs. Jack Carpenter, treasurer. Those named to serve during 1952-53 were: Arthur L. Rhodes, Jr., president; T. C. Hatfield, vice - president; Otis B. Hassell, secretary, and Mrs. Vernon Roden, treasurer.

Oscar Barnes, parish band di - rector, announced at this meeting that he had secured a year's leave of absence in order to attend school at L. S. U. A substitute band director will be named in the near future to serve during his absence. Mr. Barnes is completing his fifth year as band director here and has established a record as an out - standing band director. The Winnsboro High School band now has 92 members in spite of the fact that the school is operated under a policy and schedule which makes it difficult for a student to take part in the athletic program and also take band and prevents any member of the glee club from taking band.

The concert band of the Winnsboro High School presented con - certs last week at Fort Necessity, Wisner and Winnsboro. This concert band and the Crowville High School Band will present a concert at the Crowville High School auditorium Tuesday night, May 13, at 7:30. Everyone is invited to come out and see how well these bands can play.

The Band Parents Club will entertain Director Barnes, Mrs. Barnes, and the entire 92 member Winnsboro Wildcat band with a chicken barbecue at the Landis Memorial Park. Plans now are for the barbecue to be given at 7:30 Tuesday night, May 20.

TRANSPORTATION AIDS SCHOOLS

City System Conveys Nearly 1,000 Students Daily

Provision of the finest in educational opportunities for all children in Monroe is the objective of the Monroe city schools. The transportation system initiated three years ago eliminates the factor of distance of schools from pupils homes and assures to all pupils the opportunity to attend a good school.

Pupil transportation is a very important and necessary school service. In cities such as Monroe essential services are expanded through availability of transportation. The most important service, of course, with respect to numbers, is the transportation to and from school each day. 994 pupils in Monroe receive this service each day.

Another very helpful use of the facilities is for taking pupils to learning situations away from school. A recent trip of pupils of Barkdull Faulk School to the Mississippi River waterways project in Vicksburg, Miss., and trips to industrial plants, salt mines, and other points of interest all give learning opportunities of great significance.

Band and choral groups go to festivals, groups go to parades, to athletic contests, and other destinations where school activities are in progress. Handicapped pupils and other special groups avail themselves of the service. The factor of transportation makes possible much to assist school personnel in the development of the whole child.

The city schools operate 12 buses regularly, some making more than one trip morning and afternoon. Two relief buses aid materially to maintain regular service while serving special groups. Cost of this service to the city schools last year was only $1500, the remainder coming from state funds.

This entire cost for last year included the purchase of five buses, salaries of drivers, and all other costs of operation. For a few cents per day per pupil of regular attendance transportation facilities have been made available for the multitude of activities which a modern school must offer to meet the needs of all pupils.

Small doses of chloroform, taken internally, have much the same effect as alcohol.

LABOR FINDING MORE JOBS NOW

La. State Employment Service Shows Conditions Are Improving

According to the Louisiana State Employment service non - agricultural employment in Ouachita parish has increased approximately 875 between March 1952 and April, 1952.

Total non - agricultural employment rose from 20,375 to 21,250 during the 30-day period. Nearly all industries indicated increases.

The largest rise in employment was experienced by the contract construction industry. This one group has added approximately 60 employes since March, 1952.

Contributing factors to this large increase by the contract construction industry were better weather, availability of materials, and the relaxing of credit controls. Several large projects are now under construction.

The increase in employment in the lumber products industry can be attributed to the increased demand for these products. Good weather has also affected this industry.

Increases were indicated by the wholesale and retail trade industry. The retail industry had an increase because of the Easter buying season. Reports indicate that many of these additional employes will remain after the seasonal layoffs.

The stone, clay, and glass industry has increased employment during the past 30 days. This increase was a result of increased construction activity since this is the main outlet for their products.

Unemployment in Ouachita Parish decreased approximately 600 between March, 1952 and April, 1952. It dropped from 2,900 in March to 2,300 in April 1952.

Contract construction, lumber manufacturing, and agricultural employment increases contributed largely to this decline in unemployment.

Unemployment is expected to decrease even more during the next 30-day period.

Employers' reports indicate an increase of approximately 475 more employes during the next two months. Agricultural employment is expected to increase very rapidly during the period.

Employment in the contract construction will increase about 365 by June, 1952.

'Braceros' Will Chop Cotton In Ouachita

A group of 284 Mexican Nationals will be brought in to both Ouachita and Caldwell parishes within the next 10 days in an effort to alleviate a grave shortage of farm labor in this area.

Officials of the Louisiana State Employment Service today reported that the importation of the "braceros" will not wholly solve the labor problem here as more than 500 farm workers are needed for cotton chopping in the two parishes.

They said that farmers in this area are also seeking numerous "farm families" for general farm work in addition to specialized workers.

The group of Mexican workmen is scheduled to arrive here next week. Officials said that they will work over a period ranging from six to eight weeks and will then return to Mexico.

During the cotton harvesting period, the process of importing Mexican workers to pick the groups will be repeated.

Cotton Crop Posts Gains

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP) — A final Agriculture Department survey today put the 1951 cotton crop at 15,130,000 bales, with a record farm value of $3,304,315,000 for the lint and cottonseed combined.

This is much larger than the 1950 crop of 10,012,000 bales valued at $2,359,762,000. Production was increased last year under influence of defense needs and a government plea for larger supplies.

The government has recommended a crop of 16 million bales this year. No estimate on production will be made until August 8. But a report on the acreage in cultivation on July 1 will be issued on July 8.

The final estimate on 1951 production was 160,000 bales less than forecast in the department's last previous report, issued last December.

Cottonseed production from last year's crop was reported at 6,325,000 tons compared with 4,015,000 from the previous crop.

Grower returns from the 1951 crop would have been much larger had prices held at 1950 crop levels. The department said last year's price of 37.9 cents a pound for the lint compared with 40.07 cents for the previous crop.

The farm price for cottonseed averaged $69.30 a ton compared with $86.60 for the 1950 output.

As it was, the lint from the 1951 crop was valued at $2,865,685,000 compared with $2 005.169,000. Likewise, the cottonseed was valued at $438,630,000 compared with $354,593,000.

The acre yield of lint cotton last year averaged 271.7 pounds compared with 269 in 1950.

The acreage of cotton in cultivation on July 1, 1951, was estimated at 27,917,000 compared with 18,619,000 a year earlier. The acreage harvested was reported at 26,687,000, indicating that 4.4 per cent of the planted acreage was abandoned before harvest.

Cotton Farmers In Three States Sign Up

Cotton farmers in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri and Tennessee should sign up now to get benefits of Smith-Doxey services.

This annuncement was made today by Clyde C. McWhorter, manager, south central area, cotton branch, PMA, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Memphis, Tenn.

Application forms may be obtained from county agents or PMA cotton classing offices. One application covers all farmers in the group.

Under the Smith - Doxey Act, farmers who organize into cotton improvement groups and file an application get their cotton classed by USDA without cost. Also, they receive a market price quotation sheet from USDA with which they can figure out what their cotton is worth according to its grade and staple.

Last year over 160,000 farmers in this area took advantage of these services.

Chloroform was first developed in 1831.

Joe Brown Has Success

Joe Brown, a rawboned, soft spoken farmer, who packed up his suitcase and left Canada to try his luck in Louisiana two years ago, has nurtured a 15 acre stand of crimson clover that is regarded as the most outsanding in Richland parish.

Joe sowed 20 pounds of seed to the acre last October and the clover burgeoned up beyond expectations despite damage wrought by a six-weeks drought.

Two weeks ago, Joe took 35 head of cattle off the clover. Buoyed by his success, he is charting plans for a bigger and better clover crop next year.

Tips On Storing Of Wool Goods

If there is any one rule of thumb for storing wool fabrics safely throughout the summer, it is to store woolens clean and free from soiled places. The general rule suggested by the L. S. U. Agricultural Extension clothing specialist, Miss Margaret Brumby, will help prevent moth damage but others that you can follow will almost guarantee safety for your woolens stored at home.

Before storing any garment, especially wool, have clothing dry cleaned. Give rugs a good vacuum cleaning on both sides, and clean all spots that may be fat or sweet. Dry clean blankets and wash them according to directions furnished by the manufacturer.

Miss Brumby cautions that electric blankets are an electrical appliance, and should be handled according to directions for cleaning and storing. Sure death to carpet beetles that destroy woolens are cleanliness and insecticides such as D. D. T. and paradichlorobenzene (Para - Dye-Kloro-Ben-Zeen), known as P. D. B.

Store woolens in closets that are not often opened for other uses or other storage. Inspect woolens in storage about once a month, and add P. D. B. crystals or other insecticides as needed, the clothing specialist suggests.

In general a tree forms a "ring" on its trunk and branches every year, but in some years a long dry spell may produce a divided ring that looks like two and in very bad years, the animal ring may be almost invisible.

Home Demonstration Agent

What's going on in Logtown? Logtown Home Demonstration Club members were entertained by the Logtown School Faculty in appreciation for the wonderful cooperation given the school by this club. Some ways in which the club has cooperated are by purchasing draperies for the cafeteria and assisting in furnishing the teachers lounge.

This Home Demonstration Club is active in assisting with any community improvement project. Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, Sr. is President. She says the success of the Logtown Club is due to the support given her by the vice-president, Mrs. Lowe and all the club members.

Mrs. Marvin Shipp, a member of this club has one of the most beautiful yards—Day Lilies and iris on that spacious lawn surrounding this lovely old plantation home makes a timely setting for that old Southern Hospitality. Margaret and Marvin have three sons and each of them is interested in 4-H livestock work. (They have full cooperation of their parents).

With Spring vegetables and chicken both in prime for filling the home freezer the women of this community are busy.

Mrs. W. A. Calloway says she only grows two lots of chickens each year, spring and fall. When these birds are about 10 weeks old they are dressed wrapped and put into the freezer. "This stops work, feed bill, and makes meal preparation easier", says Mrs. Calloway.

When the club met at Mrs. Grace Granberry's we accused Grace of having her house decorated for another wedding. The flowers were beautiful and arranged well.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stout are remodeling their home. Picture windows in the back and the Stout's surroundings give a lovely view for these picture windows. There will be no "closed-in" days for the Stouts any more.

Wish space permitted me to tell more about Logtown as there are many more interesting things to tell.

May is an important month for the vegetable and flower gardens as there's lots of pruning and planting to be done. Now is the time to prune all spring blooming shrubs. Check your planting guide and use recommended varieties. (if you don't have one the new ones are available at the Extension office) and make plantings of collards, summer spinach, snap beans, okra, squash, pumpkin, cushaws, lima beans (pole, peas, egg plants, sweet corn, (several short rows) cucumbers and tomatoes. May is the last planting date for many of these vegetables so hurry and get them planted. Don't forget to put plenty of a good balanced fertilizer 4 to 10 pounds per 100 ft row and mix it with the soil, several days before planting.

Hot weather means we plant on low beds and firm the soil over the seed we plant. Remember We'll ramble each Sunday so join us—

Cotton Chopping Machine Enhances List Of Time Saving Inventions In Farming

BY ELGIN HUDSON

Since the time cotton was first grown, men have been constantly striving to improve the methods of cultivation and processing. The first revolutionary change was brought about by the invention of the cotton gin. This was followed by the invention of various machines for cultivation of the plant to provide a larger output of cotton, and improvement of machines used in the manufacture of cloth to utilize the increased supply of cotton.

In the present century much progress has been made in the constant battle to mechanize the industry, notably in the change from the use of animal power in cultivation to the use of tractors and modern farm machinery. This century also saw the invention of the cotton picking machine which, while not widely used on the smaller farms, is seen in increasing numbers on the larger ones.

Last year, another machine was added to the growing list of implements that are improving this vital industry — a machine that chops cotton. This was not widely known until recently, when the inventor, B. F. Valentine of Winnsboro, announced that he would give a demonstration of his machine on May 3.

Approximately 100 farmers attended the demonstration, which was held on a farm just north of Winnsboro.

Two tractors with the cotton choppers attached were used in the demonstration and within minutes had chopped as much cotton as several hand choppers could have done in an hour's time. The farmers all looked closely at the cotton that had been chopped, and most of them agreed that the machine had done as good a job as hand choppers.

Valentine, who claims his machine can chop 40 acres of cotton a day, also demonstrated another of his inventions—this one a mechanical rake. The rake works on the same principal as the chopper, but has curved prongs instead of the blades used on the chopper. The function of the rake is to loosen the soil around the cotton plants. Farmers were also pleased with the performance of the latest Valentine invention.

Some of the choppers have already been sold and have been used in cotton fields. P. E. Hill of Crowville, who owns one of the machines, said, "I wouldn't trade my chopper for double my money back." The machines are now being produced and can be obtained at Valentine's farm near Winnsboro. Valentine said production was a little slow right now due to difficulty in obtaining the necessary metal, but hoped this situation would clear up soon.

Ouachita Flowers Displayed

That Ouachita parish has beautiful flowers was proven by those attending the flower arrangement workshop held recently. Thirty-two beautiful arrangements were displayed during the afternoon.

Mrs. Jewel McQuiller, retired home demonstration agent, Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, president of Logtown Home Demonstration Club and Mrs. Delmas Jackson a member of the Monroe Garden Club gave demonstrations on various types of arrangements.

The arrangements were used in the afternoon at a National Home Demonstration Celebration, which was held by Ouachita Home Demonstration Council. Demonstration Club Council To Meet

BATON ROUGE, La. — The State Home Demonstration Council governing body of Louisiana's more than 900 Home Demonstration Clubs, will hold its annual meeting at Camp Grant Walker, May 13-16, according to Mrs. James Verneuil of Ponchatoula, council president.

Grant Walker, one of three camps maintained by the Louisiana State University Agricultural Extension Service chiefly for use by 4-H Club members is located near Pollock in Grant parish. One purpose of the Home Demonstration Clubs is to cooperate with Extension in the encouragement of better farming and homemaking.

Highlights of the meeting will include a birthday party on May 15 to observe the 21st anniversary of the organization of the State Home Demonstration Council, and the installation of officers on the morning of May 16. Past presidents of the council during its 21 years of existence have been invited to attend the birthday party.

Speakers of the conference will include Extension Director H. C. Sanders; Miss Ellen LeNoir state home demonstration agent; Miss Mary Mims, Extension sociologist; Mrs. Gladney Hoffpauir of Rayne, president of the Associated Women of the Farm Bureau; Mrs. Verneuil; and Mrs. Jack Wilson of Shreveport, a delegate from Caddo parish. Host council at the meeting will be the Grant parish Home Demonstration Council.

Registration of delegates will begin at 4 p. m., Tuesday, May 13, followed by a get-acquainted tea. Business sessions will begin Wednesday morning. At the installation services Friday morning, Mrs. L. M. McIntyre, Route 3, Delhi, chosen president-elect at a previous meeting, is scheduled to succeed Mrs. Verneuil as president of the State Council.

SCRAP METAL NEEDED

Any scrap metal on the farm can be sold more profitably now than ever before. There is desperate need for scrap metal in the national defense effort, and prices for scrap are higher now than during World War II.

The practice of burial in churches or churchyards was unknown to the earliest Christians.

HOLSTEIN COW SETS FAST PACE IN MILK OUTPUT

BATON ROUGE, La. — A registered Holstein cow in the herd owned by Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Holly De Kol Monsader, has just completed a lifetime production record of more than 100,000 pounds of milk on official tests with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This amount of milk is the equivalent of approximately 47,500 quarts, four times the production of the average U. S. cow, points out B. J. Burch, manager of the herd.

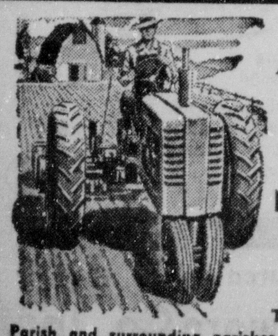

In nine yearly milking periods, this cow has produced a total of 102,462 pounds of milk and 3,643 pounds of butterfat on two milkings daily. Her highest single record was made at the age of 9 years 7 months when she produced 14,002 pounds of milk and 485 pounds of butterfat.

Humming birds have been observed to fly as fast as an automobile travelling 60 miles an hour.

The ox was one of the first animals to be domesticated.

SPORTS BEAT BUCKS ON CHRISCO'S 6-HITTER

MONROE CHECKS GREENVILLE, 7-1, 1ST OF SERIES

Clash Again Here This Afternoon At 3 O'clock

Darvin Chrisco celebrated his return to the Monroe Sports and the anniversary of his 1951 no - hitter against Hot Springs by turning in a six hit performance as the Sports defeated the Greenville Bucks, 7 to 1, here last night in the opener of a three game series. The Cotton States rivals tangle here again this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Chrisco was working on a shutout until the Bucks paired a single and a double for their only run in the seventh inning.

Meanwhile, the Sports clubbed Art Hamilton, Greenville hurler, for 11 hits, including doubles by Fred Martini, Manager Charley Harrington, and Hal Walther and a triple by Carl Franson.

The Sports broke the game open in the fifth when Carl Franson singled, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a George Andrews single.

Monroe picked up three more tallys in a heavy-hitting sixth inning that was finished with Franson being chased from the game by Umpire Charles Behrens.

One was out when Nels Daehn singled and took third when a balk was called on Hamilton as he faked a windup although his first baseman had the nugget in hopes of a hidden ball play on Daehn. Fred Martini doubled Daehn home. Johnny Jones beat out an infield hit, and Franson followed with a triple into left center scoring Martini and Jones. Hal Walther went down on a fly to Gip Gayle in right field. Franson tried to score from third after the catch, but was called out at the plate. He was ejected from the game as he protested the decision.

The Bucks snapped Chrisco's bid for a shutout in the seventh when Roger Werner doubled and scored on a single by Tony Grezaffi.

Two were out when the Sports cut loose for three more runs in the eighth. Martini and Jones hit singles. Harrington doubled to score Martini. Walther delivered a ground rule double that bounced over the left field while Jones and Harrington romped home.

Horsemen's Strike May Continue At Hawthorne

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP)—There is a remote possibility that thoroughbred racing, closed down in Chicago for the past six days because of a horsemen's strike at Sportsman's Park, may be resumed Monday at Hawthorne where the 30-day Lincoln Fields meeting is scheduled to open.

Lawrence Bogenschutz, racing secretary at Lincoln Fields, said tonight enough horses have been entered from stables shipped from Kentucky, to provide an abbreviated inaugural program.

Negotiations between the Lincoln Fields management and the exceutive committee of the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association broke down last night after three attempts had been made to reach an agreement for increased purses.

LONDON, May 10 (AP)—Nigel Cockburn of South Africa, defeated fellow countryman Derrick Capell, 6-4, 6-2, to win the men's singles title in the Hurlingham Hard Courts Tennis Tournament today.

ARMAGEDDON 1ST IN WITHERS MILE

One-Eyed Son of Alsab Returns $21.20 in Mutuels

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)— Armageddon, a one-eyed son of Alsab, followed in his daddy's footsteps today when he unleashed a burst of speed on the final turn to win the $31,050 Withers Mile at Belmont Park.

John C. Clark's Charlie McDam, the 8-5 favorite, was a disappointing seventh.

Alsab, 1942 Withers winner also grabbed a share of the triple crown that year when he took the Preakness. His sleek bay son is expected to run in the Baltimore classic next Saturday.

Armageddon, struck in the left eye by a flying rock last Oct. 16 when he won the Champagne Stakes here, hadn't won a race since in seven starts, but he sped home today by 3½ lengths before 37,958 fans.

Mrs. Walter M. Jefford's One Count was second.

In third place, four more lengths away, was Primate, from E. B. Benjamin's Starmount stable. Primate got the show money by three-fourths of a length from another cain colt, top bet.

The winning entry, neglected in the mutuels, returned $21.20, $8.30 and $5.40. One Count returned $5.40 and $4.30, while Primate paid $3.60 to show.

Nels Daehn, Monroe Outfielder Ranks High As Slugger

BY J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., May 10—(Special) — Not content with his Meridian Millers leading the Cotton States League in percentage, in club batting and fielding, Manager Tommy Davis took over the individual hitting to make it a grand slam.

Official records of the Friend News Service for the period ending May 6 and released Saturday reveal that the Miller skipper - third baseman is the lone member of the ultra - select swat group with a mark of .405, a drop of 45 points since the records were last dispensed.

STEAMING GIANTS ROLL OVER BRAVES, 4 TO 2

HEARN NOTCHES THIRD STRAIGHT WIN ON 3-HITTER

Four Successive Singles Save Game In 7th Inning

BOSTON, May 10 (AP)—Right-hander Jim Hearn held the Boston Braves to three hits, including homers by Walker Cooper and Ed Mathews, while clicking off his third win against no defeats for the New York Giants today by a 4-2 margin.

Despite his artistic performance, Hearn found himself locked in a 2-2 tie until the seventh when, with two out, four of his teammates connected for successive singles to wrap up the game.

Those timely blows were struck by Bob Thomson, former Tribesman Bob Elliott, Don Mueller and ex - Brave Alvin Dark and they chased Warren Spahn, the Tribal lefthander, who now has only one victory to offset three setbacks.

By taking the opener of the three-game series here, the Giants registered their 10th triumph in their last 11 road starts and the 14th in their last 16 games.

S'WEST CLOSED TO MEMBERSHIP

Texas Tech, Houston Bids Rejected By Conference

DALLAS, May 10 (AP)— The Southwest Conference today voted to continue as a closed corporation of seven members and to ward off applications for places in the future decided that any new members would come in only by invitation.

The faculty committee, governing body of the conference, thus closed the door to Texas Tech, which has been trying to get in since 1927, and to University of Houston, which first made a bid in 1948.

Applications of these two schools were up for consideration but the committee, in deciding that it will not receive an application for membership in the future, said "it is the opinion of the conference that the pressure generated among members and between areas of the state are not conducive to continued harmonious relations in the conference and would affect unfavorably any school which might have been added at this time."

The faculty committee also took steps to deemphasize athletics and alleviate pressure by raising the standard of scholastic eligibility and calling for an appointment of bowl game receipts among all members of the conference. Until now the conference champion got all its receipts in the Cotton Bowl except 25 per cent paid to the conference. It was the same for any confernce team playing in another bowl game.

The committee decided in the future the scholastic standard for athletes in the conference schools would be that they pass two-thirds of their work in the first two semesters and beginning the second year pass 24 semester hours per year. The old rule was that 20 hours work be passed each year.

PIMLICO FEATURE TO REAL DELIGHT

Scores By Four And Half Lengths In Black-Eyed Susan

BALTIMORE, May 10 (AP)—Calumet farm's Real Delight, just as expected, romped to a four and a half length victory today in the $25,000-added Black - Eyed Susan Stakes for three-year-old fillies at Pimlico.

Taking command early under the hands of Eddie Arcaro, the filly was never headed. She ran the mile and an eighth in 1:51 4-5, a second off the track standard set by Chains in 1948.

F. Euvene Dixon Jr.'s Dinewisely was second in a close finish with Joe W. Brown's Parading Lady.

Real Delight paid $2.60, $2.60 and $2.20; Dinewisely $4.80 and $2.20, and Parading Lady $2.20.

The race was worth $16,500 to the winner, the richest of the filly stake races.

Arcaro simply let the favorite go along with plenty of power to spare until the stretch. Then Real Delight pulled away from everything.

Arcaro, who told newsmen he didn't learn that Calumet's Hill Gail was out of the Preakness until just before he left New York, said he did not know now whether he would have a Preakness mount.

Neville Tigers Win North Louisiana Baseball Title; Beat Ruston, 7 To 6

Three-Run Rally In Seventh Inning Brings Victory

By SAMMY RICHARD DANNA

Neville High School's Baseball Bengals reign this year as champions of Louisiana Tech's Class "A" North Louisiana Baseball Ralley held annually in Ruston. The Locals shaded their old rivals, the Ruston Bearcats, in the finals, 7-6, to gain their present title.

This is the third championship of this type that the Neville nine has ever won. Paul Neal, Neville principal, coached his Bengal baseballers in the '30's to the first two championships, those of 1932 and 1939. Coaches Jim Coats and Bob Meador's spectacular 1952 team has been the only one since Neal's 1939 team to win.

Friday, Neville eliminated Winnsboro 7-0 behind the outstanding pitching of Gene Barham and Red Swanson. Saturday morning the Tiger team smashed the Farmerville Farmers 5-1 with Swanson again emerging the victorious hurler.

Wayne Causey pitched five and one-third innings in the final Ruston game, but it was Gene Barham who came in to put out the fire and gain credit for the win.

Ruston kept ahead of the locals during the second, third, and fourth innings. In the fifth the Tigers rallied to go ahead of the Bearcats 4-2. However they did not hold this lead very long for the Ruston nine made a comeback in the sixth inning with four runs to lead the Tigers 6-4.

With a great determination to win the Nevilleites collected three runs in the bottom of the seventh to capture the championship. The last half of the seventh went as follows. Leos lead the inning off with a single. Rhymes' triple drove him in to score. Billy Hardy's fielder's choice enabled Rhymes to tie up the game. After Hardy was retired, trying to steal second right fielder, Ensminger, smashed a double. The pitcher, Barham, popped out to second base. Guy Gannaway, Neville's ace catcher, drove in the winning run with his timely double.

As Esnminger strode toward home to score the championship run, the entire Neville team followed him on his journey. At the end of the game Coach Jim Coats received the winning trophy.

Monday, the Tigers meet the Farmerville nine at Neville at 2:30 p. m. to end the regular season for the locals. The Tigers have twice peaten the Farmers, once at Farmerville and at the recent ralley.

On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week the Champions journey to Baton Rouge for the State Baseball Rally to be held at L. S. U. The Baton Rouge affair will conclude one of Neville's most successful baseball seasons.

Mobley, Laye, Getz, Newman Featured In Tag Team Scramble At Kallio's

'Georgeous' George Also Due To Appear Here Soon

A wrestling tag team match with all the appearances of old home week is scheduled for the main event at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night as such well-known tusslers as Rex Mobley, Charley Laye and Al Getz return to the arena.

The only one of Tuesday's wrestlers who is a comparative newcomer to Monroe is "Shoulders" Newman, making his third appearance at Kallio's, this time as a partner of Al Getz.

Rex Mobley, however, is the only one of the quartet who has not been here recently, but his long-standing reputation is well remembered by most of the fans here. Mobley, a long, lean Texan, is best remembered for a series of bouts against Champion Jack Curtis here some years ago.

Mobley will be the partner of Laye, of Knoxville, Tenn., who lost to Newman here two weeks ago in a semi - final match.

Laye and Mobley both have several years of ring experience and have wrestled here numerous times suring the past few years, but always putting on a good show for the crowds.

Getz, too, has been here a good many times during the preceding years and wrestled here recently as "Sailor" Moran's partner against Laye and Jack Curtis. Moran and Getz lost the bouts, of which there were two, by a fluke in the deciding fall of each match.

Laye, Mobley and Getz have, through the years, wrestled each other in a good many matches and have at times wrestled on the same side of a tag team match. All of them know each other and each other's style of wrestling.

Newman's wrestling has so far not been witnessed by Mobley but a good indication of the way he performs can be gathered by that of his partner. Most tag team wrestlers pick partners that have similar styles of wrestling, so as to insure that there will be no slip-up during the bout.

Tuesday's match will be a difficult one for all concerned since they can readily forsee the moves of their opponents before they can be used. The most formidable pair of the two would seem at first glance to be Getz and Newman, since the combination of Newman's bull - like strength and Getz's ring knowledge is hard to overcome.

To offset that is the wiliness of old - timer Mobley and heavyset Charley Laye, who is no one to fool with himself. The match is about evenly arranged and if Newman and Getz can be mean, Mobley and Laye have had some experience along that line themselves.

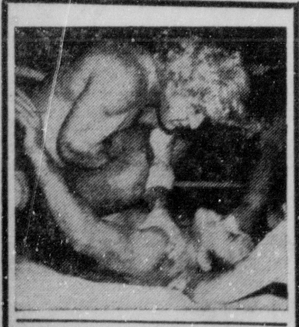

Kallio, announcing his choice of wrestlers last night, also stated that Gorgeous George, the marcel - haired California wrestler who has made at least one motion picture, is scheduled to wrestle here in the near future.

The tag team match will have a 90 - minute time limit with two falls to win. Two 10 - minute time limit semi - final matches between opponents from the different tag teams will begin the show.

BROWNS SNAP WINNING STREAK FOR INDIANS

Surprising Solons Continue To Roll, Beat A's, 3-1

CLEVELAND, May 10 (AP)—Southpaw Tommy Byrne, who makes a habit of stopping Cleveland winning streaks, snapped the Indians' five - game skein today by pitching the St. Louis Browns to a six - hit, 6 - 4 victory.

Byrne checked the Indians' 13 - game winning streak last season and their seven - game string at the start of this season. Today he handed them their first defeat of the year here where they had won five in a row.

Jim Rivera, who had been on the Browns bench for a weak hitting, paced their 11 - hit attack against Early Wynn and Lou Brissie with a homer and two singles. Bob Nieman also homered as the Browns made it three straight over the Indians. St. Louis is the only club the Redskins haven't beaten this year.

YANKS STORM BOSOX

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)— The New York Yankees went to town in old Yankee style today pounding across 11 runs in the seventh inning to gain an 18 - 3 victory over Boston's youthful Red Sox.

Sixteen bombers paraded to the plate in the big seventh. Nine hit safely, two walked, one was hit by a pitched ball and another gained a life on an error by Shortstop Jim Piersall.

The Yanks scored nine runs before Andy Carey flied out for the first out. The first six Yanks up singled. The hit parade was interrupted when Irv Noren was hit by a pitched ball. Yogi Berra then singled and Gene Woodling was safe on an error. Gil McDougald, who started the rally, walked and Johnny Hopp singled before Carey made the first out.

Relief pitcher Jim McDonald struck out but Hank Bauer, the hitting star of the game, doubled to send home the tenth and eleventh runs. Phil Rizzuto followed with a walk. Noren finally ended the Red Sox' misery py flying out. Walt Masterson, Randy Gumpert and Jim Atkins were the victims of the Yank bombardment.

PAIR CRACK UP IN AUTO TRIALS

Serious Crashes At Indianapolis Send 2 To Hospitals

INDIANAPOLIS, May 10 (AP)—The first two serious chashes of the season sent two race car drivers to the hospital today and damaged their cars so badly that they have slight chance of running in the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30.

Bayliss Levrett, 38, Glendale, Calif., was burned seriously in the fiery crash of his Brown Motor Special. Less than two hours later Bobby Ball, 26, Phoenix, Ariz., cracked up on the same turn and went to Methodist Hospital with a simple concussion.

Both were fighting a stiff wind in practice runs as their cars went out of control on the northwest turn of the 2½-mile track.

Levrett was reported in fair condition in Methodist Hospital. He suffered burns on his arms and left leg before he could tear off his burning shirt and trousers.

Levrett brought the car out of the northwest turn of the track fast and it hit the outside retaining wall four times. Then it skidded sideways down the front straightaway 1,100 feet, catching afire.

The right rear wheel was torn off the last time the car hit the concrete retaining wall.

Levrett crawled out, tearing off his flaming clothes. Race observers saw the accident and promptly flashed the red light for three other cars out on practice runs.

It was Levrett's first practice run this season in the Brown Motor Special from Richmond, Ind., a car which has started three 500-mile races but has never finished one. The car was so badly burned that it won't be in the 1952 race. Brown Motor Co., the owner, has a companion car entered with Gene Force of Richmond as the driver.

Ball also was making his first run of the season in the Blakely Oil Special, a car he drove to fifth place in his first 500 - mile race last year.

AYLWARD'S BAT BOOMS IN TEXAS

Dallas Catcher Sets Slugging Pace With .369 Mark

DALLAS, May 10 (AP)— Dick Aylward, the hustling Dallas catcher who finally has begun to hit, doesn't appear to be a flash in the pan either.

The Eagle backstopper still leads the Texas League in batting with almost a month of the campaign gone. He doesn't have the imposing average of last week, however, when he was clouting .426. But his .369 puts him 13 points ahead of Boris Martin of San Antonio, the second - place man.

Aylward compiled his average on 31 hits in 84 times at bat. He is tied with Joe Frazier of Oklahoma City for the most hits.

The hardest hammerers of the ball are Jerry Witte of Houston and Russ Burns of Oklahoma City. Witte and Burns are tied for the lead in home runs with six each while Witte has the most runs batted in with 22. Burns has driven in 18.

Joe Koppe of Shreveport tops in runs with 20, Joe Szekely of Shreveport leads in doubles with 11, while Fletcher Robbe of Tulsa and Vann Harrington of Houston are tied for the top in triples with four apiece.

Al Papai, Houston knuckle - baller, leads the pitchers with four victories against no defeats, but the hurler with the most wins is Joe Landrum of Fort Worth, with a 5 - 1 record. The leader in strike - outs is Elroy Face of Fort Worth with 33.

The best base - stealer in the league is Joe Torpey of Fort Worth, who has six.

Dallas leads in club batting with .256 although its record doesn't look like it. Oklahoma City is second with .243.

Fort Worth still is winning ball games on the base paths. The Cats have quite a reputation for substituting speed and base running for hitting, and leading the league. The Cats have thefted 30 bases, almost three times as many as any other club.

M'LANE'S BUDDY LOOP ORGANIZES

Seven Teams Definitely Entered; Play Starts June 2

RUSTON, La., May 10 (Special)—Seven teams are definitely entered in this summer's Buddy League activities in north Louisiana with an eighth team tenatively entered, according to Eddie McLane, Ruston, organizer who has just been re-elected for his fourth term as president of the circuit.

Boys who had not reached their fifteenth birthday last October 1 are eligible for Buddy League play.

At an organizational meeting held here Tuesday night, Homer joined Bernice, Ruston, Dubach, Farmerville, Minden and Jonesboro-Hodge as league members. Haynesville reportedly will field a team, but no representative was present at the meeting. Homer is a new addition. Haynesville, if a club is entered, also will come in as a new team.

McLane announced the season will open June 2 and continue through July 21 and will include an all-star game to be played at Bernice between the "West" and "East" divisions of the league.

A round robin schedule will be adopted for regular season play. Should Haynesville fail to enter, the league will operate with seven clubs.

Ted Gullatt, Ruston Junior High coach, was named as league secretary.

Representatives of various teams at the Tuesday meeting were Gullatt for Ruston, Pierce Didier of Homer, M. Hollis of Bernice, M. M. Gray of Dubach, "Doc" Elliot of Farmerville, Joe Oliphant of Minden, and Jack Jaggers of Jonesboro-Hodge.

Indianapolis Gets Tribe's Restelli

CLEVELAND, May 10 (AP)— The Cleveland Indians today optioned tall, bespectacled Dino Restelli, right - hand hitting outfielder, to their Indianapolis farm club in the American Association.

Restelli was to report to Indianapolis at Kansas City from his home in San Francisco.

Washington obtained the 27 -year old Restelli on waivers last September from Pittsburgh of the National League. Cleveland got him on waivers from Washington in December, and he trained with the Indians at Tucson until the Tribe began its exhibition tour eastward.

Restelli hit .184 in 21 games with Pittsburgh last season. He spent most of last year with Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League, batting .281 for 76 games.

Before he went into the armed service, Restelli played infield for San Francisco of the coast league. On his return he switched to outfield, but occasionally played first base.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 10 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott today churned through his first boxing session in preparation for his scheduled title defense against Ezzard Charles in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium June 5.

The champ, a bit chubby after a long layoff, appeared to be in generally good condition.

SAM SNEAD NABS GREENBRIER LEAD

Oliver, Leader First Two Rounds, 3 Strokes Behind

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 10 (AP)— Sam Snead went through the rain and mud on his home course in five under par today to lead by three strokes with 18 more holes to play in the Greenbrier Open.

Snead's 65 gave him a 54 - hole total of 198, or 12 strokes better than par so far. He won last year's Greenbrier with a 17 under 263.

Snead passed Ed Oliver, Lemont, Ill., the leader for the first two rounds. Porky had 69 today to bring his three - round total to 201.

Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., was another stroke off the pace after shooting a 68. Bob Toski, Northampton, Mass., held fourth place with 203.

Snead, who is traveling pro for the Greenbrier Hotel and who was born 35 miles away at Hot Springs, Va., 38 years ago, had five birdies and matched the other 13 pars.

Ags' Walt Davis Near Jump Mark

DALLAS, May 10 (AP)—Walter Davis, Texas A and M track star, leaped six feet, 10 and 1-2 inches today to come within one-half inch of the world's record held by Les Steers of Oregon.

Davis actually went over the bar at six feet, 11 and ½ inches, but it was ruled by officials that the highest point of the takeoff was six feet, 10 and one-half inches and that in establishing a world's record in the high jump this height must prevail.

It was the highest any man has jumped since Steers did his six feet eleven in 1041. It established a new Southwest Conference high jump record. The old record was six feet 8 and 5-8 inches held by Bob Walter of Texas.

Anti-Trust Exemption For Baseball Looms, But Reserve Clause Rapped

Congressional Committee About Ready To Shelve Bills

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)— A congressional committee which investigated organized baseball last year is about ready to shelve bills which would exempt the game from federal anti - trust laws.

The committee has drawn up a report, still not official, which says it is "not unreasonable" to regard organized baseball as a monopoly. But it concludes the time is not at hand for congress to step in.

This conclusion came in the face of a tentative finding that baseball's own code has not only failed to accomplish equality of competition "but also it has actively thwarted this objective."

The house judiciary subcommittee is scheduled to meet Thursday to consider the draft report. Some minor revisions may be made, but it is unlikely there will be any major changes.

The group conducted extensive hearings last year, after introduction of several bills to exempt organized baseball from the anti-trust laws. They followed several developments which baseball men regard as a threat: suits attacking validity of the reserve clause, and justice department inquiries into broadcasting of games and other aspects of the sport.

The tentative report says that baseball's own laws are "designed to promote economic and playing competition among clubs in the same league (but) are farther from accomplishing their purpose today than at any time in the past half century."

Commissioner Ford Frick and other big wheels of the game may not be pleased with the language used regarding baseball's controversial reserve clause and its rules on territorial rights.

The reserve clause — a provision in player contracts which gives to the club which first signs the player a continous and exclusive right to his services — was accepted by the committee as the keystone of baseball law.

The tentative report says that if the reserve clause is used only to promote competiton "it would seem unlikely that its use would be regarded as an abuse of monopoly power."

But, it goes on, if it were used "to stiffle competition from leagues completely outside of organized baseball it might well be contended that it is being used py baseball to monopolize a part of interstate commerce."

A number of law suits are pending in various courts in which the legality of the reserve clause and other baseball rules is being challenged. Of these suits, the report says:

"It is important. . .to stress the fact that if legal issues are determined adversely to baseball, the courts must enforce the law even though they may believe that organized baseball cannot exist without the reserve clause and that millions of Americans would lose a desired form of diversion if it is held illegal."

The report calls baseball's rules regarding territorial rights "restrictive."

"The baseball map needs realignment, and competition has not benefited from the weak financial condition of certain clubs," it says.

Kathy McKinnon Takes Southern

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 10 (AP)— Kathy McKinnon, Lakeland, Fla., made a terrific comeback after being 4 - down at the end of 18 today to defeat Bea McWane, of Birmingham, 1 - up in 36 holes and win the Women's Southern Amateur golf championship.

The Florida Whiz took the third, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth holes to even the match at the outset of the afternoon round. Miss McWane pulled even on the ninth hole.

On the 13th hole Miss McKinnon, Florida Southern University student, started her triumphant trek.

She won the 13th, 14th and 15th holes to take a commanding lead.

Miss McWane sank a 10 - foot putt with the pressure on at the 16th green. She came back to take the 17th, but lost out on the final hole when her first shot landed in a trap. She recovered beautifully, but her next shot hooked into the brush and she conceded the match two strokes later.

E. B. ELLISON NAMED HEAD OF LITTLE THEATER

E. B. Ellison was elected president of the Little Theater at a meeting held recently at Selman Field.

Other officers elected to serve for the year July 1, 1952 to June 30, 1953 were R. M. Kettenring, vice-president; Mrs. W. F. Latham, secretary; Julius Cahn, treasurer.

Little Theater will close an unusually successful season late this month with its fifth and final presentation, John Van Druten's "Kiss and Tell."

In an interview after his election, President - elect Ellison admitted that only 140 new Little Theatre memberships are open for the nex season before the roll will have reached its limit of 1,000. Membership dues received after June 15 will be handled in the order of receipt according to postmark. Those over and above 1,000 will have to be returned, but names and addresses will be listed for preferred attention for single admission reservations to next year's plays. Little Theatre's charter limits membership to 1,000 and restricted seating capacity at the Playhouse precludes increasing the limitation. Plans on foot will augument this capacity and permit amendment of the charter restriction so that more may partcipate in this vital cultural activity.

Little Theatre's executive director C. Stocker Fontelieu, is presently busy with next season's plans. "We hope, he said, to eclipse all previous presentations."

OIL AREA OF 2 PARISHES

OIL AND GAS MAP OF BEAUREGARD AND ALLEN PARISHES, LOUISIANA

SCALE - MILES 0 10 20

DIGBY BULLETIN SHOWS OIL AREA

Geology Of Beauregard And Allen Parishes Shown In Map

BATON ROUGE, May 10.—(Special)—Publication of a bulletin on one of Louisiana's important oil areas, "Geology of Beauregard and Digby.
Allen Parishes," is announced by Conservation Commissioner S. L.

The Southwestern Louisiana area covered, the commissioner said, is in the trend of prolific Miocene and Eocene oil and gas production and includes 21 oil and gas fields in Beauregard and three in Allen.

The bulletin was written, in three sections, by Leo W. Hough, state geologist; Wilbur C. Holland, former research geologist with the Louisiana Geological Survey, and Grover E. Murray, chairman of the state university department of geology.

The work contains the results of a comprehensive study of the surface and subsurface geology of the two parishes, and a section on the petroleum geology of the area.

Commissioner Digby said he believed the bulletin would stimulate renewed interest in the oil and gas possibilities of the two parishes and the surrounding area.

Of particular interest to the oil fraternity, he said, will be the large amount of information on the producing fields, including structure maps contoured on top of Claiborne and Wilcox sands and contour maps on a producing horizon as a marker bed for each field.

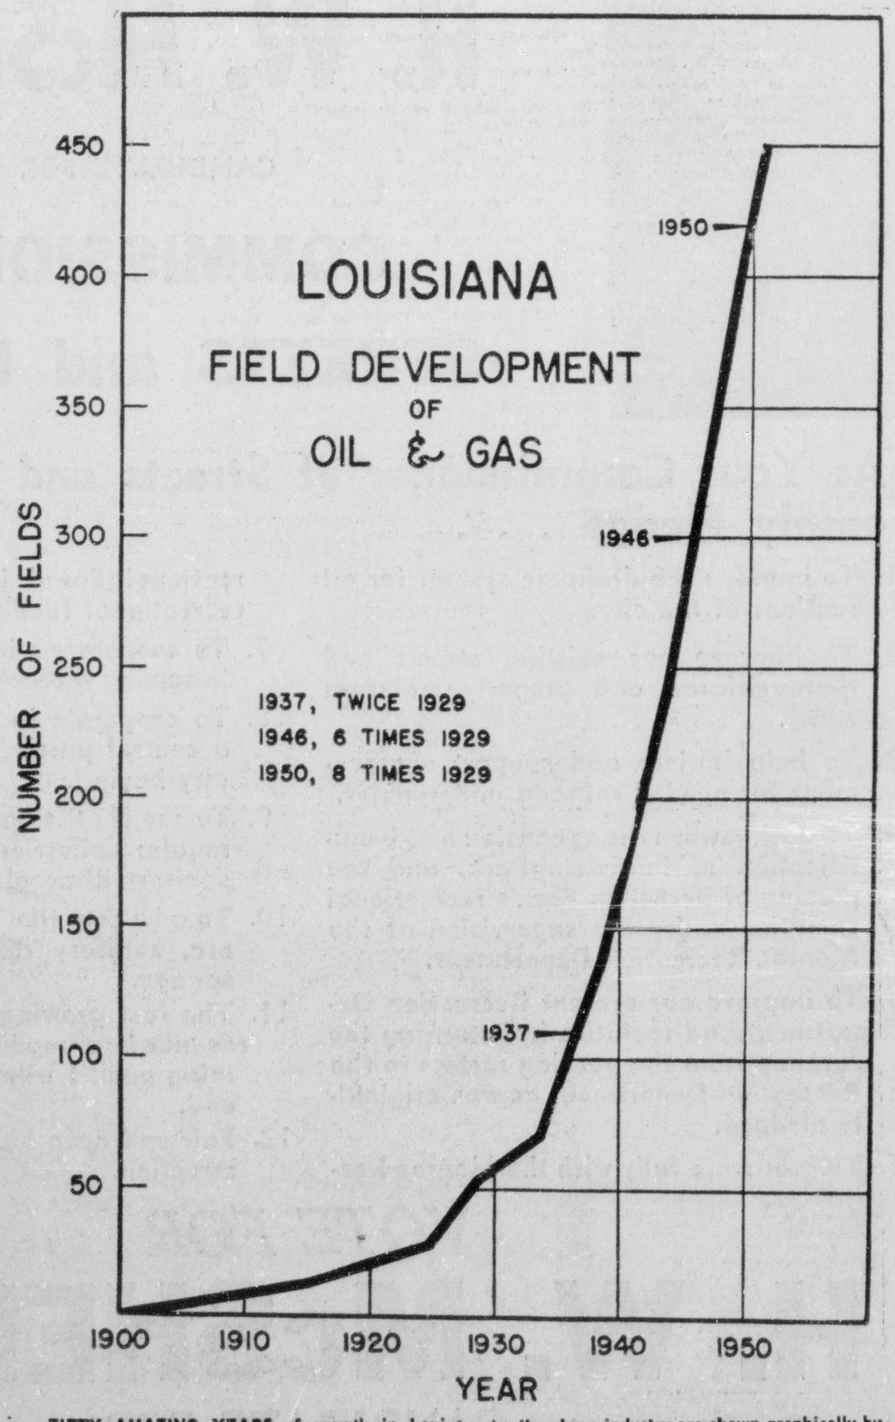

Each oil and gas field is covered comprehensively, including a history, number of producing sands, production and conservation orders. Wildcat operations also are treated statistically.

Each bulletin contains a large colored geologic map of each parish, on a scale of approximately one inch to the mile, compiled from both topographic quadrangles and aerial photographs and showing surface geology and outcroping formations.

One section is devoted to the physiography and analysis of the so-called "pimple mounds," including evidence indicating they are erosional in nature with clump vegetation as a possible factor in their formation.

The bulletin is the third of its type to be published since 1948, and will be sent to libraries and other outlets all over the world.

The state Geological Survey, a division of the Conservation Department, and university school of geology are also cooperating on two other bulletins, covering Ouachita, Lincoln, and Webster parishes, and have started field work on a survey of Sabine parish.

FIFTY AMAZING YEARS of growth in Louisiana's oil and gas industry are shown graphically by the chart above, taken from the State Conversation Department Biennial report published and distributed this week. The heavy black line shows the increase in the number of oil fields in the state, from the first well, drilled near Jennings in 1901, through tideland operations off the Gulf coast. Actual production followed approximately the same curve, including the sudden upsurge accompanying the expansion of the automobile industry in the Mid-20s. Louisiana's conservation commissioner, Judge S. L. Digby, believes the curve will continue the same steep curve "for many years to come."

Top Educators Support Plan To Appoint School Head

SHREVEPORT, May 10 (Special)—Executive heads of public school system and professional teachers' association in the nation's 48 states overwhelming favor appointment rather than popular election of the chief school officer of the state public school systems—the state superintendent of education.

This is revealed in a nationwide poll made by The Shreveport Times.

The Louisiana P. T. A., the Louisiana Law Institute, and a score of other statewide civic organizations have endorsed a bill for a constitutional amendment to change Louisiana's present system of popular political election of the state superintendent of education to appointment by the present elected state board of education. The bill calling for the amendment wlil be introduced the first day of the legislature, P. T. A. officials stated.

The proposed amendment would not become effective for four years and thus would not affect the coming four-year elective term of State Superintendent Shelby Jackson.

The Times survey of the nation's 48 states teacher associations brought the following results:

Favoring appointment, 44; favoring election, 0; no opinion (La., N. C., Pa.), 3; no reply (Maine), 1.

The survey of the state superintendents of education of the 48 states brought these following results:

Favoring appointment, 32; favoring election, 9; no opinion (N. D., Pa., Tenn.;, 3; no reply (Ia., Kansas, La.), 3; favoring either method, 1.

Superintendents now elected but favoring a change to appointment, 14.

Superintendents now appointed but favoring a change to election, 0.

Combining the views of both the state superintendents and the state teacher associations of the nation, the survey showed that 90 per cent of the two groups favor appointment and only 10 per cent favor election. Some of the latter specified election on separate ballot or in a separate election from the state political officials. Louisiana elects its state superintendent as part of a factional political ticket. The National Education Association and the National Council of Chief State School Officers both have endorsed the principle of appointment over election and are working actively in its behalf throughout the nation. A recent NEA poll of 202 educators, including those in the Times survey and many outside the various state public school systems, showed 94.6 per cent for appointment and only 4.2 per cent for election, The Times said.

The Times is publishing eight columns of excerpts from each letter from the state teachers associations and from the state superintendents of education of the 48 state, plus a summarized tabulation showing opinion in each state. The entire file will be turned over to the P. T. A. for use in presenting its case to the legislature.

The state P. T. A. has announced that its proposal for constitutional amendment establishing the appointive system in Louisiana has endorsement of the following organiations: Louisiana Law Institute Committee on Constitutional Revision, Louisiana Superintendents Association, Louisiana State School Board Legislative Council, League of Wom Voters, Federation of Women's Clubs, National Council of Jewish Women, American Association of Social Workers, Federal Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Louisiana Conference of Social Welfare, State YYCA, American Association of University Women, Louisiana Nurses Association, and many others.

Educators in The Times poll who favored election of chief school officers contended that this kept the office and the schools closer to the people and made the official directly responsible to them.

Those favoring appointment held that it tended to remve the post from partisan and factional politics and followed the fundamental American system of appointment to administrative governmental posts requiring professional qualifications, with such appointment to be made by elected officials. This, they contended, maintained contact between public and officials while tending to prevent intrusion of machine politics into public education.

They also pointed out that this is the system for selection of parish school superintendents in Louisiana and in most other states, and for professional qualification offices from city through state government, such as health officers, engineers, highway construction experts, social welfare direction, charity hospital supervision, etc. The Times said that the American public school system originally was founded on the appointive system, but that political forces had switched many states to election. The count now is 28 for election and 20 for appointment, with the trend definitely back to appointment, it said.

The Times said that State Superintendent Jackson of Louisiana did not reply to a letter and two later telegrams requesting his views. H. C. Wright, executive secretary of the Louisiana Education Association, declined to express an opinion because the organization had expressed none.

DELAWARE'S appointed board, which appoints the superintendent, must be half Republican and half Democratic.

FLORIDA elects under the "cabinet system," whereby the state superintendent, ex-officio, is a member of the gubernatorial cabinet and of many state boards, including budget. Florida superintendent and education association both favor appointment unless election is under cabinet plan.

IDAHO, where educators favor appointment, finds the change from election difficult because the state board for public schools also is the board of regents for University of Idaho.

MAINE'S state board is chosen through a system of nominations, mostly from educational organizations.

MISSISSIPPI'S state superintendent gave first choice to popular election but had no objection to appointment if state board is elected He is tabulated as for election.

NEW YORK'S appointing state board is named by the legislature.

WYOMING elects under a cabinet plan, similar to Florida's, with the Wyoming state superintendent automatically a member of 14 state boards.

JURY RETURNS DEATH VERDICT IN MURDER CASE

HATTIESBURG, Miss., May 10 (AP)—A circuit court jury today took just 24 minutes to find Luther Carlyle Wheeler guilty of the murder of Hattiesburg Policeman James Everett.

The verdict carries an automatic death penalty.

Circuit Judge Burkitt Collins sentenced Wheeler to die in the electric chair July 3.

Wheeler was calm when the verdict was returned and the sentence pronounced. Defense Attorney Arlington Jones said it is "most probable that we will appeal to the state Supreme Court."

The courtroom was jammed when the jury returned, as it had been during most of the four-day trial.

Wheeler said, "I have nothing to say" when questioned by Judge Collins before the death sentence was pronounced.

The jury received the case late today after the state sought to explode the mystery of the green car which figured prominently in the trial.

HANDYMAN'S

for the past three years, the yearly pay with overtime exceeded the present supervisor of schools, whose salary is set at $4,950.

The set weekly salary for the mechanic - maintenance man is $95. Overtime is added monthly when reported.

In all three cases where the respective salaries exceeded that of the local maintenance employe, the three, Superintndent of Schools J. M. Boyet, Supervisor Marjorie Oliver and Neville High School Principal Paul J. Neal, hold master's degrees and have had experience in the educational field in excess of 23 years. Boyet's salary was listed as $7,420; Miss Oliver receives $4,950 and Neal $5,450.

Also shown on the payrolls was another maintenance employe, presently earning $4,680 or $90 weekly, who is exceeded in salary only by the above mentioned three and George Riser, assistant principal.

Three others on weekly payrolls, listed as supervisor of grounds, carpenter and a painter, received annual salaries of $4,160. Each is paid $80 per week. Another carpenter, one of three persons paid from the improvement fund, is drawing $85 weekly or $4,420 annually.

The six persons, who comprise the "improvement fund" division and part of the "partial maintenance" group, are paid substantially more than 12 other teachers, who have master's degrees and experience varying from three to 42 years. Annual salaries for these teachers range from $3,000 to $3,600.

Also revealed in the payroll were increases for principals and members of the "main office" in the school system, but little if any pay raise for teachers who have reached the minimum set by law for those with masters degrees and twelve years' experience. Seven teachers, who have taught in the city schools for a number of years and have held master's degrees, have received the same pay for this year that they were given in the 1948-1949 school year. Experience ranges from 26 to 42 years.

A similar situation exists among the teachers with long experience in the educational field, but who have obtained only their bachelor's degrees. Forty - six educators in this category have received no financial increase since the 1948-1949 year.

Meanwhile, some among the younger teachers, especially in the field of physical education, have received both promotions and pay raises. Of seven teachers in this field, all are receiving well over the minimum set by the state. In two instances the above - scale pay is $600 annually, while one is $445. Yearly salaries for the other four are $800, $900, $1,000, and $1,100 above the minimum. All have received increases during the past three years with one exception, who is teaching in the Monroe City Schools for the first year.

Two of the coaches have been given $100 increases, another $400, two $500 and the head coach $600 since the 1948 - 1949 session.

Most school systems throughout the state give additional allowances for coaches who also hold classes and no set rule has been agreed upon over the state. Additional pay is also granted to those who handle outside activities, such as the Tigerettes at Neville and publicity for the schools.

A minimum salary schedule as subscribed by the Louisiana minimum salary law of 1948 puts an annual minimum of $1,500 for non-graduate teachers, $2,400 for persons holding bachelor degrees and $2,500 if a master's degree is held. An increase of $100 per year is granted teachers, according to a state standard, up to $3,200 for those with a bachelor degree and $3,600 if a master's degree is possessed.

Because of the alleged "consistent partiality and discrimination" now being shown in the city school system, an increasingly prevalent dissention within the system itself has peen coming before the public. Many of the older teachers are discussing retirement, while numerous younger teachers have already approached other systems in an attempt to secure jobs. Many privately say they "are awaiting future developments before doing anything."

OPPOSITION

non's constitutional proposals. A two-thirds vote is required to pass constitutional measures.

Rep. elect James Eubank of Alexandria, who will be Kennon's House floor leader, announced in Alexandria his endorsement of Aycock for speaker.

"I personally believe Mr. Aycock will be elected by an overwhelming majority," he said. "I wouldn't want to make any comment on Mr. Pavy's candidacy for speaker."

Eubank said Kennon leaders are confident that the platform on which Kennon ran will be adopted by the Legislature.

Pavy, who arrived here last night, said "I'm not trying to wreck Kennon's program, but to save him from himself and his poor advisers."

There are fast-growing reports of resentment among lawmakers at the Kennon creation of parish committees to handle patronage.

Under the Long administration, the lawmakers dealt with jobs in their districts.

Reports were that the resentment would make itself known when the Legislature meets.

Eubank, meanwhile, delcared the Kennon administration not only wanted to see its program adopted early, but to clear the decks for early consideration of bills introduced by all lawmakers.

His remarks apparently contained an administration promise to cooperate.

"Observation of the Legislature in the past," Eubank said, "indicates that at the end of the session, the House calendar is usually so jammed with bills there is not sufficient time to act on them.

"I would like to see much of our work accomplished in the early part of the session so that all proposals affecting the public can receive the full consideration they deserve."

Rep. elect Pavy, as he announced his candidacy for the speakership, pointed out that Kennon, while running for governor, garnered only 1,800 votes in St. Landry in the first primary. In the second primary, during which Pavy supported him, Kennon received 13,000 out of 18,000 votes.

Pavy declared that Louisiana, in the 1948 election, rejected President Truman, "but right now we are installing the same kind of government by crony."

St. Landry Parish, Pavy added, helped Kennon win on the basis of his promises of non-partisan, non-political boards to help run the state.

"But already I see him appointing men to jobs, such as in the Highway Department, who should be appointed by the non-political boards.

"If he wants the boards to be non-political, why doesn't he let the boards make the appointments of their own department directors'.

"I want the Legislature to have a chance to say something about those the governor is appointing to office.

"I am not bent on killing Judge Kennon's program," Pavy asserted, "but when there are proposals like these to take control away from the people, then the program is not working for democracy."

Pavy also took a crack at the budget control plans for examination of state agency spending every three months.

"What they will do is keep sticking their noses into the work of the agencies every three months until they hound the good men out of office."

Pressed for his reaction to Pavy's outburst, Gov. Long would make no comment. Kennon was unavailable.

On the question of patronage, capitol sources that are well informed report Kennon leaders have been warned of the growing dissatisfaction among some lawmakers at Kennon's parish committees.

The leaders were reminded that former Gov. Sam Jones ran into the same situation after he set up parish committees to handle patronage. Legislators were disregarded, according to capitol sources.

patronage issue became acute and

Another riot erupted March 13. Twelve prisoners were killed and 26 wounded when South Korean guard fired into a compound after being stoned by the prisoners.

Before Dodd's release, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said in Tokyo the incident "may very well affect the Korean truce talks."

"This is a situtation of the Communists' own creation and, in their world where neither logic nor truth has any value, there is no telling to what extent they will build up this incident," the Allied commander said.

His statement was borne out at Panmunjom, where the Communist truce delegates angrily accused the Allies of plotting "Another massacre" to free Dodd.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, the chief Red delegate, based his charge on a statement Friday by General Ridgway who had ordered whatever force necessary to obtain Dodd's release and establish control at Koje.

"When your side has not given a responsible account for the sanguinary massacres of our captured personnel of Feb. 18 and March 13, the commander of your side (Ridgway) openly declares on May 9 that yet another massacre will be carried out against the bare-handed personnel of our side," Nam Il asserted. "This is not to be tolerated."

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior Allied delegate, told him: "Your notification, being entirely unfounded on fact, is categorically rejected. The United Nations command has always attempted to exercise humane methods in controlling the prisoners of war in its custody."

"However, some of these captured personnel have taken advantage of these humane policies, have instigated riots and violence among themselves and have now seized the camp commander whom they are holding hostage.

"The United Nations Command will take whatever measures are necessary to eliminate this intolerable situation to restore control over prisoner of war compounds."

While Dodd was held hostage, Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson of Charleston, S. C., was placed in command of the island.

U.S. OFFICIALS PONDER APPEAL TO MOSCOW

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP) — United States officials are considering making an appeal to Moscow to help bring about a successful conclusion of the deadlocked Korean truce negotiations.

The step, if taken, probably would be the first big diplomatic move assigned to the new American ambassador to the Soviet Union, George F. Kennan since he arrived in Moscow.

The truce negotiations have been tied up for many weeks over the question whether prisoners of war should be forcibly repatriated.

The United Nations command, firmly backed by the American and British governments, has told the Reds it will not compel prisoners to go home. Out of a total of 170,000 military and civilian prisoners held by United Nations forces, 100,000 have declared they would resist repatriation.

Whether Moscow could exercise a decisive influnce in getting the Chinese and North Korean commands to accept the U. N. decision about repatriation is an open question, but some responsible authorities here feel an effort is work making in that direction.

Russia's overall strategic interest in the question of war or peace in Korea is also a wide open speculation at the moment. Some authorities hold the view that the Kremlin would like to keep American and other United Nations forces tied up in the Far East indefinitely, thereby preventing a maximum buildup in Europe.

A contrary theory is that since the Kremlin is currently following a "peace" strategy, mixed with some sabre rattling, in trying to split the western Allies it might be interested in getting a Korean armistice and might respond to an appeal.

The assumption among officials here is that major Communist policy decisions for the truce negotiations are at last checked with Moscow and possibly are made there. Actually, no one on the western side seems to know what kind of relationship exists between the Soviet and Chinese Communist regimes but in general the belief is that the Kremlin at least has a powerful influence in Peiping.

Russia played an important role in getting the truce talks started and may have had a part in getting them going again after they broke down last fall.

Washington officials find two slight grounds for encouragement in the present situation. One is that the tough attitude of the U. N. negotiators, the Communists have wanted to avoid complete suspension of the meetings. The other is that they have not so far launched a major propaganda campaign against the United Nations proposal.

between political "names" during the race for governor, Kennon fought to sell his "sensible" pattern of government.

He rode to victory on a tide of independent votes that had turned thumbs down on "Longism."

Kennon twice was humbled in statewide politics by the Long family. He finished third when Gov. Long won in 1948. Later that year, Long's nephew, Russell Long, the late Huey Long's son, shoved Kennon aside by a slim margin in a bid for the U. S. Senate.

His large personal following and a driving ambition placed Kennon in position for his third attack. Kennon got help from another quarter. Louisianians apparently had wearied of Long's firebrand politics and high-cost government.

Rated fourth or fifth in an early list of nine candidates, Kennon, without the backing of a single daily newspaper or organized political machine stormed into the runoff election.

His vote-catching demand for "an end to wasteful spending" and concrete pledges to cut taxes led him to a landslide victory in a run-off against Carlos Spaht, Gov. Long's choice. Long could not succeed himself under Louisiana law.

Early in the campaign, Kennon refused to be bothered about the old jinx against two-time losers. "Huey Long didn't make it the first time and he turned out to be a pretty good politician," he said.

For the last four years, Earl Long dominated government and legislature. He piloted a high-tax program of welfare, expanded charity hospitals, road building, free school lunches for children.

It made Louisiana the most heavily taxed state in the nation per capita. The program which Long said would "improve on what Huey did," created the south's greatest welfare realm.

Kennon played high his promise to pull down a governor's power a peg or two and to encourage an independent legislature.

He proposes to accomplish both by creating constitutional boards to handle the big-spending state agencies.

Earl Long and Kennon are far from cooled off after the furnace-hot campaign. Long unleashed taunts at Kennon, calling him "that pitcher-eared big goof" and "two-bit fourflusher."

Skipping the name-calling, Kennon retorted he would end Louisiana's "reputation for bad politics."

When the campaign began, Long laughed at Kennon's chances. But just before the first primary, he said privately Kennon was the man to beat.

Russell Long split the Long strength when he backed U. S. Rep. Hale Boggs of New Orleans, his own candidate, in the first primary. Defeated, he kept silent in the runoff as his uncle stumped desperately to rake up votes.

Kennon and Russell Long agree on Sen. Richard Russell as a presidential choice. Kennon's supporters recently picked the young senator as one of Louisiana's convention delegates.

Standing on a small platform in the vast expanse of the magnificent granite steps at the state capitol here, Kennon will be sworn in at noon (CST) Tuesday.

One hundred thousand residents and visitors are expected to jam the inaugural parade route.

With Kennon and his official family will be a gathering of the Kennon clan from north Louisiana. Some 55 members will be special guests of the governor, seated near the platform.

Kennon has prepared well in advance for the legislature which convenes Monday. He made history by sending out his administration bills ahead of time for lawmakers to scan and criticize.

His program highlights call for a two-cent cut in the nine-cent gasoline tax, a jump in state income tax exemptions, tighter budget controls, reshuffling the heavy-spending departments to remove them from the executive influence.

The chrysanthemum probably has been known for 2,000 years.

Local directors for the Delta Council are R. Lee Vanderpool, L. Slade Brown and T. A. Calloway.

A glimpse of the council activities reveals progress in nearly every phase of agriculture and other related fields during the past year.

In the latter part of January representatives from the council met with Senator Allen J. Ellender in New Orleans in an effort to increase the cotton support price. This was done because of the 16 million bale crop requested by the government, while not assuring a support price. On April 30, the secretary - manager, Harvey Grant of the Delta Council went to Memphis to discuss with representatives of the Mid South Cotton Producers future prospects for increasing the support price.

In connection with the importation of Mexican National labor for Louisiana cotton producers, the council secured 991 Mexicans in 1951, which was approximately one-third of all the Mexican nationals brought into the area. However, in 1952, Grant said, it will be the policy of the council to act in only an advisory capacity to assist its members in the securing of foreign labor.

The council was instrumental in taking the initiative for the securing of a cotton classing office in northeast Louisiana. It was only recently announced that this office is to be constructed in Winnsboro and will be permanent. Previously, the two offices for the state were located in Alexandria and New Orleans. The Winnsboro office will replace the one in New Orleans. Work has already begun on its construction.

Support of the council in securing the passage of legislation designed to secure appropriations for additional facilities for a sweet potato experiment station at Chase, La., and the Northeast Louisiana Livestock Show in Delhi has increased noticeably in the past year.

The group is also working with soybean producers from this area in an attempt to secure a grading station in Northeast Louisiana and progress along these lines is being shown.

partment will also welcome the support and suggestions of local associations for anything legislative that will prove to be for the best interests of the profession and general public, he continued.

Martin said that in 18 months, his office had detected policies written by companies not licensed to premium volume of $250,000 of business or no true value and were prohipited from any further writings within this state.

Attesting to the fact of improved conditions and the possibilities of the life insurance business, Martin said that in 1930, a total of 220 million policies had been issued within Louisiana compared to a two billion six hundred million policies in the last year. He added that in 1930 the annual premium volume amounted to $30,300,000 compared to over 65 million dollars in 1951, an increase of over 125 per cent.

At the business session new officers elected and installed were president, J. W. Womack, Pan American Life, Monroe; vice president, Henry Miltenberger, New England Mutual, New Orleans and secretary - treasurer, Vernon B. Greenlee, Business Men's Insurance, Monroe.

BATTLE OVER STEEL SEIZURE IS UNDERWAY

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The steel industry and the government squared off today in the great constitutional battle over President Truman's seizure of the nation's eight billion dollar steel industry to prevent a strike.

The two antagonists formally presented the Supreme Court with thick legal briefs bristling with arguments each side hoped will convince the nine high court justices.

The CIO steelworkers, all but lost in the court battle but with a vital interest in the outcome, gave the court their version of the legal issue: that their futile wage talks with the industry were a "sham"; that the real fight is over how much of a price increase the government would grant the industry to offset higher pay.

The industry contended seizure was "wholly illegal and wholly unconstitutional." Its brief, signed by John W. Davis and other attorneys for the nation's major steel companies, said the government was attempting to impose "compulsory arbitration under force of seizure"; that it was trying to settle a labor dispute by "executive fiat"; and that it bypassed a specific law—the Taft-Hartley act—which Congress had intended for deadlocked labor disputes.

The nub of the argument made by the Justice Department for the administration is this:

The President "brought to solution of the emergency the sum of his powers" and that these powers set forth in the constitution are a "grant of all the executive powers of which the government is capable."

The constitution, the department brief said, contains "ample authority to sustain the President's action," despite the lack of a specific seizure law.

The President seized the steel mills the night of April 8, shortly before a scheduled strike by 650,000 steelworkers. On April 29, Judge David A. Pine of federal district court ruled the seizure "illegal and without authority of law." On May 3, the Supreme Court postponed the effect of Pine's order until it settles the question. It also banned the government from raising wages in the interim.

The Justice Department, legal arm of the President, wants the high court to overrule Judge Pine's decision. The industry has asked the court to uphold it and order the mills returned to their private owners.

Oral arguments expanding on the printed briefs were scheduled for Monday afternoon. Acting Attorney General Philip B. Perlman will handle the President's case; Davis the industry's.

Perhaps the most forceful illustration of the scope of presidential powers," the government brief said "is the fact that American troops in Korea, whose safety and effectiveness are so directly involved here, were sent to the field by an exercise of the President's constitutional powers."

The government brief, signed by Perlman, shied away from the strong assertion of executive power made by Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldridge before Judge Pine.

Baldridge had said the President is "accountable only to the country" and that his decisions in such matters are final.

Nor did Perlman's written arguments to the Supreme Court assert, as Baldridge asserted, that the powers of the judicial and legislative branches of government are specifically limited by the constitution—but that executive powers are not.

Perlman acknowledged that no single law "specifically prescribes the action the President found necessary in this case to maintain steel production."

"But it has never been supposed," Perlman continued, "that the limit of the President's duties are marked by the literal terms of statutes."

The industry had this to say:

"The constitution nowhere confides in the executive any express power to take such undefined action as he deems best for the public interest, either in an emergency or otherwise."

The industry told the Supreme Court the Taft-Hartley act was the only proper legal basis for government action on April 8. It provides for an 80-day no-strike court order when a labor dispute threatens the national safety.

But Perlman argued that the 99-day voluntary strike postponement by the union "more than achieved" the "substance, if not the precise forms, of the labor management relations (taft-Hartley) act."

The union had originally scheduled its strike for Dec. 31, the day its work contract expired. It postponed its strike five times at government request. In the meantime, the Wage Stabilization Board, after studying the dispute for weeks, came up with a recommended settlement. It proposed a 17½ cent wage boost; 8½ cents in fringe benefits; the union shop, under which all workers would be compelled to belong to the union; and an 18-month contract.

The union accepted, the industry rejected the settlement plan. The union then set a final strike deadline—midnight April 8—and to prevent that walkout, the President seized the industry.

In its brief to the court today, the union hit hard at the Taft-Hartley act arguments of the industry.

"The situation which the act was designed to meet . . . had already occurred and had already been met in a way which went beyond the remedies available under Taft-Hartley," the union said. It added that as long as the wage raise ban is in effect "there is in fact no possibility that the steel dispute can be settled by negotiation." The most recent negotiations collapsed last Sunday.

Accident Is Fatal To Child

TALLULAH, La., May 10 (Special) — Twenty-three month old Claude Stephen, Jr. died in a Vicksburg hospital about 10 a. m. this morning as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident Friday night. His mother, Mrs. Claude Stephens, who suffered a serious eye injury, both jawbones broken and lacerations of the chin, was still in serious condition at a Vicksburg hospital.

Claude Stevens and a daughter, Edna Dianne, were slightly injured and were not hospitalized.

According to a report, the accident occurred about 9:30 p. m. Friday at Enoka, about eight miles north of Tallulah. The Stephens family were enroute from Baton Rouge for a Mother's Day visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Stephens, of Transylvania and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Albritton. State Trooper C. C. May said that a car allegedly driven by Harry Barnes, Negro, backed out of a side road and the oncoming car driven by Stephens rammed into it completely demolishing Stephen's car.

Barnes had not been taken into custody late tonight.

Funeral services for the child will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Transylvania Baptist Church. The Rev. S. W. Tullos, pastor, will officiate. Interment, under the direction of Catron - Gay Funeral home, will follow in the Lake Providence Cemetery.

TIGERETTES' MINSTREL IS SUCCESS

BY SAMMY RICHARD DANNA

An estimated crowd of 2,000 spectators attended Neville Tigerettes' "The South Shall Rise Again," a three act minstrel presented at Neville Auditorium. Friday... This concluded the Tigerette's 1952 season.

Five months have gone into the production of this 170 "All - Girl" Play with Lawrence Willey, Director of the organization, serving as a general director. The girls, themselves, actually took over the scene direction. Several Tigerettes served as leaders of various parts.

Act I consisted of several songs of the South. Notable among them were "Dixie", "My Lindy Lou", and "Are You from Dixie." Several dance routines occupied the rest of the act.

"Miss Persimmon's School House" filled the Second Act with old fashion jokes and foolishment. the scenes took place in a typical old fashioned country Negro school.

The "All Girl Review" concluded the play, but the Grand Finale actually put the finishing touches on the musical. Before the Grand Finale Lawrence Willey appeared to the audience to congratulate the girls on their marvelous work during the past three years that he directed them and especially for the work on the musical and Shreveport's "Holiday on Dixie."

After the performance the audience was invited backstage for refreshments. The spectators expressed their appreciation to Willey by the great applause and by personal thanks.

Thus ends the 1951 - 52 Tigerette season except for the annual banquet to be held later this month. All of the girls' activities which included; football halftime shows, Baton Field Trip, various parades, Holiday in Dixie, Calendar and Football program and sales, different sales campaigns (such as Carnations sales), the annual banquet, and of course "The South Shall Rise Again."

Storm Brings Cool Front To Monroe

A light smattering of hail that lasted for approximately 10 minutes yesterday morning and a slight relief from the hot weather of the preceding week was the Twin Cities' portion of the storm that created havoc in other Northeast Louisiana cities, said the C. A. A. weather bureau last night.

Weathermen reported that the hail was part of the storm activity preceding a minor cold front moving in from the west that is expected to keep the heat down for about 24 hours.

Temperatures here were expected to drop to 58 or 59 degrees last night but weathermen predicted a fair day today, as the storm had already passed over last night.

Elsewhere in the state, particularly in Shreveport and Oil City, the storm caused considerable damage to buildings and oil derricks, but no one was reported injured in that area. Winds ranging up to 62 miles per hour blew down at least 30 oil derricks near Oil City.

Four other states were hit by the storm yesterday, and two men were killed in East Tennessee when their boat overturned on Douglas Lake in the height of the storm. Drowned were Jack Hamilton and Eulas Ledford of Newport, Tenn.

LEGISLATORS TO LEAVE FOR BATON ROUGE

With the first session of the state legislature scheduled to begin Monday, Ouachita Parish Representatives Shady Wall and Gilbert Faulk and Senator James Sparks will will leave today for Baton Rouge, where they will attend the first session and the gubernatorisl inauguration on Tuesday.

Wall and Sparks last night announced their intention of introducing, as the first item on their agenda, a bill for the establishment of a pharmcentical school at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Wall and Faulk will introduce the bill into the House of Representatives at the same time Sparks introduces it in the house. All three of the legislators have pledged 100 per cent cooperation on the bill, and have discussed it at several meetings here during the past weeks.

Sparks also announced his intention last night of introducing bills pertaining to the elimination of state taxes on teacher's retirement pay and an amendment of the Monroe fireman's pension bill calling for, among other things, raises in the amount of the pension. The firemen's bill will also be introduced in the house, Wall said.

Both Sparks and Wall announced that numerous other bills were scheduled to be introduced to their separate legislative bodies, but stated that they would probably be introduced later in the week.

Wall also commented last night on the Ouachita parish delegation as a whole. "I'm very proud of the relationship and spirit of cooperation which the members of this delegation hold with each other," he said. "We plan to put up a solid front to represent Ouachita parish and work together to get things that are needed in Ouachita parish."

Sparks also commented that all three legislators from Ouachita parish were working for the same ends. "We have had several meetings to discuss what we plan to do in our separate legislations," said Sparks, "and most of the time we were in agreement on everything."

Wall added that he was looking forward to cooperating with Governor Robert Kennon while the legislature was in session, and added that he hoped Kennon would live up to his promises not to fire anyone "that does a day's work for a day's pay."

Graft Case Takes Ominous Turn

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—An undertone of terror appeared in the graft case of five policemen today with an ugly telephoned threat to the prosecutor and the beating up of his star witness' brother.

Victor J. Herwitz, assistant city corporation counsel, said he received the anonymous call at his home this morning.

Only hours before, Jackie Gross, 24, said he was beaten up on a dark street by two men as a warning to his brother, bookie Harry Gross, to stop testifying about payments to police.

A police guard was assigned immediately to Herwitz and his family and to young Gross, who is single.

Both reprisal measures were "all of a piece," Herwitz said.

'Largest Family' Entries Pour In

Entries are beginning to come in for the largest family's royal day of entertainment, sponsored jointly by the Paramount Theatre and News-Star—World. The single requirement on entries is that the entrant must be a parent of at least 12 children. Deadline for entries is midnight tomorrow, May 12.

The contest is being held in conjunction with the showing of the film, "Belles on Their Toes" at the Paramount beginning Wednesday. The film is a sequal to "Cheaper by the Dozen," the story of the Gilbreth family. Stars in the new film are Myrna Loy, Jeanne Crain, Debra Paget and Edward Arnold.

Winners in the contest, the largest family, will be guests of the Paramount theatre at the first showing of "Belles on Their Toes." They will also be treated to lunch or dinner at Primos' Restaurant and the recipients of a baskket of groceries from Brice's Super Market.

Entries must be in the form of letters stating the number of children in the family and addressed to "Belles on Their Toes" Contest, Paramount Theatre, Monroe. All families in Ouachita parish are eligible.

Only families of 12 or more children are eligible in this search for Ouachita parish's largest clan, Melvin Greenblatt, manager of the theatre, said.

All families entering the contest will be guests for the showing of the film, Greenblatt said.

Dr. Williamson Due To Address Cattleman's Unit

Also invited to the address are members of similar organizations throughout this area.

Dr. Williamson is being brought to Monroe by Charles McKenzie and John Birdsong, members of the association. He is expected to speak of the advances being made in the control insects.

Born in Angleton, Tex., Dr. Williamson was brought up in the cattle business with his father manager of a ranch. He attended high school in El Paso and received a BA degree from Western College in 1942. His masters and doctors degrees were received from Columbia University in 1944 and 1946 respectively. Following service with the armed forces, he worked with E. I. DuPont de Nemours as a research chemist.

Thumbnail History of Monroe

Established as Fort Miro in 1875 by Don Juan Filhiol

First called "Prairie des Canots"

Filhiol's house located on spot now in middle of Ouachita River due to fact that stream has changed its course.

Incorporated as town of Monroe in 1820.

Monroe became a city May 1, 1871.

Under administration of Dr. A. A. Forsythe, mayor, a municipal waterworks was installed and also a municipal electric light plant purchased and much enlarged.

First discovery of the world's largest gas field was in 1916.

MARK 25 YEARS IN NURSING SICK

St. Francis Class Of 1927 Holds Celebration On May 6

Miss Edith Faris was hostess to the 1927 Graduating Class of St. Francis Sanitarium, at her home on May 6, in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of their graduation.

Miss Faris received her guests in a frock of silver faille trimmed with black velvet and rhinestones.

Artistic arrangements of spring flowers were placed in the reception rooms. Each guest was presented with a corsage of yellow roses, exemplifying the class colors of gold and white.

The table in the dining room was overlaid with a white linen cloth with a centerpiece of Marguerite daisies arranged in a silver bowl. Burning tapers of yellow flanked this central decor.

The place cards were miniature silver crosses, bearing the inscription, "S. F. S. 1927-1952." Before the guests were seated at the table, the Nightingale Pledge was repeated in unison.

On a side table, the Anniversary cake was displayed on a silver tray with gold and white colors predominating. The cake made in the form of an open book, was embossed in white and decorated with yellow roses and the inscription, "S. D. S. 1927-1952."

Following the dinner, a conversational hour was enjoyed by the group, who discussed events and reminiscences of the days spent in training. This was the first reunion of the class and each nurse present was asked to give the highlights of her nursing career.

Mrs. Thelma Scott Cheeseman served as class president in 1927. Soon after graduation, she was employed at Vaughan-Wright-Bendel Clinic, where she has remained since that time. At the present time she is serving as Assistant Director of the Clinic. Mrs. Cheeseman has served on the board of directors of the Louisiana Hospital Association.

Mr. Grace Cobb Cooper has been engaged in private duty nursing the entire period since her graduation. She served as the third president of St. Francis Alumni, which was organized in 1925.

Miss Edith Faris was engaged in private duty nursing for one month, then went to El Dorado, Arkansas where she served in hospital as surgical supervisor for one year. She returned to Monroe to private duty. She served as president of Monroe District Nurses' Association for seven years and treasurer of St. Francis Alumni for six years. Miss Faris also served as president of State Nurses' Association for two years and spent two years in institutional nursing. She entered the armed service in 1942 and was retired on diability.

Allyne Tarver Rogers engaged in private duty nursing for one month and began public health nursing in September 1927, and is engaged in this type of work at present time. Mrs. Rogers was the third nurse to be employed in the Ouachita Parish Health Department. She also served as president of St. Francis Alumni for one year.

Jimmie Faye Cobb Williams was engaged in private duty nursing the entire time since graduation until recently and is now on the inactive list. She served as president of the Alumni four years and as president of Monroe District Nurses' Association for six years, Mrs. Williams also served as chairman of State Private Duty Section three years, also secretary of Private Duty Section for two years.

Tiny Mae Bolling Carson was engaged in private duty nursing until 1934, after which time she was employed in Institutional work in the state of Texas, Oklahoma, Mexico and Arizona. She now resides in Jackson, Mississippi where she is doing Institutional nursing.

Alice Perkins Roy has been engaged in private duty nursing in the city of Monroe, most of the time since graduation, did Institutional work in Little Rock, Arkansas in 1929 and 1930.

Loraine Conway Strozier was employed as private duty nurse for several years, later moving to California, where she is now employed as office nurse for a physician. Mrs. Strozier was unable to attend the reunion.

Bess Easley Neel was private duty nurse for a short time. She is now employed as Ward Nurse at E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital in Monroe. Mrs. Neal was also unable to attend the reunion.

Miss Leona Biggar was an invited guest representing the former superintendent of nurses, Miss Billie Filgo, known to many others as the late Mrs. F. C. Bennett.

Miss Biggar is an honorary member of the St. Francis Alumni and Monroe District Nurses Association. She is employed at present as Record Librarian at St Francis Sanitarium, now serving in her twenty-ninth year.

Annie Harold, Negro maid, employed in nurses' quarters during the training period of the class of 1927, was invited to the reunion and assisted in serving the dinner, for the class.

The class members attending the reunion presented their hostess with a set of cocktail forks in her silver pattern.

DEFENSE AID IS SEEN ESSENTIAL

BATON ROUGE, May 10.—(Special)—The Louisiana Police Jury Association will ask the legislature to permit parishes to vote a five-mill assessment tax for Civil Defense purposes, Col. Henry A. Rougon, president, said today.

The association at its annual meeting included the Civil Defense proposal in its legislative program by unanimous approval following introduction of the motion by John J. Holtgreve, of the Jefferson Parish Police Jury.

Holtgreve, assistant director of Civil Defense in Jefferson parish, said that passage of the bill by the legislature would give parishes the option to call elections on proposed levies of up to five mills for civil defense.

Jefferson, St. Bernard and St. Charles parishes in the New Orleans metropolitan area are in the process of getting additional fire and rescue equipment by matching local and federal funds, Rougon pointed out. He said that training and educational equipment are available on the same basis to other Louisiana communities.

Meanwhile State director of Civil Defense Douglas L. Manship said that the Federal Civil Defense Administration is expected on the basis of past allocations to make approximately $875,000 available to Louisiana communities for equipment, training and operations on a matching funds basis for the 1952-1953 fiscal year. The state director said that if the funds are made available by Congress it is expected to be allocated to Louisiana as follows:

Training and education, $87,000; attack warning system, $83,000; communications, $104,000; fire fighting, $379,000; rescue services, $220,000.

Manship said the move could mean the survival of our people by focusing local attention on civil defense and putting it on a par with other community protective services such as public health, police and fire.

"Civil defense is primarily a local responsibility although guidance, assistance and some funds and supplies are available from the state and federal civil defense organizations," Manship emphasized.

"If we are to give our people something beside a pamphlet with which to defend themselves against natural disasters or enemy attack, we must have the funds necessary to train and equip them," declared the state director.

He added that "most of the civil defense directors in the state are busy community leaders who have contributed their time because they believe something should be done to prepare to meet emergencies. However, the growing responsibilities in civil defense mean that more fulltime leadership must be provided to train and direct local volunteers."

RANSOM SCHOOL PLAY CONDUCTED

Winning Room In Intramural Contests Is Given Loving Cup

Ransom School held its annual play day celebration May 2, as the culminating activity of the physical education and citizenship programs. At that time the winning room in the intramural contests was presented with a loving cup and the best citizen of each class was given a citizenship medal at this time.

Principal speaker was Rev. Ernest Holloway, who brought an inspiring message on the importance of being a good citizen. The visitors were comfortably seated in the shade trees as they watched the varied program given by the various grades.

The queen for the day was Diane White, who was chosen by a popularity vote of the student body. Jimmy Edmiston from the eighth grade of Crosley and the four rhythm band leaders; Billy Rose Fuller, Linda Dell Cooper. Joseph Lasyone and Stewart Brown acted as heralds for the queen's court, announcing her arrival with trumpet and tambourines.

The attending maids marched down the field holding flower-decked arches through which the honored students passed. The maids were Kay Nichols, Peggy Conrad, Gail Hightower, Diane Bennett, Betty Warren, Patricia May, Betty Ann Gibbs, Rosemary Sones, Virginia Watson, and Shirley Gardinia.

The queen was preceded by her maid of honor, Claudine Dempsey, carrying the crown. The beautiful little queen wearing a bouffant gown of white organdy, marched regally to the throne which was advantageously placed on a porch. There she was met by the principal of Ransom School, Mrs. Tina Clark, who placed the crown on her head.

The best citizens of each room came down the field taking their places before the throne. There they were met by one of their parents who pinned the citizenship medals on them. Those receiving this honor were: Judy Hilburn from Mrs. Matthew's first grade; Floyd Allen from Mrs. Sones' first grade; Katherine Oglesbee from Mrs. Davis' second grade; Minnie Quarles from Mrs. Poimboeuf's second grade; Bonnie Clark from Mrs. Edmiston's third grade; Patricia Robinson from Mrs. McKinney's third grade; Betty Joyce Oglesbee from Mrs. Osborn's fourth grade; Jimmy Quarles from Mrs. White's fourth grade; Rosemary Sones from Miss Southall's fifth grade; and Joanna Massey from Mrs. Simpson's fifth grade.

The winners of the physical education program next received their awards. Yvonne Allen, president of Miss Southall's class accepted the loving cup as first place award for her room. Leroy Mecon, an outstanding player received the third place award for Mrs. Davis's class and Cora Lenard, another outstanding player, accepted the second place award for Mrs. Edmiston's class.

The following program was then given to demonstrate the varied activities used in the physical education program:

Rhythm band, second grades (2 sections).

Singing games, Belinda and The Texas Schostite, first grades.

Sack race, third grades.

Calisthenics, Mrs. White's fourth grade.

Rooster fight, Mrs. William's sixth grade.

Texas Star, Mrs. Cloutier's sixth grade.

At the conclusion of the program, the faculty held open house for the visitors and student body. Punch, cookies, candies and salted nuts were served in the newly completed cafetorium. Mrs. William and her sixth grade girls had charge of serving.

The new stage curtain was shown at this meeting having been installed only a few days previously.

DELTA WILL BE FORESTRY HOST

13,000 Acre Tract Will Be Viewed North Of Greenville

STONEVILLE, Miss., May 10.—(Special)—Over 150 foresters from Louisiana, Texas, and Mississippi will inspect hardwood forestry practiced by Old Man River on May 22-23 when the Delta plays host once again to woodsmen interested in the spectacular performance of Delta bottomland hardwoods.

The foresters will convene at Greenville for the annual meeting of the Gulf States Section of the Society of American Foresters. This past October, Delta woodlands were inspected by mid-south bankers, lumber company executives, landowners, and foresters who studied the possibilities of the rapidly growing hardwoods.

To be highlighted at the forthcoming meeting of foresters from three states will be a close inspection of a 13000-acre tract of mixed hardwoods inside the Mississippi River levees at Indian Point, 30 miles north of Greenville. The forests to be toured is a portion of some two million acres of hardwood timber domain between the levees along the Mississippi from Cape Girardeau, Mo., to Baton Rouge, La.

Explained to the visiting foresters will be the peculiar set of conditions that exists in the river-controlled lands between the levees. The conditions existing point toward wood as the continuing principal crop of the area. The conditions also stimulate top hardwood production rates.

Twenty miles of roadway is being bulldozed through the woodland to accommodate the touring foresters. The tract is famous for both its timber resources and the wild game management practiced there. It is owned by several private lumber interests and managed as a gameland by the Merigold Hunting Club.

The Anderson-Tully Co. of Memphis and Vicksburg, which owns half the tract to be toured, is making the road preparations at the tour site under the direction of its chief forester, W. E. Houser of Memphis. Chicago Mill & Lumber Co. and the U. S. Gypsum Co. of Greenville are cooperating in making arrangements for the tour.

The field trip will be conducted the first day of the annual meeting. On the second day, a morning session will be held at the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville. There a paper will be presented by Carl Maisenhelder, U. S. forester headquartered at the station. His paper will be a summary of planting and growing cottonwood in the Mississippi Delta. M. D. Buckels, southern field representative of the National Hardwood Lumber Association, will discuss criteria for log and lumber values.

Other Delta foresters assisting in preparations for the tour include Ed Grau, Hal Moore, Walt Guyer, and Monty Payne of Greenville John A. Putnam and J. S. McKnight of Stoneville, and Keith Cranston of Leland.

FARMERVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Rabun Marsh of Hobbs, New Mexico, are visiting Mrs. Marsh's parents, Mr. and Taylor Brantley.

Mrs. Griffin Odom went to New Orleans Sunday for medical treatment. She has been a patient at the Ruston Hospital for the past several days. She was accompanied to New Orleans, by Mr. Odom and her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. B. Odom.

Mrs. Tom Byrd and daughter, Miss Tommye Jean, of Vicksburg, Miss., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hydell of Pascagoula, Miss. spent the Easter holidays in Farmerville with their mother, Mrs. Guy Hicks.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

BY J. Paul Hewitt

Sometimes the later years are lonely ones. With family grown and time for rest, there sometimes seem to be too many hours to fill each day. We're speaking to you folks who've retired from active professional business life. We know that many of you are looking for healthy, wholesome hobbies to help you get a bigger kick out of life . . . to make you feel that you've worked all these years for solid enjoyment. Right here we can say . . . there's nothing to beat music.

Yes . . . MUSIC . . . the actual playing and enjoyment of an instrument. You'll be surprised to see how much pleasure it will give you to learn your favorite pieces on a guitar . . . a band instrument or a piano. It's never too late to start learning. Modern methods of teaching make it easy to "catch on". There'll be no difficulty in any way with lessons and practice. We'll be glad to talk to you anytime . . . to help you select your instrument and help you choose a competent instructor. Come in and see us for that "new lease on life."

Residents of this area are delighted to know that Twin City Concerts, Inc., is to enjoy its greatest season so far. Already booked are James Melton and Boston "Pops" Symphony Orchestra.

The piano is the most popular shortcut to the world of music. And when you have a competent instructor, you'll see how rewarding each lesson becomes. . . It's a wonderful feeling of accomplishment to have a favorite tune take form under your fingers. It's creative, it's exciting . . . The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, styled with yoke and bodice of imported Chantilly lace, long pointed sleeves, and full skirt terminating in a sweeping train. Her veil of double illusion fell from a small satin cap, and she carried a white orchid with a shower of stephanotis and ribbon on a white prayer book.

A reception in the Parish House followed the ceremony. The bride's mother wore a pink lace dress with white accessories and the mother of the bridegroom chose blue crepe with white accessories. Both wore orchid corsages. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ardon Wolfgang, Mrs. H. F. Benson, Mrs. Kingston of Fort Collins, Miss Winnie Franklin, Miss Billie Lacey and Mrs. Glenn Tusler.

White and yellow snapdragon and pussy willows decorated the room and bouquets of sweet peas and ferns were placed on the bride's table. The double ring wedding cake was centered with an arch of sweet peas.

After a wedding trip to Brunswick, Ga., via the southern coastal route, the couple will reside in Brunswick, where the bridegroom is stationed at the U.S.N.A.A.S., Glynco, Brunswick. For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue suit, trimmed in white stitching, pink flowered hat and pink accessories.

Over the gifts, and suspended from a chandelier, was a lovely parasol of pink tulle.

The table in the glassed in sun parlor was laid with an exquisite lace cloth. There was a huge centerpiece of pink roses, while on either side tall, pink tapers carried satin streamers to the miniature bride and groom effectively placed at one end of the table.

Delicious punch, sandwiches, embossed cakes and mints, were served.

Miss Mary Hopkins, presided over the guest book.

Out-of-town guests attending the shower were Miss Marilyn Morgan and Mrs. M. E. Thornberry of Bastrop, Miss Nell Maroney of Shreveport, Miss Alma Burk and Miss Morlo Burk of Ruston, Miss Jane Miller, Monroe, Mrs. Ruth Gill, Camden, Arkansas, Mrs. K. D. Lankford of Haile.

The Home Shift By Mildred Swift

Here's a quick, easy recipe for peanut brittle, using unparched nuts.

1 cup sugar, 1 cup raw peanuts shelled, 1/3 cup Karo, 1-3 cup water 1 pinch salt, 1 teaspoon soda.

Mix everything except soda cook for 20 minutes or until slightly brown. Remove from fire, stir in soda. Pour on a buttered pan.

Mrs. Audrey Dawson gave me this recipe and it is really delicious, quick and easy to make.

Garden Notes

You've all heard of the African Violets Mrs. R. M. Kettenring has been raising for several years. It seemed that she had the magic hand, but when I talked to Velma, she said her success was due to her soil and fertilizer recipes. She graciously gave me these so that I could pass them on to you. For soil she uses 1-3 oak leaf mold (or peat moss) 1-3 dirt from compost pile and 1-3 sand. Mrs Kettenring says it is very important to bake this soil for one hour at a low temperature to kill harmful bacteria. Even if you buy ready-mixed African Violet soil, Velma says this too should be baked.

The fertilizer formula used by the grower is:

1 Tablespoon Household Ammonia 1 Teaspoon Epsom Salts, 1 Teaspoon Baking Powder 1 Tablespoon Saltpeter, 1 Gallon of water — Shake well and put 1 teaspoon per pot each week, of course, always watering from the bottom.

Mrs. Kettenring lives at 205 Smith Street and will be glad to have you visit her and see her rare collection of African Violets. She may (possibly) sell you one.

Several weeks ago when we were touring gardens, I saw a beautiful little blue flower in Mrs. N. A. Jardine's garden in West Monroe. Blue always catches my eye because as I've said before, we have so few blue flowers. Many told us the flower was Willow Amsonia.

There were dozens of the two foot plants filled with panacles of blue flowers. The grower said that in the fall the stems are filled with milkweed like pods. The flower blooms in May and June and needs dividing in the fall. Call Mrs. Jardine for more information if you're interested.

Morris Haas called me in his place of business to show a lovely pure yellow rose. The variety was Mrs. E. P. Thom but Morris says he still thinks the Eclipse is the best yellow. Morris not only goes in for fine roses but has a small garden that is producing corn, beans and English peas. That's something we all could do to help on the food budget that we talk about so much.

Don't forget that power mower will respond to a little attention. Stale gas left in the tank loses it's punch, spark plugs get dirty, the engine gets gummed up. Plugs need cleaning every 100 hours of operation. Flush the old crank case oil and put in new, fresh supply of the correct grade. Replace oil after 25 hours of operation. Dull blades often damage grass.

Television Is A—Coming

Yes — Everybody is talking it. Mr. Noe and Mr. Goldman seem to think we'll be getting our favorite programs on television by late Fall —over KNOE.

I'm already planning demonstrations to give you, so send me suggestions you have. My first television show will be on proper placing and lighting to get the best results from your set. I'd love to work with you Commercial people who are going to sell television sets, so we can all be talking the same way.

This Home Shift was shifted from last Sunday's paper to Wednesday's. Sunday is the regular day for this column, though, so goodby — I'll see you again next Sunday.

P. S. On your afternoon drive be sure to go to the Pittard day lily farm and see the purple lily in bloom as well as thousands of others growing on the hillsides — turn right just past the Dixie Tourist Court on Highway 80, West Monroe. The McGee, Averette Easter lily garden 803 Trenton, West Monroe is another sight long to be remembered.

Mrs. Herman Aehle Honors Two Houseguests At Tea

Mrs. Leon Aehle And Mrs. D. D. Allbritton Feted At Lovely Afternoon Event

Mrs. Herman Aehle introduced her charming houseguests, Mrs. Leon Aehle, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. D. D. Allbritton, of Hammond, La., to fifty guests during the tea hours Tuesday afternoon.

The hostess' suburban home situated in Edgewater Gardens on the bayou provided the setting for the lovely affair which was marked by beauty and gracious hospitality. Mrs. Earl Morin greeted the guests at the entrance of the garden and invited them into the house where Mrs. Jesse Heard extended welcome on the sunporch which had brass containers of day lilies and Dutch Iris to add color.

In the reception room stood Mrs. Herman Aehle, in an afternoon dress of printed silk with which she wore a corsage of yellow roses. She presented her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leon Aehle, attired in a toast colored frock with black accents and a corsage of sweet peas in shades of pink. Mrs. Albritton wore black sheer and had pinned at her throat pink roses. The mantel, forming a background for the receiving line, held an exquisite antique china bowl containing bearded iris. On the desk were magnolias in a cut glass bowl with other unusual pieces of cut glass forming an interesting grouping. Other arrangements of artistry were placed throughout the house.

Inviting guests into the dining room was Mrs. Earl Hitt. On the buffet a silver and crystal epergne contained white American Beauty and Summer Snow Floribunda roses and in matching hurricane lamps burned white candles. The tea table held on its polished surface a silver bowl of snapdragons, delphinium and shell pink radiance roses, and a handsome silver service presided over by Mrs. Jimmie Harper. Mrs. W. Tom Davis and Mrs. DeWitt Henry assisted in the dining room courtesies, serving a variety of delectable sandwiches and confections.

The guests lingered during the late afternoon hours in the gardens which slope down toward the bayou, forming conversational groups under the stately trees.

The boat trip to Miss Dalgarn was a wonderful vacation trip within itself, with brunch at 11 a. m., lunch at 1 p. m., tea at 4 p. m. and a square dance from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock and from 8:30 until 10 p.m. they were entertained with bingo and wooden horse races, and dancing from 10 p.m. until 3 a.m.

London was their first stop with the group having tea with Queen Elizabeth. They also toured the American Embassy in London and visited Westminster Abbey and saw several plays. While in London they also saw the Crown Jewels and saw the Archbishop of Canterberry open the Lenten season.

From London they went to Madrid. Here Walter Mae met her pen pal, Ramon Iglesis. Ramon and Walter Mae have been corresponding since high school.

The next stop was Luzon, Switzerland, where they joined the group from Columbia University to attend school. While in Switzerland the group enjoyed skiing.

Rome was the most interesting place they visited on their tour. Here they saw Pope Pius XII, the Catacombs, Colosseum, and the Pantheon. Walter Mae had her picture made with the Pope and an audience. They were in Florence, Italy on St. Joseph's Day. On this day the food cannot be eaten until it has been blessed by the Priest.

In Florence they saw the beautiful leather goods and embroidery. In Milam they saw the LaTasca House where the most famous opera in the world was held.

In Brussells they saw the beautiful lace for which it is noted. Then to Paris where they visited Notre Dame and the old Opera Houses. Here she met General Wilken B. Persons, brother of the Rev. Frank Persons of Bastrop. General Persons is the special advisor to the Supreme European Commander, General Dwight Eisenhower. They had lunch at S. H. A. P. Headquarters and were conducted through Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters.

They also visited Germany, Norway, Holland, Sweden, and Venice which were all very interesting. In Venice, Walter Mae stated that the streets were of water and the only transportation in this city was by boats on gondolas. Here they witnessed the Communist demonstration to Trieste Americans.

On the return trip the boat was fog bound at the mouth of the Hudson for nine hours and later came in by radar.

Twin City Council Of Church Women Have Fellowship Day

Mrs. George Sexton, Jr. Is Guest Speaker At Luncheon Held At Episcopal Parish House

May Fellowship Day was presented by the Christian Social Relations Committee of the Twin City United Council of Church Women in the Parish House of Grace Episcopal Church on Friday, May 2, for a 12:30 luncheon.

Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, president, graciously welcomed the members and women from all churches in the Twin Cities. The Invocation was given by Mrs. Fagan Cox, hostess president of the Episcopal Women's Organization.

Mrs. Robert Wood rendered a beautiful solo, "Resurrection," and was accompanied by Mrs. Felix Willey at the piano.

Mrs. George Sexton, Jr., of Shreveport, spoke on "Spiritual Security For Today's Families." Mrs. Sexton expressed her belief that spiritual values and spiritual security were and are the most important things in life. "If one has it, thank God; if one doesn't have it, then seek it," said Mrs. Sexton. "This should be handed down to one's children. All of us want to be economically secure—secure from ill health, and we want to possess a security that protects one from communism. The key to a good world is spiritual security. Families are changing from the old collective system, as in the Orient, and are shifting now to the system of individualism, each person standing on his own. Russia has done something to family life. Young people want to exercise their own rights to freedom, emancipation to live their own lives. Men, as fathers, should be accepting, more than ever before, that they, too, are responsible for the spiritual development in the home. It takes both parents in this changing world to keep a home alive physically, financially and spiritually. The trends in the homes of today are a swing back to larger families, and the larger family is making for a more cooperative family, for it teaches one how to get along with other people. A cooperative, democratic, Christian family sets the pattern. There is a desperate need to effect something to give stability to the home of today. There are from 150,000 to 200,000 children affected annually by divorce. In the United States children in broken homes lack security, with statistics showing that 100,000 youths come annually before the police. Records show that a large per cent of our veterans gave way to mental breakdowns because of lack of discipline of their emotions. The world is in too big a hurry; no time for anyone anymore; no time for living. Junior high school age children are expressing themselves in wanting to see more of their parents. The home is the pattern that can make for a good world. Certain principles underly a democratic, Christian home, i.e.: give every member of the family a sense of belonging; give each one a share in the chores and responsibilities; each person should be willing to sacrifice personal advantages if it will help advance the solidarity of the home. The best education for the children is the family conversation in the home. Most of the time it centers around the weather, food, or stocks and bonds, and leaves out goodness and spirituality. There should be an abundance of good, wholesome recreation and fun, together, as well as worshiping together. We should let our religion be more a part of the daily lives of the members of the family. As long as we have Christian homes, we can build this nation back to as great a nation as it was in the beginning."

A self-evaluation chart was given to each one present to check upon personally. The title of the chart was "Am I Helping To Create Spiritual Security In My Home?"

Mrs. Metcalf called on the chairmen of the various committees under Christian Social Relations for mention of outstanding accomplishments for the year through the Council. Special commendation was afforded the committee effecting such wonderful work for the boys at the Louisiana Training Institute.

The day's program closed with the following prayer repeated in unison. The prayer is used nationally by council women, and was composed by a local member, Mrs. E. C. Gibson.

"Bind us in fellowship
God, this we pray;
Give us wisdom and courage
Lest we fail in our duties today;
With this spirit as our Leader
All our hearts shall be as one;
God, grant us fellowship
With thy dear Son.
Amen."

YRG'S

The YRG's held their regular supper-program meeting on Monday. The dining tables were decorated with the May Day motif: May Poles, May flowers, and candles. After a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Hundley, assisted by Norma Geiger and Frances McClary, the girls held their meeting with Helen Crosby presiding. The devotional on "God Is Love" was given by Helen. A new member, Nell Furr, was welcomed.

On Wednesday night a group of the YRG'S and Mrs. Hundley went to Columbia to visit with one of the former YRG members: Mrs. Marcille Alger Hester.

Y-Teens

On Wednesday afternoon the Jolly Y Janes' Club held a special meeting to honor their mothers. Sara Cloud read the devotional on "Mothers". Mrs. E. P. Cudd was the guest speaker and she gave two very interesting and entertaining short stories from "Ted Malone's Collection of short stories." The girls introduced their mothers and guests. Jean Doncer and Loreita Maxwell gave a report on the May Day Party the club had sponsored. After the business meeting over which Ann Hebert, president, presided the group were served Coca Colas and cookies.

"What Y-Teens Means and What I have Gotten out of Y-Teens this Year" has been the basis for a discussion in many of the clubs of Y-Teens. Some of the things that the girls have said: "I got out of Y-Teens better manners; I have met many new girls, made lots of friends and learned how to get along with people. I have learned to be a better citizen because I have been a Y-Teen. I have learned that even though I am not old enough to vote there are ways of being a good citizen in my community now. Y-Teens have enriched my life so much. I have learned how to get over being so shy. I have learned to get along with people. I have felt I really belonged to a group and was important even though I did not hold an office. I have learned how to work together with other girls in a group. I have learned how to cooperate and to get along with many different types of girls, with many people, and with adults who work with us and who come to make talks to our groups. Y-Teens gave me information on the career of newspaper-writing. Y-Teens helps girls who are lonely and shy to know how to meet girls and boys and have fun. Y-Teens means making friends with girls of all ages. Many other comments and thoughts from the girls have shown that the groups have meant a lots to the girls of this community and the money and time which you invest through your YWCA and the Community Chest are invested in the lives of the people of this community and that you are building for the future of your community."

The Y-Teens of the Monroe YWCA visited the Y-Teens of the Shreveport, Louisiana, YWCA at the Y Camp Margaret in observance of National YWCA Week, The Y-Teens who went to Shreveport were: Lillian Roddy and Willie Mae Flanigan of the Honest Injuns' Club; Ann Hebert, Emma Jean Hall, Jean Doncer, Edna Jean Berry, Nettie Bacle, Dorothy Barr, Mary Lee Balch, Barbara Goodwin from the Jolly Y Janes' Club; Shirley McGowen, Gloria Boothe, Norma Sue Trainer, and Beverly McClain from the Blue Sharps' Club; Vera Mason from the Y-Ettes' Club; Margaret Ballard and Penny Foster from the Onwego Club; Jo Trichel, Betty Redding and Dot Thomas from the Tri-U Club; Delores Delaselle and Jerry Bordelon from the Selman School Club; Jimmie Sebrun, Marilyn Tippen, Jo Hemphill, Jackie Joyner, Betty Bennett, Elna Terrell, Catherine Funderburk, Barbara Sue Crain, Mildred Haley, Carol Saterfiel, from the Blue Triangle Club at Lenwil School; and Pat Worley, Bonnie DeFee, Ruby Dean, Ann Jenkins, Sue Storey, Lucille Howard, Martha Sue Sugden, Jalna May, Katie Singleton, Alice Morrison, Jo Eileen Watts, Sue Masters, Alice Wood, Donna Rhea Welch and Donna Rose Hildabridle from the Ouachita Parish Grammar Be Y's Club.

The Sophomore Y-Teens sponsored a May Day Party for all Y-Teens at the Recreation Center. Lora Jean Willis was crowned Queen of the May Party by Syble McKay who was the Queen for 1951. Maids were: Mary Jane Dreasler, Betty Case, Edna Jean Berry, and Charlene Miller.

Bonhomie Book Club Meets With Mrs. L. H. Leverett

Mrs. George Forman Reviews 'The Scandalous Mrs. Blackford' At Meeting

Mrs. L. H. Leverett was hostess to members of the Bonhomie Club when they met recently in her home. Beautiful spring flowers were placed at vantage points for the occasion.

The vice-president, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, called the meeting to order and led the group in the reading of the club collect. The roll was called and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. H. M. Rhodes. A bulletin of "Louisiana Library Statistics" was given by Mrs. Warren Breard. Defense chairman, Mrs. W. D. McGee, distributed a pamphlet, "You Can Help Prevent Inflation," to each member present.

The club's Bernstein Park project representative, Mrs. George Forman, gave a very interesting account of a recent meeting with this group. At this time the club discussed plans for selecting a project.

Mrs. Robert Irby, gave a report on plans for the annual meeting. It was voted by the group to have a barbeque on Saturday, May 24th at the home of Mrs. Hoskins.

Due to the absence of Mrs. Roland Waldroup, who was to review "The Scandalous Mrs. Blackford," Mrs. Forman gave an engrossed resume of the fabulous story.

The hostess then served a delicious salad plate to the following members: Mrs. W. D. McGee, Mrs. Warren Breard, Mrs. Robert Irby, Mrs. O. C. Lanier, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Mrs. George Forman and Mrs. H. M. Rhodes.

Life Magazine Shows Fire-Fighter Elliott

Life magazine, May 12 issue, displays a story with pictures entitled "Life Visits Fire Fighting Jelly Elliott," who lives at Haile La. a short distance from Monroe.

The story features the home atmosphere of Jelly Elliott who is the recording star for the United States Forestry Commission. He makes tape recordings of what he calls his "country type singing" and also delivers a message on forestry asking his listeners to help prevent forest fires.

A story on the Life photographer and staff writer who were in Monroe at Northeast Louisiana State College where some of the recordings were made appeared in the Monroe News-Star — World along with pictures the latter part of 1951.

Girl Scout News

Perhaps it was inspired by the nearness of Mother's Day we don't know, but anyway, the mother-daughter dinner and Court-of Awards held by Troop 1 at the Rendezvous Friday night seems to have been quite a success. This group of seventh grade girls under the leadership of Mrs. R. E. Harrell, is completing its third year of Scouting, with most of the girls nearing First Class Rank.

The leader awarded proficiency badges to the following girls of the troop: Carolyn Clark, Beverly Hallsell, Gladys Hallsell, Martha Harper, Anne Harrell, Carolyn Knight, Susan Moore, Sue Weir.

Well, the elements conspired against the camp rally last Friday, first with heat and then with a down pour. In spite of that and other things that went wrong, a large crowd enjoyed seeing camp movies. And, of course, more than fifty girls were present to receive their '52 pins. The thanks of the camp committee go to Bill Heffernan, John L. Overton, and to the Harold Breards for helping with arrangements.

Before the news gets to be all about out of doors and camping, let us record that Troop 6's learn-to-knit project came to a successful conclusion. Mrs. Clyde Butler reports that the girls completed seven afghan squares for the Red Cross. Pretty good for Brownies! Since twice that number of girls hold membership in the troop, there must have been a few for whom two long needles and a ball of yarn presented too much of a problem. That's understandable. Those hobo stoves we told you about have really proved popular. Troop 35 hiked to the home of Mrs. W. M. Emmons at their last meeting, where they made ice cream by the old-fashioned cranking method and also baked individual gingerbread cakes on their hobo ovens. Since growing girls are always ready for a snack after school, we daresay this was a most popular activity.

Even a casual observer notices that the humps and bumps that used to be noticeable around the camp site have disappeared, thanks to Mr. H. E. Rabun who sent the nicest crew of workmen with a small tractor to do the leveling. Aren't we glad Midge and Mrs. Rabun are Scouts?

The Scouts can record another nice gift from Troop 7, Mrs. C. L. Gilbert and Mrs. Mildred Irvin, leaders. These girls bought 3 serving trays, a meat platter and a vegetable dish in blue plastic, and an aluminum pitcher for camp. Now that the weather is hot, most camping groups will serve their noon meal indoors and will make good use of the aforesaid items.

A group of the '52 Club on Friday night and Troop 4 last night are the campers for this week end. Mrs. N. L. Huckabee and Mrs. E. W. Lockhart are in charge of the latter group. We've heard that highlights of their plans are a Court of Awards at the evening campfire and making ice cream for Sunday dinner. The Scouts have aquired a freezer with day camp in mind, but troops may borrow it too.

We ought to hear some interesting sidelights on the weekend to pass on to our readers — Happy Camping!

Gray Lady Activities

The Gray Ladies of the St. Joseph Home are happy to report that with the help of the Happiness Exchange they were able to secure a Movie projecter and plan to rent or borrow films for showing pictures to the guests.

On the 5th day of April the Gray Ladies held a rummage sale down in five points and it was a big success regardless of the cold weather, we had. We wish to thank each and everyone that donated rummage and helped in anyway, as you know these sales help to give parties and do different things for the aged in all the homes.

The Gray Ladies hearts were saddened by Gods calling two of the guests. Several Gray Ladies attended the funeral and flowers were sent.

Several Gray Ladies worked many hours on the Fund campaign and the Bloodmobile this month.

The third Monday of April was the Birthday party for the guests whose birthdays were during the month and beautiful corsages were given the ladies and birthday cakes and drinks of their choice were served. The bed-ridden patients were remembered also.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met in the Church sanctuary on Tuesday, May 6, at 3 p.m. for the last business meeting of the year.

An inspiring meditation "The Bread of Life" was given by Mrs. R. E. E. Jones.

Candidate For Re-Election

Commissioner Streets & Parks

Having had the good fortune of being your Commissioner of Streets and Parks for the past four years, and as we near election day, I want to take this opportunity of soliciting the vote and support of all the voters of the City of Monroe.

First, I assure you that I am an independent candidate. I am under no obligation to any organization, group, or individual. I have not solicited nor received funds from anyone for my campaign, so I am able to assure the voters of Monroe, that if you re-elect me to the office I now hold, that I shall be able to perform the duties of Commissioner of Streets and Parks obligated only to the people of our city.

During my tenure of office, I sought to accomplish those things which I pledged to do for the people some four years ago, and I wish to present to you the following accomplishments:

(1) Approximately 30 miles of streets in the City of Monroe have been blacktopped.

(2) Approximately 12 miles of new streets have been opened.

(3) Approximately 60 blocks of new alleys have been opened.

(4) Some 2500 drive-way and street intersection culverts have been installed.

(5) North Third and North Fourth Streets have been widened from Louisville Avenue to Washington Street.

(6) The intersection at Jackson Street and Layton Avenue have been widened.

(7) I have cooperated with the City Council in improving the power plant, the water plant, sanitary sewers and the laying of larger water mains, and the general improvement of fire department facilities.

(8) I cooperated in the construction of the new baseball park and am in favor of lending every assistance towards the construction of a park for the Little League.

In offering mysef as a candidate for re-election I intend to propose the following improvements.

(1) Open a street to run parallel with Louisville Avenue to take care of increased traffic conditions.

(2) Straighten out the intersection at Catalpa, Layton and South Second Streets.

(3) Continuance of the blacktopping program throughout the City.

(4) Blacktop streets in Bernstein Park.

(5) Eliminate the boulevard from South Fifth to South Sixth Streets on Layton Avenue.

(6) I will remain as before, to be opposed to the sale or lease of our power plant.

In again offering myself as a candidate for re-election to office of Commissioner of Streets and Parks, I pledge to all the people of the City of Monroe a continuance of diligent work, honest attention to the duties of my office, and a fair and impartial administration of the affairs of my office towards the betterment of a greater City of Monroe.

You can swing it if you try

HAVE you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflow Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power—and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that—when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars"—you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

And brother, will that make your family happy!

LOVELY APRIL BRIDE

Mrs. Spear W. Titsworth, the former Georgia Ann Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Rowe, of this city, whose marriage was solemnized Saturday, April 26th at the Chidester Baptist Church in Chidester, Ark. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Spear Titsworth of El Dorado, Ark.

Miss Georgia Ann Rowe Becomes Bride Of Spear W. Titsworth

Chidester Baptist Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double Ring Ceremony

One of the loveliest weddings of the spring season was that of Miss Georgia Ann Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Rowe, of this city, when she became the bride of Spear W. Titsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Spear Titsworth, of El Dorado, Ark.

The marriage was solemnized at the Chidester Baptist Church in Chidester, Ark., April 24 at four o'clock in the afternoon, with the Rev. Pat Titsworth, brother of the groom, officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive ceremony before the altar which was beautifully decorated with branched candelabra holding slender white tapers and floor baskets of white stock and fern.

Miss Carolyn Benton, of Adkadelphia, Ark., organist, played several selections and accompanied Mrs. W. E. Shankle, also of Arkadelphia, who sang, "Through The Years" and "Because".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a gown of ballerina length fashioned of white embroidered organdy over white satin with matching mitts. A strand of pearls was the bride's only jewelry. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Mary Lee Rowe, aunt of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was wearing a ballerina length gown of blue organdy over blue satin with which she wore matching mitts and headdress. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Spear Titsworth served his son as best man and ushers were Milton Ward, of El Dorado, uncle of the bridegroom, and Orvil Taylor, cousin of the bride, of Hope, Ark.

Mrs. Rowe, mother of the bride, was wearing a rose colored lace and linen dress with which she wore navy blue accessories. Her sorsage was of blue Dutch iris. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Titsworth, was wearing a light blue all over lace with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Reception

Following the marriage ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Maude Rowe, in Chidester, Ark.

The guests were greeted at the door by Miss Mary Ann Purafay. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Titsworth and members of the bridal party.

Attractive arrangements of white carnations and Dutch iris were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms. The bride's table was covered with a white damask cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations flanked by crystal candle holders with white tapers. At one end was the crystal punch bowl and placed at the other end was the lovely tiered wedding confection.

Assisting in the serving courtesies were Miss Carrin Marrow of Chidester, and Mrs. Orvil Taylor, of Hope, Ark. who presided at the cake service. Miss Nell McCargo, of Prescott, Ark., had charge of the bride's book.

For their wedding trip, the birde chose an ice blue suit with black patent leather accessories. She wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return the bridal couple will be at home in Arkadelphia, Ark., until the groom graduates from Ouachita College at the end of the present semester. The young couple will then go to New Mexico where the bridegroom will be stationed with the Missile Test Wing at Hollerman Air Force Base

The third annual Armed Forces Day will be observed Saturday May 17, 1952. "Unity-Strength-Freedom" will be the official slogan.

Curtiss Doss and his Wonder State Quartet and the Stamps-Baxter Melody Boys will be featured in a double-header concert to last about three hours.

Gospel song lovers of this area as well as those from other states will regret to hear that this will be the last appearance of Curtiss Doss and his Wonder State Quartet. The above members modeled the latest in fashions before a large group of active, inactive and life members. Junior Charity League Has Annual Homecoming Meeting

Luncheon And Style Show Held Saturday At Bayou DeSiard Country Club

An aura of springtime loveliness, permeating the specious reception halls of the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, greeted the luncheon guests at the annual May Homecoming meeting of the Junior Charity League at which provisional and active members entertained the inactive and life members and their guests with a style show. Low crystal bowls of white roses and Queen Anne's lace and green comports filled with mixed spring blossoms adorned the E-shaped luncheon tables. Mrs. John Duchkar, the league's charming president, presided over the very brief business session which consisted of reports from the treasurer and finance committee, and an account from the league's inter-club council representative, Mrs. Harry Stone, on the Bernstein Park improvement project.

Preluding the entertainment for the afternoon, Mrs. Robert Wood sang "My Sweet Alice Blue Gown" and "I'll See You Again" accompanied by Mrs. James Brothers at the piano. Mrs. Brothers continued playing soft background music which set the mood for the widely publicized style show. To the great surprise of the guests it was a very unsophisticated and humorous parody of a style show, featuring nine attractive league models wearing out-moded ensembles and mismatched combinations carefully chosen to exaggerate the comical vein of the entertainment.

The models were introduced by Mrs. Frank Breese who was wearing a floor-length model of cotton mesh in shades of orange and black featuring no sleeves and no collar with a deep V in the back. With this Mrs. Breese wore a wide red leather belt and long opera-length mitts. Her headdress was a turbin effect in coral with a big black ostrich feather close to the face.

Mrs. Fred Fudickar, the first model, wore a charming sports outfit of red faded Indian head pedal pushers, an oversized kakhi shirt, a hat of red straw with a triple bow of red and black taffeta, white golfing socks. With this she carried a shabby golf bag.

Mrs. Charles Seiss wearing an ensemble in off-white crepe trimmed in yellowed buttons on the dress and on the three-quarter length jacket. On her head she wore a rolled brim straw in off-white with cut-out crown swathed in a black veil which draped down her back caught up with two large cornflowers.

Mrs. Harry Frazer, Jr., wearing a crepe street-length dress in shades of mustard and brown. The bodice was gathered into a fitted yoke. The hem of the skirt was trimmed in green seam tape which matched the green wooden beads she wore around her neck. Her hat was Milam straw in wheat and black. Her shoes were black high-heeled vamp pumps.

Mrs. Burchel Lyles wearing a black crepe street-length frock with the new shorter-than-short hemline with an intricate side drape to the skirt. The dress featured a cut-out-necklace of rhinestones and nailheads. Mrs. Liles' hat was black straw trimmed with big pink roses. Her accessories were maroon. The high vamp maroon shoes were complimented by black fishnet hose. She carried a black and white dotted parasol. Around her neck was casually thrown a collar of brown dyed moth-eaten fur.

Mrs. Evans Ethridge, noted for her poise and ability to wear clothes well, was wearing a very short taffeta faille model in brick red with blue and white stripes. The point of interest in Mrs. Ethridge's outfit was the changeable ruffled peplum which was detachable. She wore elbow length black gloves, a hat of natural crushed straw. To add a note of distinction, Mrs. Ethridge carried an ivory cigarette holder.

Mrs. Joe Dixon wore a black cocktail dress in the new above the knee length. It was trimmed around the neck and sleeves with bewitching black lace ruffles. Mrs. Dixon's shoes were spiked heel ankle straps in black reptile. Her hat was entirely of four mammoth pink roses with green veiling sitting at a precarious angle over her eye, almost hiding her very short haircut. She wore long pink rayon knit gloves. To complete her costume Mrs. Dixon was wearing a short fur jacket of lower Slobbovian mink.

Mrs. John Burney Oakland was wearing a floor-length model of black chiffon cut on the bias and unbelted. The dress featured a big blue rose on the skirt just over the knee. The point of interest in this creation was the cut of the sleeves. They were the new long glowing bat-wing sleeves, drooping to the floor. Mrs. Oakland's headdress was a coronet of black sequins.

Mrs. Edward Holmes wore a sophisticated dinner gown of rayon jersey with a slit in the front. The skirt was black, the bodice red featuring butterfly sleeves. Extremely effective and unique was the sequined flower in Mrs. Holmes costume made into the dress at the midriff in colors of violet, blue and green. With this Mrs. Holmes wore white satin opera length mitts and a huge red velvet rose in her flowing hair. She wore a black seal skin cape and carried a graceful Japanese fan and a red satin sequined bag in her hands.

Mrs. Edwin Rowan was wearing a floor-length model of black chiffon with black lace yoke and a black satin with a high crown and a small brim and boasting a big blue plume.

Mrs. Edgar Hemphill was responsible for the great success of this unique style show.

Provisional, active, inactive and life members attending were: Mrs. John Duchkar, Mrs. Roy Johns, Mrs. Burt Sperry, Miss Magdalene Amman, Mrs. Corbin Turpin, Mrs. Edwin Rowan, Mrs. Harry L. Stone, Mrs. Bailey Grant, Mrs. J. Naida Averett, Mrs. Hoy Anders, Mrs. William Gannaway, Mrs. Charles Searcy, Mrs. Lon Heuer, Mrs. Credille Calhoun, Mrs. Merton Abington, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Atkinson, Mrs. Charles Amman, Mrs. Joe Amman, Mrs. Frank Breese, Jr., Mrs. Richard Bradley, Mrs. James Brothers, Jr., Mrs. Robert Carter, Mrs. W. Mother's Day Lunch

OATMEAL PUFFS . . . Easy to make.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If the teen - age daughters in your neighborhood want to invite their Moms to a luncheon in honor of Mother's Day (May 11,), you might help them out with a main-course recipe. Here's one that's new and glamorous enough for the occasion—Oatmeal Puffs with Ham Filling. The rolled oats in these puffs act as a binder and help to prevent the flour and shortening from separating in the initial cooking. That first cooking is an important step in the preparation of the puffs, so young cooks will want to time the cooking process and follow the recipe directions to the letter.

Oatmeal Puffs

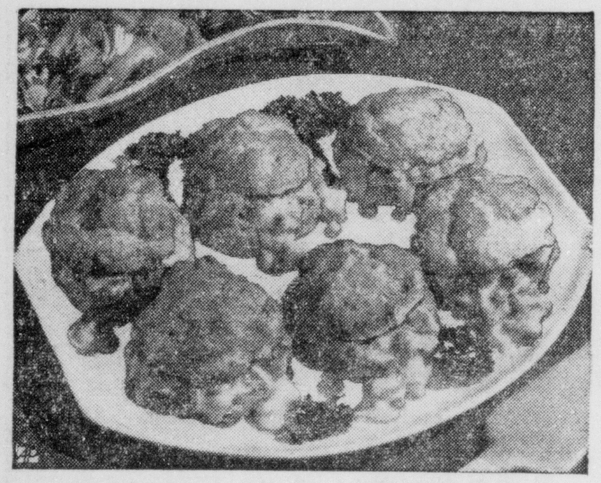

Ingredients: 1 cup hot water, ½ cup shortening, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup quick rolled oats (uncooked), ½ cup sifted flour, 3 eggs.

Method: In heavy saucepan put hot water, shortening and salt; heat to boiling. Quickly stir in rolled oats and flour. Stir vigorously over low heat for - 1½ to 2 minutes or until mixture can be formed into a ball in center of pan. Turn into bowl and add eggs, one at a time, beating vigorously after each addition; beat for 1 minute after last egg has been well combined. Drop in 8 portions on ungreased baking sheet, leaving at least 2 inches between each portion. Bake in very hot (450F.) oven 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350F.) and bake 15 to 20 minutes longer or until browned. Cut off tops, fill with Creamed Ham, then replace tops.

Creamed Ham

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 cups milk, 2 cups cooked diced ham, 1 cup drained cooked peas, ¼ cup sliced pimiento, ½ cup thin strips green pepper (if desired).

Method: Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, salt, mustard, and milk. Add ham, peas, pimiento, and (if used) the green pepper. Cook slowly 10 minutes longer, stirring offen. Use as filling for Oatmeal Puffs.

Picture Tip

If you don't want to go to the expense of framing a print, paste it to a piece of stiff ccardboard with rubber cement, coat surface with clear shellac and bind edges with passe partout tape.

A good way to use up old bath towels is to cut them up into bibs for baby. Bind with gaily colored for ties. A pocket may be added to a long bib, for toy storage.

Don't Get Trapped Accept Foe's Tip

Written for NEA Service

When the opponents are kind enough to warn you of danger, the least you can do is thank them while you adjust your course. It's plain foolishness to keep headed for the rocks that you've been warned about.

In the hand shown today, East's double of three no-trump was a crystal-clear warning. East was telling his partner to lead clubs and was practically guaranteeing that the contract would be defeated.

Opening lead—♣ 7

You needn't look at the East hand to understand what is going on in his mind. To begin with, East must have two or three clubs headed by the jack or ten. (West surely has a fairly good club suit of five or six cards, since he is vulnerable and has doubled and has then run to two clubs.) East must also have some fast winner, probably an ace.

South should therefore foresee exactly what did happen at three no-trump. West opened a low club, and East's ten forced out South's queen. Scuth then went after the hearts, but East promptly took the ace of hearts and led another club. The defenders took four clubs, a spade, and a heart, collecting a penalty of 500 points.

Obviously, South should have bid four hearts when he got doubled at three no-trump. Dummy had re-doubled and had raised hearts, so dummy would surely show up with at least an ace and a couple of queens.

South would have made four hearts without even breathing fast. The result would have been a gain of 620 points instead of a loss of 500 points. As a matter of fact, East might have doubled four hearts also, and then South would have scored 790 points instead of only 620. A tidy little difference, in either case.

Card Sense

The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 Heart
Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades Q-7-4, Hearts 6-3, Diamonds K-8-2, Clubs K-Q-J-9-8. What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. You cannot quite jump to three clubs (after your original pass) because you have neither a very powerful suit nor a good fit for partner's suit.

Your response at the level of two shows fair strength, so North will re-bid if he has a sound hand; and if he cannot re-bid the chances are that there is no game in the combined hands.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 6, Hearts Q-7-4-2, Diamonds K-J-7-4, Clubs K-9-7-5. What do you do?

ROUNDUP HELD FOR SHERROUSE

A successful summer round-up was held at Sherrouse School on Thursday when sixty - five pre-school children were examined for physical defects before entering school in September, according to Mrs. Robert George, Jr., summer round-up chairman for Sherrouse P.-T. A.

Dr. Henry Hammonds, assisted by Mrs. W. L. Wooley, public health nurse, gave each child a thorough examination. Determining any defects at this time gives the parents several months to correct them before the child starts to school.

Mrs. W. S. Vincent, principal of Sherrouse School, conducted the pre-school children on a tour of the building, stopping to visit in the kindergarten room and meet the teacher, Mrs. L. L. Price.

Mrs. George was pleased with the response of the parents who attended the clinic and gratified with the interest and enthusiasm to have their children physically ready for school. She was assisted by Mrs. M. L. Spangler, Mrs. N. L. Huckabee and Mrs. Sidney L. Williams.

DOG SAVED FROM DEATH

NEW YORK, (AP)—Skippy almost went to the gas chamber as a three-time loser.

The 2-year-old white fox terrier was on trial before a health department official, accused of biting his third victim. All seven members of his owner's family turned out to tell the judge how Skippy had saved their lives by awakening them when fire broke out in their home last December.

Then the latest "bite" victim admitted he had really only been scratched. Skippy went free.

Harnett Kane Will Speak At Writers Conference In Centenary

SHREVEPORT, May 10.—(Special)— Harnett T. Kane, one of the most prolific native Louisiana writers of today, will be a featured speaker at the Writers and Artists Conference at Centenary College here, May 29, 30, and 31.

Acthor of 11 books, all nationa, best sellers, his books have sold several million copies, have been translated, issued in special printings, reprinted and hailed by critics. Latest of these was "Gentlemen, Swords and Pistols," a description of noted duels in the south and southwest in the 1800s, which came out last fall.

Other books are "Louisiana Hayride," the rollicking saga of the Huey Long days; "Bayous of Louisiana," an affectionate portrait of the area in which, as Kane says, people live with one foot on land, another in the water; "Deep Delta Country," the weird area at which the Mississippi joins the gulf; "Plantation Parade," the fabulous story of the mansions on the river; "Natchez on the Mississippi," the full story of the city on the bluff; "New Orleans Woman," his full-bodied novel of a fantastic red - head; "Bride of Fortune," his widely applauded novel on the life of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Davis; "Queen New Orleans," which deals entirely with his native city, including material never presented in book form; "Pathway to the Stars," his romantic novel of John McDonogh and his strange destiny as New Orleans' bachelor philanthropist; "The Scandalous Mrs. Blackford," his true picture of a Scarlett O'Hara of the 1870s, a blonde who made history.

Kane is now working on a book about the beloved Dorothy Dix — "Dear Dorothy Dix." A film version and stage musical with Lana Turner are under discussion for "Scandalous Mrs. Blackford." Irene Dunne played a national radio hookup version of "Bride of Fortune" and may do the part later in pictures. "New Orleans Woman" has already been sold to pictures, with Gloria Swanson scheduled to do the part.

A native of New Orleans, Kane has spent all his life in the south. He is a graduate of Tulane University and has taught at Loyola University. He has contributed to such national magazines as "Reader's Digest," "Collier's," "American Mercury," "Pageant" and others.

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Fashion Editor

A sure - fire way to make Mother happy and proud on her special day is—give her something she can wear.

Don't make it a kitchen apron or a pair of gardening gloves. Instead choose something a little frivolous and flattering—something she might not buy for herself, but no doubt covets secretly.

A dainty hand-made blouse, a pair of spic-and-span white gloves, a handsome handbag, a box of extra - special handkerchiefs—these are a few things almost any mother would welcome. Choose them carefully, with her tastes in mind. Enclose the gift in a festive wrapping, with a Mother's Day card on top—and then stand back and watch Mother glow.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes, in most cases. A depressed woman who was suffering from indigestion, dizzy spells, etc., consulted a psychologist friend of mine. He found that she didn't even know the names of many people in her office. He induced her to meet people, and to get interested in their hopes and troubles. The woman soon forgot her indigestion, and her dizzy spells disappeared like magic.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Yes, with surprising accuracy. As reported by sociologist S. A. Stouffer, Harvard University, all of the men in 108 rifle companies in World War II were given an "attitude or morale index." Some companies had a far higher "morale index" than others. After two months of fighting in Normandy, it was found that the companies with low indexes had far more "non-combat" casualties (shell shock) than those with high morale. Our attitudes and morale determine our success in life about as much as our knowledge of and skill at our jobs.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes. Mass production of stylish and beautiful clothes that are reasonably priced, together with cheap beauty treatments, have enabled the "woiking girl" to dress fashionably enough to attract men of the upper class. Psychologist Harvey Zorbaugh states that as early as the 1920s, "wealthy women" widely complained that it was becoming harder than ever to dress distinctively. The poor girl of today can dress better than the duchess of a century ago.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Cribbage Is Exciting Game

The first rule of discarding in cribbage is to keep the best possible hand. There are exceptions, of course, but your normal course is to hold as much as you can.

For example, suppose you have K, 8, 7, 5, 4, 3. You can discard K, 8 or 8, 7. In either case the remaining cards give you a count of 5 points. That is the most you can keep, so you don't even consider any other discard.

Which is the better discard. K, 8 or 8, 7? The answer depends on whose crib it is.

If it is your crib, you discard 8, 7. You will start the crib with a count of 2 points, and your opponent may add to that count.

If it is the opponent's crib, you discard K, 8. This gives your opponent nothing for his crib unless one of your cards happens to fit his own discards. If one of your cards does him some good, the other won't.

That is the advantage of discarding "wide" cards—those that are far apart in rank and that do not add up to 15.

You follow exactly the same principles if you hold K, J, 10, 6, 5, 4. For your own crib, you would discard J, 10, hoping that sequences will develop in the crib. If it is the opponent's crib, however, you discard K, 10 to avoid giving him sequences. In each case you save 6. 5, 4 and a 10-point card.

Now let's consider an exception. You hold K, J, 10, 8, 7, 5. If it is your own crib, you discard 8, 7, thus putting 2 points in the crib. This leaves you with K, J, 10, 5, which is worth 6 points for the three fifteens.

If it is the opponent's crib, however, you cannot afford to give him the 8-7. You should discard K, 8, which gives him nothing much. This leaves you with J, 10, 7, 5, which is worth only 4 points. You have sacrificed 2 points to guard against a big crib for the enemy.

There are even exceptions to the exceptions. If you got this same hand near the very end of the game, you might be willing to discard 8, 7 even though it was the opponent's crib.

If you needed only 6 points to go out, for example, you would be sure of victory by keeping a 6-point hand. You count first, and you win the game before your opponent can get around to counting his crib.

Although there were many censuses in the ancient world, the Middle Ages developed a prejudice against them which extended into comparatively modern times.

THEATER TO BE CHURCH

NEW YORK (AP)—They're making a church out of a movie theater in the Brooklyn Roman Catholic diocese.

The St. Sebastian Church has purchased the Woodside Theater and plans to start work soon to turn it into a modern, air-conditioned 2,000-seat church. Parishioners have already raised over $500,000 for the project, the Rev. Edward A. Moran, church pastor, has announced.

BAKES OWN WEDDING CAKE

DETROIT, (AP)— Frank Gambino wanted his wedding cake to be just so—so he baked it himself.

He ended up with a cake bigger than he was. It was 9 feet high and weighed 300 pounds. It was built in several tiers with cake-like pillars holding up each tier.

The base had seven steps leading up to a miniature church in front of which were figures of the bride and groom and members of the wedding party.

Bogart, Hepburn In 'African Queen,' Thrilling Technicolor Drama Here

John Huston's New Picture Showing Today At Paramount

Humphrey Bogart, Katharine Hepburn and director John Huston, three of Hollywood's outstanding artists, combine their talents in a strikingly unusual adventure drama, "The African Queen," which is now showing at the Paramount Theatre through United Artists release.

Filmed in Technicolor on location in Africa, it is the result of a ten - week trek of 6,000 miles which took the director, the stars and crew to the dangerously exciting interior of the Belgian Congo.

A starkly realistic film, "The African Queen" is based on the thrilling novel of the same title by C. S. Forester, author of the "Horatio Hornblower" stories. It stars Bogart and Hepburn as a romantic team, and they emerge individually in characterizations which hit new heights of excitement and tenderness, emotion and charm that have already won them widespread critical acclaim as the best performances of their talent-filled careers.

Extraordinary, too, is Huston's direction, marked by a spicy humor that reveals yet another facet of his all - around brilliance in relating a tale of suspense and high drama.

"The African Queen" was produced by S. P. Eagle as an Horizon - Romulus Production, from a James Agee - John Huston screenplay. It tells the story of a tough little riverboatman, played by Bogart, and the prim, straight-laced sister of an English missionary who find love in a wild adventure which takes them down a danger-crowded African river in a small boat with the self- planned mission of destroying a fully - armed German gunboat in World War I.

TURTLE GOES TO JAIL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When neighbors complained about a repulsive-looking thing trampling their gardens, police found a 50-pound, 2-foot long snapping turtle.

A patrolman finally wrestled the turtle into a police car and took the offender to the police station. The turtle was thrown in the clink.

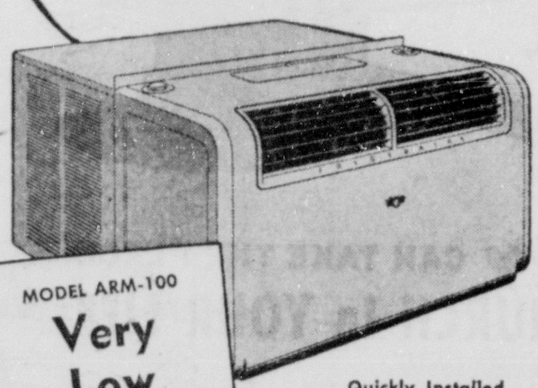

Roger Conant, curator at the zoo, said the turtle probably had been in captivity for some time. If the owner couldn't be found, he said, the zoo would gladly take the reptile.

The pioneer women of our land took the Bible as the book of life, transmitted it through their bodies and blood, and then passed its principles on to their children, with whom they kept step, walking bravely and hopefully forward to a better day. Nothing CAN TAKE THE PLACE of The CHURCH in YOUR LIFE

If in these troubled times, the values of life seem somewhat mixed-up . . . your thinking confused . . . and the outlook for the future uncertain . . . then you need to find yourself through faith by turning to religion. The church provides the pillar of strength you need to build a new life. Each day thousands of individuals just like you are finding new happiness, hope and courage by turning to the church and reaffirming their faith. Families so re-united are being brought closer together . . . strong against the world . . . happier, more tolerant among themselves. Through faith men, women and young people are learning the true sense of values . . . gaining a new sense of understanding . . . and obtaining the inner security that brings success in work as well as in life. If you want to find yourself through faith, then come to church Sunday.

May Baskets Return

MAY DAY TRADITION . . . U. S. children will hang flower-filled ready-made May baskets again this year, reviving a charming old chlidhood custom.

May baskets made by Hallmark Greeting Card Co.

AP Newsfeatures

Modern children will revive a charming custom this year—that of hanging May baskets.

Their mothers and grandmothers remember this childhood tradition of long ago, when they filled little baskets with May flowers and hung them on the doors of their favorite friends, ringing the doorbell just before they ran away.

This year a greeting card company is putting out the gay little cardboard baskets, cut, decorated and ready to be assembled by small boys and girls.

The May basket tradition started in ancient Rome, when children used to place images of Flora, goddess of flowers in their baskets, surrounding the images with flowers. The custom flourished in medieval England, and is practiced with variations in Ireland and Italy.

REACTIVATOR OF CAMP HONORED

Col. Mitchell Given Hearty Farewell As He Leaves Post

CAMP POLK, La., May 10.—(Special)—The man who reactivated Camp Polk as a full scale Army training base 20 months ago said his farewell to the post recently at a retreat parade and review held in his honor.

Col. Eugene H. Mitchell of Flora, Ill., under whose command the post came to life after four years of inactivity, stood with Major General R. B. Woodruff, post and XV Corps commander, Brig. Gen. Henry J. D. Meyer, commander of corps artillery and other corps and post staff officers while troops of the station complement and training battalions marched in review to honor him on his departure to the European command.

In a commendation by General Woodruff, read at the ceremony by Lt. Col. Clinton A. Anderson, post adjutant, Colonel Mitchell was praised for "outstanding performance of duty" during his 20 months of service at Camp Polk.

"Organizing a new staff of military and civilian personnel, you and this staff have rehabilitated the physical establishment of Camp Polk and have established a smooth working, efficient service team which now serves this large post so well," the citation read in part.

"Your leadership and energy have been outstanding."

Colonel Mitchell, a veteran of three and a half years in nine Japanese prison camps during World War II, came to Camp Polk in the summer of 1950 from the inspector general's section of fourth army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, with orders to reactivate the post partially for summer training of the 39th infantry division, Louisiana and Arkansas National Guard unit.

While here, he received orders to remain and assume command of the post for full reactivation, pending the arrival of the 45th infantry division, Oklahoma National Guard, and other National Guard, general reserve and ORC units for training.

Under Colonel Mitchell's command, rehabilitation of the post's buildings and facilities, run down and shabby after four inactive years, was begun. The post, site of training for millions during World War II and the famous Louisiana maneuvers, was brought to life again and set up to take its part in the present emergency.

Lt. Col. J. R. Walton, post executive officer, acted as commander of troops for the review. Units parading to honor Colonel Mitchell included the 4009th ASU station complement, the 598th field artillery battalion, and the 822nd tank battalion, together with the 52nd military police company.

The word "cattle" formerly meant any form of property and was similar in meaning to "chattel."

Monroe Kiwanians Hear Excellent Program At Noon Luncheon

The Monroe Kiwanis Club enjoyed a delightful program at the Wednesday meeting in the Virginia Hotel. The popular Ouachita Parish High School mixed ensemble, under the direction of Miss Romona Cormier, sang several songs including "Old Time Religion," "Comin' Thru the Rye," and "Skip to My Lou."

The program was under the direction of the Ouachita Parish High School Key Club. Retiring president, Bill Funderburk introduced the new president of the Key club, Walter Bennett.

Kiwanian Ray Green, of the Bastrop Kiwanis Club, told the meeting that there will be a peach festival and junior rodeo held in Bastrop from June 25th to June 28th. A "Miss Louisiana Peach" will be chosen at this celebration.

The Kiwanis board of directors voted unanimously to donate a substantial sum to the Little League Baseball project at a recent board of directors meeting. This worthy cause provides one of the best forms of recreation and sport for the youth of Monroe. Funds donated by the club came from proceeds of the Kiwanis minstrel, "Bells A Hoppin," held last month by the Monroe Kiwanis Club.

Kiwanian Russ Engle, chairman of the Key Club committee, presented the program to the club. The songs by the Ensemble were so well received, that several encores were given.

There's an old saying that two good horses pulling together can pull three times as much as one horse.

McKENZIE FOR CONGRESS COMMITTEE

OF OUACHITA PARISH

TO THE VOTERS OF THE ITY OF MOROE

FRANK X. CLINE

Approximately four years ag[o] I was elected to the Office of Commissioner of Finance and Utilities, the public utilities of Monroe were in[a] ical state and were inadequate to meet the demands of a growing city. With the assistance of the sour[ce] ded progressive people of our city, who provided, by bond issue, the necessary finances, much has been [ac]plished.

(1) The capacity of the P[OWER] PLANT has been more than doubled (from 13,000 KW to 30,000 KW) and the ELECTRIC DISTRIBUTION[SYSTEM] M rebuilt and expanded so that it can now meet the demands of our city for years to come. There is no [a]ge area in Monroe today. Our equipment now has two-way radios so as to render better service and me[et] itions of emergency.

FUTURE PROPOSAL

I propose to contin[ue] eep the Power Plant and the Electric Distribution System properly maintained and efficiently [o]so that the electrical needs of the city may be adequately served. Now that we have an adeq[uate] pply of power, I plan to organize a sales promotion campaign in order that this electric power ma[y be] ed to its fullest extent and the city revenues thus increased thereby.

(2) THE WATER PL[ANT] AS BEEN Improved and expanded by the addition of new and larger filtration facilities. The WATER [DIS]BUTION SYSTEM has been improved and expanded and upon completion of the present construction pro[gram] or which bids will be opened March 18, and construction expected to start before April 1, all areas of Mo[nroe] have water for domestic use and fire protection and have fire hydrants available with adequate water[.] At the present time all water is now being metered and paid for.

FUTURE PROPOSAL

I propose to c[ontinue] the present program now underway and to maintain your WATER PLANT and DISTRIBU[TION] STEM in a high state of efficiency.

(3) The MUNICI[PAL] S SYSTEM has been greatly improved by the addition of many new buses, together with the repair an[d] tioning of all old buses. New routes have been added to better the service. We are now serving all sec[tions] he city.

FUTURE PROPOSAL

I propose t[o] e to improve the BUS SYSTEM in order to provide the best bus service for the bus riding p[ublic] d the school children of any city of comparable size in the United States.

(4) As your C[ommissione]er of Finance, and with the assistance of the other members of the City Council, the tax rate was equ[alized] d Monroe, for the first time in over twenty-five years, made one-city-tax-wise, thus making possible o[ur] sewerage program. SEWERAGE SYSTEMS have been established in five new areas of the city.

FUTURE PROPOSAL

I propos[e to] nue the expansion of our SEWERAGE SYSTEM as fast as the value of the property can be [u]the need of the people will justify it.

(5) Throug[h] eased revenues of our utility systems, we have given TWO TEN PER CENT WAGE INCREASES [to] employees, and in addition, working conditions have been improved.

FUTURE PROPOSAL

I beli[eve] e city employee is entitled to as high a rate of pay and as much security as the employee [in] industry, and I promise to work to this end and if possible, to make a pension plan available[.] loyees.

(6) We [have] ssful in securing a Constitutional Amendment providing a HOMESTEAD TAX EXEMPTION on all [ho]taxes to the extent of a maximum of $28.00 for each home owner in the city, thus saving our people [a] 00 last year in taxes, and more in years to come.

(7) As [a] of the City Council I have at all times cooperated with the Monroe City School Board in their present [p]t program and will continue to assist and work for the betterment of our schools.

(8) I [am] ore strongly now than I did in 1948, that the City of Monroe should own its utilities, and PLEDGE M[E] THE CONTINUATION OF THE PUBLIC UTILITY OWNERSHIP of the City of Monroe.

(9) [In] administration I have cooperated with organized labor, as well as all other citizens of the City of M[onroe] e best interest of the city and all concerned.

(10) [In] tion with the other members of the City Council, our Fire and Police Departments have been improve[d]. City water may now be used on interstate railroad trains, a baseball park has been establis[hed] stein Park by the American Legion with city assistance, DeSiard Street, Jackson Street, Third Street [and] Street have been improved, as well as many other streets in our city.

I always acted as the Central Purchasing Agent for the Departments under my control, including the [Wa]ter Plant and Distribution System, the Water Plant and Distribution System, the Bus [Sy]ge System, either personally making, or supervising all purchasing. This plan has worked for the effi[cient] on of my Department and I favor a Central Purchasing Agent for all Departments of the City.

(11) [Be]e of the poor condition and inadequacy of our Power Plant when I took office, I have, during the [pa]s, largely directed my efforts toward the improvement and expansion of our revenue producing ut[ilities] H PROVIDE MORE than one-half of the city revenues.

I propose to turn my attention to other needed improvements such as long range city planning and [ex]ion facilities for all, including a Little League Baseball Park, a comprehensive study and improve[ment] lown-town traffic situation, city beautification, a north-south air line for Monroe, and a municip[al]

W. H. "Bill" RICKS

Candidate For Congress

FROM THE

5th Congressional District

Believing that the government should actually be by the people I propose to submit to the people all issues concerning matters of vital importance. In doing so I advocate:

1. GOVERNMENT BY THE PEOPLE: To carry into effect this principal I propose that the voters of each ward organize themselves for the purpose of submitting to me, as your congressman, their majority opinion concerning these matters. I obligate myself to be guided by the dictates of the people.

2. PATRONAGE BY THE PEOPLE: When vacancies occur in the Federal Service, I advocate, that the majority opinion of the voters in the affected community be honored in making recommendations for these positions.

The above represents the platform upon which I offer myself as a candidate for United States Representative from the 5th Congressional District of Louisiana. It is quite natural that as a citizen vitally interested in government by the majority I have firm convictions relative to the matters so pressing at this time. I believe in furthering the flood control and drainage programs, agricultural expansions and development, the conservation of our natural resources and rigid economy in our government. I also believe, and believe strongly, in taking firm and decisive stand against Communism, Socialism and any other threat to our true American Democracy which gives everyone the right to do as he pleases so long as he does not infringe upon the rights of others. However I feel and am basing my platform on this conviction, that the man who represents the people in Congress should be so flexible in his thoughts and actions that notwithstanding his personal feelings he can and must be guided by the dicatates of the majority.

The success of this platform depends upon the willingness of each citizen to accept the responsibility that he owes to his country, his family and himself. My election, due to limited resources, is contingent upon the active interest and participation of each voter and I invite any and all suggestions or criticisms to be directed to me at P. O. Box 190 Monroe, Louisiana.

"Save True American Democracy By United Effort"

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF MONROE

I am asking your support and your vote in my candidacy for election to the office of Mayor of the City of Monroe. I have served as your Mayor since November 17, 1949 and in that period of time you have had an opportunity to see and know the changes which have been made in our City. I am proud of my record as your Mayor. I am promising you that I shall continue the constructive program in which we are new engaged and that I shall give the same careful consideration to every new problem and shall work with your elected officials toward a proper solution of those problems. During the past few weeks there has been a rather wilful distortion of the present City Administration, but you will recall that not a one of the misrepresentations was in any sense backed up by facts. I believe the people of the City of Monroe will pass judgement on my administration by looking at the true facts. Since November of 1949 the City of Monroe has gone forward with tremendous strides and I have a natural interest in completing the program of work which was commenced during my administration. In order that you may know my attitude and position on these matters, I am listing them below:

1) COMPLETION OF THE SEWERAGE SYSTEM:
At the time I assumed office the people of Monroe demanded sewerage and I took immediate steps to give our citizens the benefits to which they were entitled. The Bond Issue was initiated and approved by the people after I assumed the office of Mayor. The work on sewerage has been largely completed during my term of office and I am asking the opportunity to finish that job and I think the people of Monroe know the benefits in good health and sanitation that will come out of this long delayed program.

2) COMPLETION OF WATER PLANT AND WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM:
At the time I assumed the office of Mayor, the Water Plant and the Water Distribution System was facing an emergency condition, both as to purity of water and adequate water for fire protection. I started my work through a Citizens' Committee and the contracts have now been let and the plans of the engineers completed and that work is ready to go forward at this time.

Purification of our water has been completed and we have been removed from the black list of the interstate railroad carriers and I believe the people of this city are well aware that the improvements which we are making have been needed for the last twenty-five years but have never before been afforded by any City Administration.

3) COMPLETION OF ELECTRICAL DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM:
The people of Monroe know the work which had to be done on the Municipal Power Plant and this work was started by the late Mayor George E. Breece but was completed under my administration and we now have the finest plant in the South and an adequate reserve of power for many years to come. We are still working on the electrical distribution system, the engineering plans have been made and your Administration is ready to complete the work.

4) RAILROAD OVERPASS PROBLEM:
In the years since 1949 I have been working with City officials, State officials and Federal officials in an effort to bring about a proper solution of this problem. The cost will be tremendous. Some streets may have to be relocated and the City would have to condemn very valuable commercial property. My opponents speak of this problem as one which can be solved overnight, but such is not the case. I am opposed to any further taxes on our people and I do not want to see them act on any bond issue which involves unreasonable costs. I am just as much interested in this problem as any citizen of Monroe and I believe that within the next four-year period we will be able to solve this problem, and as your Mayor I shall make every effort toward that end.

5) CONTINUED EXTENSION AND BEAUTIFICATION OF PUBLIC GROUNDS:
During my term as your Mayor we have made great improvements in the public properties of the City and have added beauty to its parks. You can see the evidence of this work as you drive through Forsythe Park and Bernstein Park and you can see that we are still at work. At the present time the City is developing a park in the east side of the City for our colored people and this will include full recreational facilities and a swimming pool, with the same beautification as in our other parks.

6) CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT OF CITY SCHOOLS:
The people of Monroe well know the condition in which our schools found themselves in the immediate post-war years. There was simply not space to take care of the children. There had been no real construction of schools in more than twenty years. During my term as your Mayor we made a complete survey of the School System and we have started a construction program which will total $2,500,000.00 and which will give our schools adequate facilities not only for the present time but for many years to come. This work needed to be done, it had not been done and it is now in a partially completed stage and can and should be finished with the same efficiency involved to date.

7) PUBLIC HEALTH AND RECREATION:
During my term of office there has been an increased budget for our City Health Department, and Doctor Carroll Summers, our Chief Health Officer, has been ableto obtain additional help and has carried out a constructive program. Sanitation throughout the City has been improved, and for the first time garbage is handled through covered vehicles rather than in the old open vehicles and we have additional plans for continued mosquito control and have continued sanitation throughout the City.

8) CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT OF FIRE DEPARTMENT:
During the past four years we have greatly increased fire protection in the City of Monroe, and you should be aware of that fact by the decrease in your fire insurance premiums. Ask the Ouachita Parish Insurance Exchange what this amounts to in your case. The Citizens' Committee presently has charge of the final expansion of this program and is expending $650,000.00 and when this work is completed, this City can meet every test imposed by the State and National Board of Fire Underwriters. This work was undertaken during my administration and I would like the opportunity of continuing with the Citizens' Committee and seeing it completed. The efficiency of the members of the Monroe Fire Department is known and cited through the entire South and with their training and experience we are in a fortunate position.

9) CONTINUED EXPANSION OF POLICE DEPARTMENT:
Since assuming office, there have been a considerable number of employees added to the Police Department, and the entire second floor of the City Hall has been modernized to afford fully adequate office space and this floor is occupied entirely by the Police Department and the City Court. There have been steady purchases of new equipment and we have established an identification bureau. We have instituted schools of instruction for the training of our officers. Continued expansion of our program will require additional finances but it is our intention to maintain the Police Department to afford efficient and impartial enforcement of law in this City.

10) COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY:
We are acutely aware that we must interest commerce and industry in this area and we have rendered every courtesy to new industry and shall continue to work with their officials and with the groups who are making inspection tours of this area.

11) CONTINUED TRAFFIC IMPROVEMENTS:
The last four years have seen the first really sincere effort to improve traffic on the streets of this City and we have consulted State and Federal authorities in an effort to work out a proper handling of traffic. It may be that we shall have to learn from experience but certainly the people of Monroe know what has been accomplished in the last few years and we ask their counsel and advice in this matter. During my administration North Third Street and North Fourth Street have been widened and now serve as important arteries for traffic. We have plans for the same type of widening on other streets and this is the first comprehensive action along such lines since Monroe became a City.

12) GOOD FEELING BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR:
The City has a working agreement with all its employees and the City has lived up to agreements and I believe that we have a more loyal and efficient group of municipal employees than is found in most cities. The Legislature of Louisiana has passed an enabling act to allow pension plans for municipal employees and we have met with various groups of employees and it is our hope that we may soon be able to set up a wise and properly financed pension plan for our employees. Through the appointment of Citizens' Committees we have had a happy blending of business men, professional men, representatives of the trades and ladies of our city in working out our City problems. These groups have worked with the public interest at heart rather than selfish aims.

13) MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM:
The construction of a Municipal Auditorium has been recommended by the City Recreation Committee and by many other business groups, and we had started our plans toward that direction when construction was restricted by the Korean War. We believe that Monroe needs a Municipal Auditorium and we shall watch construction developments closely and take such steps as may be allowed under existing regulations.

MAYOR OF MONROE

PSYCHIATRISTS GIVEN AWARDS

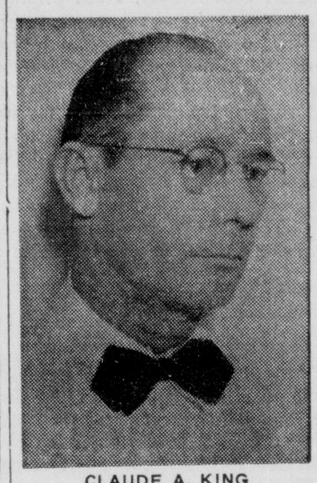

Work Is Recognized At Two Louisiana State Mental Hospitals

During Mental Health Week (May 4-10) awards were made at two of Louisiana's state mental hospitals to outstanding psychiatric aides in both the men's and women's services. These awards are made jointly by the hospitals and by the Louisiana Society for Mental Health.

At Central Louisiana State Hospital in Pineville, Mrs. Elizabeth Graves and D. B. Gilmore received awards of $50 each on May 7. Mrs. Graves has been employed at the Hospital for two and a half years. Before that, she worked at the State Colony and Training School. Recently Mrs. Graves was also the recipient of an award from the National Association for Mental Health for excellence in her work. That award was a wrist watch. Mr. Gilmore has been an employee of the institution for five years.

Winner of the first prize of the psychiatric - aide - of - the - year contest at the East Louisiana State Hospital at Jackson was Claude A. King, employed there since September 1, 1949. The award was $75. The winner of the second prize was Mrs. Travis Galley, employed there since March of 1950. This prize was $25. These awards were made at the hospital May 7.

"There is no more important work in a mental hospital than that of a psychiatric adie," said Dr. Loyd W. Rowland, Director of the Louisiana Society for Mental Health. He said further, "this contest is planned in order that we may draw attention to the men and women who work so closely with patients. They are often the factor that determines whether or not a patient gets well. Our Society is dedicated to the idea that psychiatric aides must be trained and recognized, and that the serivces they render be improved."

Superintendent L. F. Magruder of the East Louisiana State Hospital said, "Both of the psychiatric aides on whom we have conferred awards are exceptionally fine people, and exceptionally fine in their work. They have improved the welfare of their patients, having brought much happiness and comfort into their lives. It was very difficult in arriving at a decision as to who was first, since both were so well qualified."

Mr. Gilmore, one of the winners at Central, had a bit of advice for persons who are going into psychiatric aide work. He said, "You will get much out of the work if you have patience and a willingness to understand other people's problems. Be sure to take all the courses in the work that you can, because you will learn things that will be invaluable to you in dealing with mental patients."

PILOTHOUSE IN MUSEUM

MYSTIC, Conn. (AP)—The name of the good ship Miranda has been snatched from oblivion.

It was once a steam-powered oyster boat operating along the rocky Rhode Island coast. Later she became a tug boat.

Then came the day when it appeared that nothing more could be done with the Miranda. They hauled her to a landing in the Thames river, destined to be forgotten.

But part of the Miranda—the pilothouse—now rests at the Mystic Marine Museum in the company of proud ships of the past.

HUGE CYANAMID PLANT WILL BE BUILT NEAR N.O.

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)— American Cyanamid Co. today formally announced plans to build a fifty million dollar plant near New Orleans, La., for production of chemicals from natural gas.

The plant will put Cyanamid "in the vast field of basic production from hydrocarbons," the announcement said, and as initially projected, will produce ammonia, acetylene, hydrocyanic acid and derivatives of these products, among them acrylonitrile and ammonium sulfate.

"These basic materials provide a foundation for the eventual production of a wide range of both hydrocarbon and nitrogen chemicals for industrial use and for agricultural purposes," said K. C. Towe, company president.

The new plant will be built on a 600-acre site in Jefferson Parish, about 10 miles above New Orleans on the west bank of the Mississippi. The site is known locally as the Fortier or Johness Plantation.

Initial construction work on pilings and foundations has been under way for several weeks. A company spokesman said it was hoped that production from the new plant could begin in 1954.

"In the initial stage of its operation, the plant will employ about 400 persons, which number should increase fairly rapidly to about 600," Towe's announcement said. "Employes for the new plant will be hired locally and a large number of them will be trained for highly skilled jobs."

The plant, for which a certificate of necessity was recently issued by the government, will consist largely of outdoor type manufacturing process units with administration, maintenance, warehousing, employe service and control laboratories being housed in modern one or two story buildings.

The Texas Co. will supply natural gas, and power will be supplied by Louisiana Power & Light Co., Towe said.

A general construction contract has been awarded to J. A. Jones Construction Co. of Charlotte, N. C., and various New Orleans contractors will participate in building the plant.

One of the products to be made at the plant, acrylonitrile, is a basic ingredient of American Cyanamid's recently-announced synthetic wool-like fiber "X-51" and acrylic fibers produced by others. It also is used in making synthetic rubber and plastics, and its applications in agriculture are being investigated by several firms.

TIMBER CARE TO BE EXPLAINED

Hardwood Demonstrations Planned Starting On May 19

Landowners and the general public are invited to four hardwood forestry demonstrations in Concordia and Tensas parishes. The demonstrations will be held on May 19, 20, and 21 according to parish agents, C. P. Seab of Vidalia and F. O. Levasseur of St. Joseph.

The first demonstration is on Mr. Tam Winston's place six miles south of Vidalia at 1:30. The next day the meeting will be held at 9:30 on Highway 84 ten miles west of Ferriday. That afternoon the meeting will take place at Azucena Junction four miles south of Waterproof. The last meeting is at Somerset plantation north of Newellton at 9:30 Wednesday.

Most landowners will have their crops in and can spare an hour or so to go out and see the foresters explain the principles of timber thinning and tree farming.

According to the plans, the timber will be marked for thinning with an explanation of why some trees should be cut and others left. The marked trees will then be cut and bucked by equipment company representatives who will demonstrate several power saws.

The volume and the value of the cut trees will be determined. Landowners will see how the stand looks after thinning. They can decide if their own timber will benefit from a similar type program.

The battleship USS Iowa displaces enough water to flood 48 acres of land one foot deep.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. You'll look prettier with a Prom Home Permanent

* Exciting Beauty News *

PROM HOME PERMANENT NEEDS NO NEUTRALIZER!

NEW AUTOMATIC NEUTRALIZING GIVES BEST CURL OF ANY WAVING METHOD

EASY AS A-B-C!

A—Just apply PROM Lotion as you roll up your curls in the usual way.
B—Thirty minutes later, rinse with plain water.
C—Let your hair dry naturally on the curlers and your wave will neutralize automatically!
Isn't that easy? Prom is wonderful for all types of hair, including bleached, tinted hair. And PROM is grand for children; they don't have to sit still as you dab and drip neutralizer.

Guaranteed to "Take"

Even if other waves have failed, PROM is guaranteed to "take" beautifully every time—to give you a softer, more natural-looking wave that lasts longer than any other home permanent—or your money back! You'll find PROM leaves your hair in better condition, so it holds the set better, too.

NO STRAGGLY ENDS!

With ordinary permanents, you dab on neutralizer from the outside of the curl. Often it fails to penetrate to the ends of hair wound inside on the curler. So you may get little or no wave, or straggly ends. But this can't happen with PROM! No straggly ends with PROM—it's different!

Why You Get A Better Wave

You get perfect neutralizing every time with PROM because it neutralizes automatically! Each curl is neutralized completely—right down to those important ends. So your PROM wave looks prettier and lasts longer. Today—have the loveliest wave—the easiest way—with a PROM Home Permanent!
